Gives Peace Pledge in State Platform.

BY PARKE BROWN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 14.—Illinois Republicans united solidly in their state convention here today and unanimously cheered the definite labeling of the Democratic party as the war party.

The real keynote of the biggest session of its kind in recent years was sounded by Wayland Brooks, nominee for United States senator, who concentrated his oratorical fire on national questions, including the war issue, while his running mate, Dwight H. Green, confined himself to problems within the jurisdiction of the governorship which he seeks.

The platform, consisting of nineteen planks, carried the anti-war declaration as its climax, a declaration that the Republican party is the party of peace and the Democratic party is the party of war.

Brooks Sounds Warning.

However, Brooks put dramatic fervor into his forceful expansion of that thought and he was ably seconded by Richard J. Lyons, a contender for the governorship in the primary, and other speakers.

One of Brooks' utterances that brought some of the loudest applause was his warning of the consequences of continued meddling in foreign wars.

"One step into this present European war will be the end of our kind of government," he asserted. "It will be the signal for this power-hungry administration to centralize and mobilize our industry, our labor, our agriculture, our finance, and, yes, even the conscription of our sons once again to make a useless sacrifice on foreign battle fields."

Lyons Recalls History.

"Twenty-four years ago this very day, June 14," said Lyons, "the Democratic party falsely proclaimed itself the peace party and exalted the then President for having 'kept us out of war.' Events proved then as current events prove today that a Democratic party is not a peace party but a war party."

"The Kelly-Nash-statehouse machine," declared Green, "has given the nation an object lesson in misgovernment, corruption, and political debauchery unparalleled in our generation. The leaders of a corrupt political machine, whose greed and tyranny cause our people to despair and forsake self-government, are our most dangerous fifth column."

[Details of the speeches and other convention news will be found on pages 9 and 11.]

The business affairs of the convention, which was called to order at 11:30 a. m., Chicago daylight time, and adjourned at 4 p. m., were transacted in complete accord. The program, prepared by the nominees for state office in consultation with other leaders, went thru without a hitch when it reached the floor.

Pick Presidential Electors.

The principal items of business were the adoption of the platform, the election of eight delegates at large and eight alternate delegates to the national convention and 29 presidential electors, and the nomination of three candidates for the state university board of trustees.

In addition, upon the recommendation of the resolutions committee, headed by State Senator Arnold H. Benson of Batavia, a resolution expected to keep the Illinois delegation solidly for Thomas E. Dewey was adopted. It was approved in the form in which it was drafted by Dewey's Illinois manager, Leonard C. Reid, a Chicago cousin of the candidate. It kept within the bounds of the Illinois primary law and described the big vote given Dewey in

England Wants America to Pay Children's Bill

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 14.—Headed by J. C. Wedgwood, who in the house of commons advocated the evacuation of British children to the United States for the duration of the war, an unofficial committee of three members of parliament has been formed to work out a scheme to transport 100,000 youngsters from this country to America in American ships at American expense, it was announced today.

In addition to Wedgwood, members of the committee are Maj. A. N. Braithwaite and J. R. Robinson, both Conservatives.

Cites Drain on Purses.

Braithwaite, in outlining a program tonight, said it would be necessary before many months to remove from England all noneffectives, including expectant mothers and aged persons.

He said it would be better for the children to go to America than the empire countries, because the wage earnings of dominion families probably were reduced because of the war and American homes were in a better position to take children.

Braithwaite revealed that three American organizations—the League of Mercy, the Red Cross, and the Refugee Fund—have offered more than 2,000,000 pounds [about $7,400,000] to help finance the evacuation.

Government Action Sought.

"The children must be carried in neutral ships," he added. "The United States will have to send transports to Ireland."

Braithwaite disclosed the committee is trying to get a formal acknowledgment of the scheme from the United States government "and is hoping the United States may welcome the idea and agree to fetch the children in American ships."

He suggested the entire cost be borne by the American organizations and that British parents not be required to pay anything. According to Braithwaite, the project has not been submitted to the British government.

Meanwhile, the British government has set up a committee to study a project to send British children to the dominions.

NAZI PERIL TO BRITAIN BY CAPTURE OF FRENCH FLEET HELD POSSIBLE

Washington, D. C., June 14 (AP).—Developments of the European war suggested to naval men today the possibility that the Berlin-Rome alliance might be directly to challenge Great Britain's sea power by gaining possession of the French fleet. Senator George W. Norris [Ind., Neb.] expressed belief that if the French armies capitulated the Nazis might make the surrender of the French fleet part of the peace terms.

The German, Italian, and French warships combined would outnumber the British navy in battleships and in categories other than aircraft carriers and cruisers. The French fleet is rated as the world's fourth in might, trailing only Britain, the United States, and Japan.

Men from 18 to 61 Barred from Leaving Hungary

BUDAPEST, Hungary, June 14 (AP)—Hungary today forbade men of military age, ranging from 18 to 61 years, to leave the country without special permission. Women of between 18 and 51 years also were forbidden to leave. Budapest went thru a mock air raid. The government tightened control on outgoing news dispatches.

Fence of Fire Foils British Rescue Fleet

Boats ranging from cabin cruisers to putt putt speedsters set out across the English channel three days ago to go to the aid of some 6,000 allied troops trapped at St. Valery-en-Caux, down the French coast from Dunkirk.

But they came back almost empty handed. The Germans saw to that with a fence of flame and steel laid down along the fog shrouded St. Valery cliffs. The only ones saved were the soldiers who rowed four or five miles off shore in whatever kind of boat they could grab.

Fierce Bombardment.

A volunteer who joined the fleet told upon his return how German bombers and land batteries laid down a fierce bombardment offshore, making it suicidal to attempt to reach the main body of trapped allies.

His tiny craft which crept across the choppy channel at dawn did succeed, however, in getting back 24 hours later with 15 French pollus. Two others, wounded by machine gun bullets, died on the way.

"It was bloody murder," said this volunteer.

"It was broad daylight when we got across," said another. "That is, as far across as we got, and the Germans were not going to let us get away with another Dunkirk.

Calls Bombing Inaccurate.

"Their planes must have spotted us almost at once, but their bombing was inaccurate.

"A tin hat—issued to each volunteer before the trip started 'in case it rains'—isn't much protection so far as I can see, and it certainly did rain, a rain of steel and fire.

"The noise was the most alarming part of the whole show to me."

The different flotillas suffered varying fates, but most reported the French coast was "literally ablaze" with coastal batteries and planes laying down a curtain of fire which kept the ships from getting closer than four or five miles to St. Valery.

ONE MILLION FRENCH TROOPS FACE TRAP; NAZIS ATTEMPT TO FLANK MAGINOT LINE

Foe Enters Paris; Press Poilus South of the Capital.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, June 14.—Adolf Hitler's conquering armies tonight were battering against France's mighty Maginot line in an attempt to trap more than 1,000,000 Frenchmen manning the chain of fortresses.

The assault on the fortifications coincided with the triumphant entry of German troops into Paris, which was abandoned by its defenders to save it from destruction.

The attack on the Maginot line came from both the front and the rear. The frontal offensive was unloosed from the region of the Saar. Simultaneously, German divisions moved against the line from the rear and appeared to be turning it slowly.

Hint French Quit Forts.

The high command's announcement of the bold undertaking against the fortifications—hitherto described by the allied generals who won the world war as the ultimate wisdom in military preparedness—was taken as an indication that the French have started evacuating the forts to escape encirclement.

In the assault from the rear the Germans captured Montmedy, the cornerstone of the Maginot line in the northeast. The outer fortifications of Verdun also were reported to be in the hands of the Germans. Verdun is another key northern bulwark in the Maginot system.

Famous Ridge No. 304, northeast of Verdun, was reported to have been taken by the Germans. During the world war an untold number of Germans lost their lives by storming that ridge.

Salient Pushes South.

A German salient from Sedan was pushing further toward the south.

"From Sedan and Montmedy southward the Germans are in a position to cut off French troops still holding the Maginot fortifications," military sources said.

The Germans also announced their troops had taken Vitry le François, an important junction west of the Marne, and had stormed thru the southern fringe of the Argonne forest behind the defenses in that area.

In their attack on the Maginot line, as in all their offensives, the Germans sent out fighting planes and dive bombers to prepare the way for their assault troops.

Destroy Air Fields.

Air fields, railroad stations, and railway lines were destroyed by bombs.

The Germans said their artillery, air force, and tanks were strong enough to break thru the French line now "that the moral resistance of the French troops has been crippled."

The French were reported to be in headlong retreat everywhere along the northern front from the English channel at Le Havre—vital port held by the Germans—to the Maginot line.

"At several points German tank and motorized divisions have broken thru the retreating lines and have outdistanced the fleeing French," the Germans said. "The enemy is in full flight and has left behind great stores of weapons and equipment."

Cut Off French Retreat.

German troops were said to have cut off the retreat of the French south of Paris. The German air force was bombing and machine gunning the fleeing armies.

In announcing the capture of undefended Paris in the fiercest of all offensives, the high command said: "The third phase—pursuit of the enemy until final destruction—now has begun."

Hitler declared a three day holiday in celebration of the fall of Paris. Bands played and crowds cheered hoarsely in Berlin.

German authorities denied that William C. Bullitt, American ambassador to France who remained in Paris until the end, was in the protective custody of the Nazis.

CONSIDER USING NAVY TO CONVOY ARMS TO ALLIES

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 14.—The Roosevelt administration is considering the use of American vessels in convoys, escorted by the navy, if necessary, to transport war supplies to the allies. Opponents of the proposal declared flatly that it would amount to an act of war.

Congressional sources responsible for the management of army and navy legislation disclosed today that administration officials already are conferring on plans to permit the use of American ships to transport supplies to the allies, or to Great Britain if France concludes a separate peace with Germany.

"That is the next step," said the chairman of one of the committees handling the national defense program in congress. "We'll be convoying ships in 30 days."

[Still another scheme to aid the allies by having American automobile factories build planes for them was put forward yesterday by Senator Claude Pepper (D., Fla.). Details on page 6.]

Few Ships in Harbor.

The need for ships to transport materials arose when England threw open its treasury to purchase arms in the United States. Fewer than a dozen allied ships are in New York harbor, and most of them are loading scrap iron. This makes necessary the use of additional vessels if the arms are to be shipped abroad quickly.

It was estimated Britain and France have 7 billion dollars in quick assets with which they could purchase war supplies immediately in the United States.

The question of using convoys to transport supplies to the allies was discussed at a private and informal meeting of senate military and naval affairs committee members in the capitol today.

Barred by Neutrality Act.

The neutrality act of 1939 bars American ships from belligerent countries. This act would have to be amended or suspended to permit the use of convoys to transport war supplies to the allies. A pending resolution by Senator Claude Pepper [D., Fla.] authorizes the President to suspend any part of the neutrality law.

There is one loophole in the neutrality law. It permits use of ships bearing the Red Cross insignia to transport food, clothing, and other nonmilitary supplies.

An amendment to the relief appropriation bill, adopted by the senate yesterday, gives Mr. Roosevelt 50 million dollars for the distribution of agricultural products, clothing, medicine, and other supplies to men, women, and children made destitute by invasion or hostilities. The amendment gives the President authority to transport such supplies, under such regulations as he may make.

Method of Circumventing Law.

The Red Cross and refugee relief methods are being urged by prowar spokesmen as possible methods of circumventing the neutrality law if congress should refuse to amend or repeal it. The plan favored in administration quarters, however, calls for the suspension or amendment of the neutrality law and the use of convoys escorted by warships, according to well informed congressional sources.

This proposal is predicated on the assumption France cannot hold out against the German war machine and that after the French army has been defeated, Hitler will launch an aerial blitzkrieg against England. By constantly bombing English ports and British shipping, the Germans may be able to make good on their announced intention to blockade the British Isles, administration officials fear.

Under such conditions, according to congressional sources, the administration would use convoys protected by warships in an effort to break the German aerial blockade.

Throws War Chests Wide Open for Buying in U. S.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 14.—The "blackest week in history" for Great Britain and France continued its weary progress today with these four major developments:

1—The British government ordered its war chest thrown wide open for speedy buying of the tools of battle in the United States and wherever else they might be purchased.

2—Official circles declared that "whatever happens Britain will fight on" against Germany.

3—The press and radio continued to comment copiously on the possibility of a declaration of war by the United States.

New Army in France.

4—A new British expeditionary force has been sent to France, it was asserted, and is taking up positions alongside its battered French comrades.

In their decision to throw open wide their financial stores for the purchase of war materials, the British indicated they have abandoned their theory of a "long war" of attrition for an "all out" war.

Authoritative sources disclosed that funds allocated to cover a period of years now are released for spending in weeks. The United States' leftovers from the world war are sought urgently in the hopes that they may help turn the tide of battle in France.

Will Continue Battle.

Despite the loss of Paris, the British remained firm in their oft expressed determination to continue the battle against the Nazis, even should they have to do it by themselves. Official circles also expressed the opinion that France would continue the fight.

They said it was "pretty obvious" that Adolf Hitler was putting everything he had into an effort to smash France quickly.

Against the positive evidence of the difficulties which the French armies are experiencing, the British speculated on what the United States might choose to do. A declaration of war by America against Germany would be an incalculable boon, it was agreed.

Impulse of Hope.

"A declaration of war by America now would inject an impulse of bounding hope into every Frenchman's heart," the London News Chronicle said. "The effect on the Nazis would be correspondingly depressing. Now, in this momentous crisis, America may have it in her power to tide civilization over its darkest hour by a strong dramatic act.

"It is doubtful whether anything short of a declaration of war by the United States could effectively alter the situation."

The "blackest week in history" expression came from an official British radio commentator, but he declared that the prospect of American intervention more than counterbalanced the gloom of these present days for the allies.

Believe All Isn't Lost.

The British belief that all may not yet be lost was given emphasis by the revelation that a new expeditionary force already is in France. This new army, successor to the one which escaped the German trap in Flanders but fled without its equipment, will serve more than the purpose of helping to impede the German advance, it was said.

It also will bolster the morale of the battered and weary French troops, and convey to them the spirit in which the British are determined to wage a finish fight.

The new expeditionary force was said to be magnificently equipped with artillery of a new type, large numbers of antiaircraft guns and the highest class engineering materials.

Much has been said and written about the high morale of the newly trained troops, many of whose officers went thru the fire of Dunkirk and came out smiling.

In embarking from southern ports scenes of laughing, shouting, singing, and dancing men on the quayside were pictured. "Watch us beat Adolf," the troops cried as they marched up the gangways. Regimental pipers played as several Scots in full war kit—tin hats, mustard gas overalls, rucksacks and bayonets—danced the Highland Fling.

No longer did they chant, "We'll hang our washing on the Siegfried line," but they did sing such Scottish songs as "Loch Lomond," "Will Ye No Come Back Again," "Speed Bonny Boat Like the Bird on the Wing Over the Sea to the Skye," and the old time music hall favorite, "When I Get Drunk on Saturday Night Glesca Belongs to Me."

Eager to Meet Germans.

Accounts from eyewitnesses with the British army in France, published in all the newspapers, described the new contingents "as bursting to get at the enemy."

Military experts declared untrue the German claim that the French line is broken from the English channel to Montmedy, the key point of the Maginot line. Published reports from France informed the public that the French faith in victory had not diminished.

However, a more sober view was expressed in the editorial columns. The loss of Paris, besides costing France much in pride and prestige, added immeasurably to her military problems, it was said. Paris is the greatest industrial city on the continent west of the Rhine river, and its surrender gave immense stores of food, clothing, and raw materials to the Nazis.

Calls It Disaster.

Besides sending all available reinforcements immediately to France, Britain is accelerating her own mobilization. The 28 year old class will register for war duty tomorrow, and the 29 year old class the following week. This puts a total of 2,800,000 on the registered roles to supplement the prewar army, territorials, and reserves.

END PUBLICATION OF NAZI BACKED MEXICAN WEEKLY

MEXICO CITY, Mexico, June 14 (AP).—José Vasconcelos, publisher of the Nazi sponsored magazine Timon, announced tonight that the weekly had suspended publication.

His announcement followed the government's statement that Arthur Dietrich, chief of the German legation's press bureau and director of Nazi propaganda in Mexico, had been asked to leave the country because his activities were considered prejudicial to the nation.

Timon, a magazine which contained articles extolling the third reich and attacking England and France, was financed by Dietrich's office. Dietrich said it had a circulation at several thousand and was read in Colombia, Peru, Ecuador, and Central American republics as well as Mexico.

At the same time it was reported that Diario Aleman, daily newspaper in Spanish also financed by Dietrich's office, would be closed and its publisher, Teodro Schumacher, would be expelled.

ALL N. AMERICA WILL AID FRANCE, CANADIAN SAYS

OTTAWA, Ont., June 14 (AP).—Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King told the house of commons today: "I believe I can say to Premier Reynaud of France that the resources of the whole American continent will be thown in on the side of the allies."

"Canada pledges to France, as she has to Britain, her unwavering support to the utmost limits of her power and resources," he said.

He added that he believed this was true of the entire North American continent. Commenting on suggestions that the war might bring a union of the French and British nations, he said Canada "would rejoice at such an outcome."

Every word of British Prime Minister Churchill's pledge to fight to the end "eloquently expresses the passion and faith of the Canadian people," he said.

Mackenzie King said France had been informed of this Canadian attitude.

NEXT BLITZKRIEG TO HIT ENGLAND, GERMANS ASSERT

Predict France's Complete Defeat in Few Days.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, June 14.—With German troops tramping thru the streets of Paris for the third time in 126 years and banners of victory flying over Germany, jubilant Nazis tonight looked forward to a new blitzkrieg against England.

Declaring the complete defeat of France is just a matter of days, they announced a blockade of the British Isles is taking shape.

"The Italian air force is attacking France's last strongholds on the Mediterranean and the German and Italian submarine fleets now are mounting watch in the Atlantic," the Nazis said.

Praise French Courage.

They expressed the conviction that the French, despite their glowing patriotism, no longer possess the military means nor the physical strength to resist the German onslaught and to follow their leaders "who are calling upon them to display the courage and fortitude for which the French have been famous for centuries."

"Like Napoleon's guard at Waterloo," Germans said, "the French now can cry 'They are too-numerous' because new divisions are pouring into France to crush the last resistance and to start their mass avalanche against England. The truth of these assertions will be proved to the world within five days."

Citing the German conquests of Paris in 1814 and 1871, Nazis predicted that this time the French defeat will be so complete that Germany will be absolute master of the European continent.

Ridicule Reynaud's Plea.

"With the loss of the capital, the heart of France has been struck," they said.

The Germans ridiculed the desperate appeal for American aid made by Premier Paul Reynaud to President Roosevelt and described it as "the cry of a drowning man who grasps at a straw."

"No miracle can save plutocratic, eternally peaceless, conceited France, nor her English accomplice from the punishment which will be meted out by Germany," they exclaimed.

ENVOY PROMISES NO UN-AMERICAN ITALIAN ACTIVITY

Washington, D. C., June 14 (AP).—Count Ascanio Colonna, Italian ambassador to the United States, declared today that the Italian consuls and nationals are keeping apart from any "un-American activities," and protested informally to Secretary of State Cordell Hull against what he regards as a campaign to arouse anti-Italian feeling in this country.

Colonna objected specifically to press reports that New York police had been ordered to intensify their vigilance after a warning from an undisclosed federal agency that Italian consuls general were acting under instructions to further the cause of Fascism in this country.

The state department made no comment after Colonna's visit to Hull and it was indicated that both it and the Italian embassy considered the matter closed.

TAKING OF PARIS HAILED BY NAZIS AT BERLIN OPERA

BERLIN, June 14 (AP).—There was a special demonstration at the state opera house tonight over the fall of Paris.

Before the performance of Wagner's "Die Meistersinger," one of Adolf Hitler's favorites, the curtains parted and the entire cast revealed on the stage, arms upraised in the Nazi salute.

The audience followed suit—with the exception of a party of Americans in the private box of Alexander Kirk, American chargé d'affaires. Every one else sang the twin national anthems—the "Horst Wessel Lied" and "Deutschland Ueber Alles."

Officer Detained in England Under Defense Laws Freed

LONDON, June 14 (AP).—Major James Hamilton Davidson-Houston, former war and foreign office official detained Tuesday under the defense regulations, was released unconditionally today.

Maps Trace Progress of Nine Day Drive That Took Paris for Germans

The advance of the German army upon Paris, starting on June 5 and ending in taking of the French capital yesterday, is traced progressively on these maps. The diagonally shaded areas indicate allied territory held by the Germans before offensive against Paris was started; the solid black areas are the French ground taken in the swift push. Date in lower left corner is for convenience of readers who wish to preserve Tribune maps in the order of their publication.

PREDICT KING HAAKON OF NORWAY WILL BE FORCED TO ABDICATE

OSLO, Norway, June 14 (AP).—The possibility that King Haakon, now a refugee in England, may have to abdicate, was forecast today in this German occupied capital of Norway. The newspaper Dagbladet commented in a leading article:

"King Haakon and his government no longer are in Norway and are powerless to govern any part of the country. The consequences are so grave that the question about King Haakon's abdication may become one of the eventualities Norway shall have to choose."

Haakon remained with the Norwegian forces resisting Germany until their surrender June 9 and the withdrawal of French and British forces from northern Norway to other fronts. The king and his government reached England June 10.

ROME, June 14 (AP).—Seven hundred Americans from Egypt sailed from Genoa for the United States tonight aboard the American steamer Exochorda.

FINN PLANE EXPLODES AND FALLS INTO GULF; YANK AND 9 KILLED

HELSINGFORS, Finland, June 14 (AP).—An unidentified American and nine other persons aboard were killed today when a Finnish passenger plane en route from Taillinn, Estonia, exploded in midair and fell into the Gulf of Finland.

Besides the American and two Finnish crew men, those aboard were said to include two Frenchmen, two Germans, two Swedes, and one Estonian.

Two hundred and twenty pounds of diplomatic mail was aboard the plane. Bodies of the victims were recovered from the water.

The plane was due in Helsingfors at 2:25 p. m. it radioed shortly after 2 o'clock that all was well but a few minutes later a watcher on the coast saw it burst into flames.

OUR ARMIES WILL WIN, HITLER TOLD BY ITALIAN KING

BERLIN, June 14 (AP).—King Victor Emmanuel of Italy answered Adolf Hitler's telegram on the entrance of Italy into the war, it was disclosed today, with the following message:

"I am greatly obliged to you for your friendly remembrance and for your cordial words, which I return most heartily in the certainty that the glorious armies of Germany and Italy will assure ever growing happiness to our united nations with a victory."

Premier Mussolini also answered the telegram with a letter. Its contents were not disclosed.

BRITAIN CLAIMS A BOMB HIT ON NAZI BATTLESHIP

Admits Loss of Armed Merchant Cruiser.

LONDON, June 14 (AP).—The British admiralty announced today that the naval air force scored a hit with a "heavy bomb" on the German battleship Scharnhorst in Trondheim fjord early yesterday. Counterbalancing this reported success, however, was the loss of the British armed cruiser Scotstoun. Formerly the 17,046 ton passenger liner Caledonia, the Scotstoun was sunk yesterday by a German U-boat.

The admiralty declared one hit was made behind the funnel of the 26,000 ton Scharnhorst and a second possibly scored.

In Earlier Actions.

Britain claimed April 10 that the battle cruiser Renown scored two hits on the Scharnhorst in a fight off the Norwegian coast. A later report from Stockholm said she was lying partly under water in Rissa creek near Trondheim, severely damaged. Then on June 9, the Germans reported that the Scharnhorst was a member of a German naval unit which sank, among other vessels, the aircraft carrier Glorious, the loss of which the British acknowledged.

The Scotstoun sank with all guns firing and with the crew still at stations, waist deep in water.

Men feeding the guns lifted shells above their heads to avoid damage by water as the merchant cruiser slowly settled, it was said.

Survivors landed today said they believed the gun crew "got" the U-boat that attacked them. Two officers and four seamen are missing and feared lost. The remainder of the crew was landed at a British port.

Popular on New York Run.

The Scotstoun, when it sailed the seas as the passenger liner Caledonia, was popular in the New York-Glasgow run. The vessel was 553 feet long. She was requisitioned by the British government shortly after the war began.

The air ministry announced that the royal air force lost five planes in attacking German bridgeheads on the Seine and that another plane was lost in heavy night bombing attacks on German communication lines from Rouen to the Maginot line. The communique said:

"Thruout yesterday British bombers continued operations in support of allied troops by bombing bridgeheads on the Seine. Troop concentrations and columns of armored fighting vehicles in the fighting zone east of Rouen were also attacked. Five of our aircraft are missing.

"During the night heavy bombers attacked military objectives on the enemy's lines of communications over an area extending from Rouen eastward to the Maginot line. Bridges, railways, road junctions, freight yards, and oil stores were hit. One of our aircraft failed to return."

Nazis Claim Other Successes.

BERLIN, June 14 (AP).—The 17,000 ton British auxiliary cruiser Scotstoun was sunk yesterday by a submarine, the German high command declared today. Another U-boat, it said, sank a 12,000 ton transport north of the Hebrides in an attack on a strongly protected convoy.

Eight other allied transports were sunk off Le Havre yesterday, the communique added, two by aircraft and six by antiaircraft artillery, and six more were damaged, three each by airplanes and artillery.

WOMEN'S GROUP ACTS TO KEEP U.S. TROOPS AT HOME

Starts 3 Point Drive on Interventionists.

BY MARCIA WINN.

The Roll Call of American Women, the new movement to keep America's men out of Europe's wars, yesterday adopted a three point program for immediate action.

The program was voted unanimously at a meeting in the Palmer House, attended by the Roll Call's executive board and 100 women from the Chicago area. It asks that its membership, expected to reach the 1,000,000 mark by midsummer:

1. Write or wire senators and congressmen that congress must remain in session thruout the summer, adjourning only for the Republican and Democratic national conventions.

2. Demand that each political party place in its platform a definite stand against involvement of the United States in the war.

3. Arouse national sentiment for a mass meeting of women, to be held in Chicago or Washington before the November election, to crystalize opinion against armed intervention.

Asks State Party Action.

The executive board also telegraphed the chairman and members of the resolutions committee of the Republican state convention at Springfield, asking them to record publicly their opposition to American armed intervention. The telegram said:

"Spending vast sums for organization and propaganda, certain elements in the United States are making every effort to force this nation into the European war.

"There is no question but that the great majority of Americans are strongly opposed to armed intervention, which means sending our men to fight in Europe. But every form of propaganda and fallacious contention is being used to break down this opposition.

Purposes of Organization.

"The Roll Call of American Women has been organized to coördinate the opposition of American women against sending American men to fight in Europe. If the cause of world democracy is to be given aid, let this aid come thru material forms rather than thru the unnecessary sacrifice of human lives. Let every American effort be used directly towards creating and perfecting a national defense which shall stand as the greatest safeguard against war.

"To the resolutions committee of the Illinois state Republican convention, the Roll Call of American Women makes the plea that the demands of American women be heard and that the officers and delegates to the convention publicly record their opposition to America's armed intervention and to the plunging of America into any war except one of defense."

Tells Widespread Response.

Miss Harriet Vittum, national president of the Roll Call and head resident of Northwestern university settlement, told the women at the Palmer House meeting yesterday that response to the movement, started less than two weeks ago, has been far beyond expectation. Divisions have been organized in 200 American cities, she said, as far distant as Baltimore, Md., and Butte, Mont.

"No one else seems inclined to stop intervention by the United States," said Miss Vittum, "so it is up to the women. After all, the women furnish the cannon fodder.

"Europe has its back to the wall," she continued. "If we believe that Hitler is wrong and that this is a ruthless, unwarranted war—as all wars are—I think we should send food, hospital supplies, and machinery, but not a single man.

"I wish the people who want our men to fight would go out to Hines hospital now. I wish the men at Hines could parade down Michigan avenue. I wish I could say as they passed, 'Here, a quarter of a century after the armistice, this we still have. Do we want to repeat this—and for what?'"

Division Heads Named.

Divisional chairmen in the Chicago area were appointed at the meeting. They are Mrs. Albert H. Easingwood, Evanston; Mrs. Ellsworth O. Jones, Winnetka; Mrs. Emory R. Walker, Oak Park; Mrs. Thomas Curtis Clark, Maywood; Mrs. George M. Bull, Park Ridge; Mrs. F. Leslie Thompson, Glen Ellyn, and Mrs. Irma Du Pre, Dundee.

What War Does to French Towns

These pictures of French towns were made by official photographers attached to the German armies as they swept thru northern France. The captions, approved by a German censor, said dive bombers cleared the way for the tanks and infantrymen which occupied the wrecked towns.

FRENCH REPULSE GERMAN ASSAULT ON MAGINOT LINE

Report Inflicting Heavy Losses on Enemy.

BULLETIN.

LONDON, June 15, Saturday (AP).—A single German reconnaissance plane, which drew heavy antiaircraft fire, flew over Tours at 6:40 a. m. today (12:40 a. m., Chicago time), Reuters (British) news agency reported in a dispatch from the French city. Tours had two air raids yesterday and last night as the government prepared to move, presumably to Bordeaux.

TOURS, France, June 14 (AP).—The main armies of France fell back tonight far below abandoned, German invaded Paris in a fighting retreat that may be their last movement of the war.

Other forces far to the east were declared to have thrown back, with "tremendous losses," a German head-on attack against the Maginot line.

All but broken under the mightiest assault ever thrown against men, the Poilus who fought the main battle of France counterattacked with a desperate fury as they retired under the Nazi pressure.

Paris, from which the government long since had fled, was gone—occupied by the Germans and ringed by their armored units and infantrymen.

French Abandon Tours.

Tours, the new emergency seat of the government, was being abandoned for yet another refuge—presumably the far southern seaport of Bordeaux.

Tonight's communique said the withdrawal below Paris had been "carried out conforming to plans," but was barren of details beyond disclosing the first French naval action against Italy in this war.

This was the bombardment last night by French warships of industrial establishments and the railway line along the Italian coast—an operation accompanied by an air raid in the region of Venice and the dropping of pamphlets on Rome.

Little Word from Fronts.

But word from the fronts was little and bare of comfort for the French, aside from the French success reported at the Maginot line, west of the Saar.

German advances carried on the east as far as Romilly, 65 miles southeast of Paris, and St. Dizier, nearly 150 miles east of Paris.

The German west flank also advanced. [Five words were censored in the reference to this movement.]

German planes flew over Tours itself tonight. Antiaircraft guns roared and the sound of exploding bombs was heard. Refugees reaching here said they had been bombed and machine gunned west of Paris yesterday and that many had been killed.

Loire River Natural Barrier.

If the war goes on, the Loire river line thu Tours and Orleans is the next strong natural barrier for a new defense. The valley is the gateway to the center of France. Orleans, the nearest point to Paris, is 70 miles south of the capital.

The German charge into the very mouths of the mighty guns in the Maginot line was said by the French command to have been spearheaded with tanks and airplanes, all of which were declared beaten back.

It had been acknowledged earlier, however, that German thrusts between Paris and the Maginot line were threatening it from the rear and that the line was being turned from Montmedy, its northern anchor.

Fall to Tell Point of Attack.

The high command did not say specifically where the German effort to storm the Maginot line occurred, other than that it was west of the Saar river, nor over how wide a front.

But the stretch westward from Sarreguemines, where the Saar joins the line, to Montmedy, the line's western extremity, is 77 miles.

From Berne, Switzerland, it was reported that what German-Italian sources called a "death blow" appeared to threaten France thru a German offensive on the upper Rhine coordinated with an Italian offensive on the Maritime Alps.

Allied sources called such a disaster possible, but said France was so well armed and prepared in those sectors that such double blows could be struck only if the French fail to hold the German onslaught south of Paris.

[Reports circulated in Switzerland that both German and Italian parachute troops had arrived at Italian air bases in the provinces of Piedmont and Liguria.]

Gems Are Seized

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

Mrs. Harrison Williams as she appeared at Greentree fair at Manhasset, N. Y., yesterday when customs action was filed in New York City.

New York, June 14 [Special].—Seizure by customs inspectors of four pieces of jewelry valued at $10,500 from Mrs. Harrison Williams, who for many years has been rated the world's best dressed woman, was revealed today with the filing of a libel against the jewelry in federal court by United States Attorney John T. Cahill.

The seizure was made by customs agents after Mrs. Williams' arrival from Paris last Oct. 15 on the liner Rex. The jewelry consisted of a sapphire ring, a sapphire necklace, a sapphire floral brooch, and a diamond bracelet mounting.

Mrs. Williams paid a penalty assessment of $6,700, the foreign value, but declined to repurchase the jewelry from the government. She said the jewelry was part of her collection in France and that she did not know it had been packed with her other belongings.

ENGLAND'S QUEEN SALUTES FRENCH WOMEN BY RADIO

Valor Assures Victory, Says Elizabeth.

LONDON, June 14 (AP). — Queen Elizabeth in a broadcast in French to the women of France declared tonight that "a nation defended by such men and loved by such women must sooner or later attain victory."

Queen Elizabeth. [Associated Press Photo.]

"I, who have always loved France so warmly, share your suffering today and feel it," the queen said.

She addressed her broadcast "to women of France—of heroic and glorious France, which is defending at this moment not only her own soil, but the liberty of the whole world."

Applauds Courage of France.

"I give to the women of France my sentiments of affection and admiration for their suffering and courage," the queen said.

"We salute their leaders and the soldiers of the French army, who fight with an ardor and tenacity which never has been equaled in history.

"But we are also thinking of the women of France who follow with anguish the developments of this immense conflict, in which their sons, their husbands, and their brothers are engaged.

"As for me, who has always so loved France, I suffer today as you do, with you. I think often of those warm summer days during which Paris robed itself with such charm to receive the king and queen of England.

Nations Called Partisans of Peace.

"With an enthusiasm and generosity which touched us deeply the people of France became partisans of peace, as did our government. I felt the heart of the women of France beating then in unison with mine. It is to these women that I wish to say, on this sad day, very simply, that their sorrows are our sorrows.

"We know that the French women have suffered the loss of their goods, the destruction of their homes, the invasion of their country. We know that they would give willingly all that they have, and also their very lives, to assure the salvation of their country. Their nation has a right to the aid, without reservation, of all the free peoples of the world."

Portuguese Luxury Edict Bans Autos and Trucks

LISBON, Portugal, June 14 (AP).—Portugal today issued a decree prohibiting certain "luxuries," including motor cars, motorcycles, and trucks, except by special license for industrial purposes. Agents of General Motors and Ford said they would have to suspend several pending consignments of cars from the United States and America unless the decree was altered. It is effective June 28.

Palestine Agency Asks U.S. Jews to Give Allies All Aid

JERUSALEM, June 14 (AP).—The Jewish Agency for Palestine appealed to American Jews today to "render all possible help" to the allies in "the struggle in which the Zionist and Jewish future are at stake."

GROUP IN HOUSE VOTES TO HALT BYRD EXPEDITION

Washington, D. C., June 14 (AP).—A house appropriations subcommittee has taken steps, members said today, to put an end to the Byrd antarctic expedition and any plans for a permanent United States settlement in the south polar regions.

The subcommittee, it was learned, has refused to vote the expedition funds for another year's stay and wants to give it only enough money to come home. It has approved $117,000 instead of the $250,000 recommended by President Roosevelt and voted by the senate.

The expedition has been under fire for some months, chiefly from Representative Jed Johnson [D., Okla.] who told the house Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd stood to make a personal fortune from the venture.

Secretary of State Cordell Hull has described the expedition as essential to the task of getting a clearer title to the antarctic regions claimed by the 21 American republics.

PICKS WISCONSIN AND MISSOURI AS WARSHIP NAMES

Washington, D. C., June 14 (AP).—President Roosevelt gave the names of Missouri and Wisconsin today to the two 45,000 ton battleships on which construction was ordered this week. Names were assigned at the same time to 22 other warships and auxiliaries whose keels are soon to be laid.

The Missouri, first battleship to bear the state's name, is to be built at the New York navy yard and the Wisconsin, second of the name, at the Philadelphia navy yard. The selections were recommended by the navy.

Two 10,000 ton light cruisers were named the Montpelier and Denver, in honor of cities, and a new aircraft carrier the Essex, perpetuating the names of three historic warships.

The newest destroyers were designated the Fletcher, Radford, Jenkins, La Vallette, Nicholas, O'Bannon, Pringle, and Percival, commemorating naval and marine officers.

GERMANS CALL PARIS THE MELTING POT OF RACE AND DECADENCE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, June 14.—German radio broadcasters tonight described newly conquered Paris as the birthplace of the art school of impressionism and similar matters, but asserted it was "above all the big melting pot of races and decadence."

"This example of decadent Paris has ruined the whole French nation," Germans were told.

Tomorrow's Voelkischer Beobachter, Adolf Hitler's newspaper, says Paris was the "birthplace and spiritual center of the democratic century formed by the French revolution. It was in Paris that the slogan of liberty, equality and fraternity was born, which wiped out the differences between value and worthlessness."

In Paris, with the help of a British democracy of tradesmen, temples were erected to the golden calf of capitalism," the newspaper says. "Frivolousness, self indulgence, and corruption were the morass on which men like Paul Reynaud, the premier, could thrive. This Paris, in its pecocklike vanity, had lost all sense for true greatness."

BRITISH FLEET PUTS 5 ITALIAN SUBS OUT OF WAR

Three Chased to Spanish Ports; 2 Set Afire.

LONDON, June 14 (AP).—Britain's sweeping naval operations in the Mediterranean tonight had accounted for the loss, temporarily at least, of five Italian submarines.

Three of the submarines were in Spanish ports, chased there to escape complete destruction by the warships now patroling the British lifeline to Gibraltar. One of them, visibly damaged, was reported at Ceuta, Spanish Morocco. Another, pursued by warships, put in at Algeciras, and the third was reported at another port.

Two Fired off Libya.

Two other submarines, the British said, were set afire on Wednesday during a naval engagement between units of the allied fleet and Italian shore batteries on the Libyan coast. The 9,000 ton Italian escort vessel San Giorgio also was reported on fire after the fight.

No allied ships were reported hit but an unidentified Dutch tanker was said to have been sunk with a loss of four lives. The engagement took place while the royal air force was bombing Tobruk.

[The Italian high command reported that enemy submarines had "attempted without result to oppose the movement of our fleet. Two enemy submarines were hit and one seriously damaged."]

Bomb Italian Fort.

The admiralty communique tonight announced that while the allied fleet had been at sea since Italy's entrance into the war "no enemy has been sighted so far." This reference apparently was to Italian warship concentrations.

Advices from Cairo, Egypt, said that the R. A. F. had bombed Italy's Fort Caprussa near the Egyptian border during flights over Libya.

In the Red sea area, British flyers raided the port of Assab in Italian Eritrea, reporting that one Italian biplane was destroyed, three planes set afire and buildings, trucks and other material damaged.

The Italians retaliated by raiding Aden three times but all the planes were said to have been easily repulsed. An Italian raid on Berbera, British Somaliland, resulted in slight damage, it was reported.

Italians Attack Warship.

VALLETTA, Malta, June 14 (AP).—A British warship was unsuccessfully attacked by Italian bombers six miles off Malta Thursday, it was disclosed tonight. Bombs fell all around the warship which replied with fierce aircraft fire and drove off the bombers.

A check-up, meanwhile, disclosed 30 civilians and seven soldiers killed and 120 civilians wounded in 18 air raids on this British island fortress in the eastern Mediterranean up to 10 p. m. Thursday night. There was little military damage. Twenty-five planes participated in the heaviest attacks.

Italy Plays Sniper Rôle.

ROME, June 14 (AP).—Italy's part in the war became manifest today as a sniping action to keep the allies harassed at many points while the Germans try to finish off the French.

These tactics were outlined in Italian newspapers, giving Italy a rôle secondary to Germany and aimed particularly at keeping French and British forces in the Mediterranean and Red sea occupied with air raids.

In its third communique of the war, the high command reported that the Italian fleet was active in the Mediterranean.

Italian operations included raids on the airports of Hyeres and Fayence and the naval base of Toulon, all in southeastern France, as well as on objectives in Tunis and along the Red sea.

Bomb Italian Camps.

PRETORIA, Union of South Africa, June 14 (AP).—Direct hits on Italian military camps in the Chisimaio [Kismayu] area of Italian Somaliland were scored by South African planes in a raid yesterday, a South African communique reported today. A South African mobile field force is serving with the British East African forces, the official gazette disclosed.

Raid Alarm in Alexandria.

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, June 14 (AP).—Alexandria had an air raid alarm at 12:25 p. m. today. The all clear was given 35 minutes later.

Italian Ship Beached.

TENERIFFE, Canary Islands, June 14 (AP).—The Italian cargo ship Edda, 6,107 tons, was forced to beach here today after being attacked by a British warship.

War Becomes More Active Around the Mediterranean

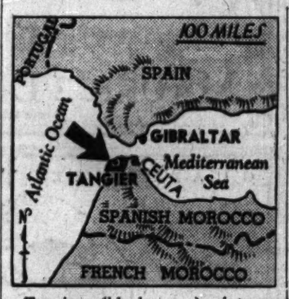
Chief events around the coasts of Europe and Africa and on one tip of Asia in the war yesterday are told in captions on the map. Germany, Italy, and the Italian possessions are shown in black.



Tangier (black area), international neutralized zone, and city of same name (white circle) were taken over by Spanish troops and a Spanish destroyer yesterday for the avowed purpose of safeguarding their neutrality and independence.

Fish Urges Law to Permit War Agitators to Join Allies

Washington, D. C., June 14 (AP).—Representative Hamilton Fish [R., N. Y.] announced today that he would try to repeal legal provisions which prohibit United States citizens from fighting in foreign armies under penalty of losing their citizenship. "I want to make it easy," he said, "for such prominent interventionists as President Conant of Harvard, Walter Lippman, and other columnists, newspaper editors and international bankers to enlist in the French foreign legion in order to practice what they preach." He added that "there is no law that prevents Dorothy Thompson from driving an ambulance in the war zones."

MADRID, Spain, June 14.—The corner stone of the African empire which nonbelligerent Spain hopes to gain from the peace conference after the war was laid today in the international zone of Tangier, on the northwestern tip of Africa.

That was the reaction of patriotic Spaniards to the news that Spain had taken over the 225 square mile zone "in order to guarantee its neutrality." Two divisions of troops marched in without a fight while a destroyer took over the harbor across the straits from the huge British naval and military base of Gibraltar.

Four Nations Share Rule.

The zone has been under the rule of an international commission since before the world war. In the last revision of the administration accord, in 1928, its government was shared by Britain, France, Italy, and Spain. Italy's entrance into the war left Spain the only neutral on the governing body and made it difficult for the belligerents' commissioners to transact business.

According to authorized accounts, confirmed by the French and British embassies, these two countries, as well as Italy, were consulted beforehand and consented to the Spanish occupation.

Crowds Celebrate Occupation.

Madrid crowds celebrated the return of Tangier to Spain—it is universally assumed here that the return is a permanent one—by processions thru the main streets.

In addition to its permanent North African and small European population, Tangier has been the home of 17,000 Spanish Reds who escaped at the end of the civil war. It is believed virtually all of them were caught by surprise by the entry of Spain's native African troops today.

U. S. to Maintain Its Rights.

Washington, D. C., June 14 [Special].—The United States, which always has insisted upon maintenance of the "open door policy" at Tangier, occupied today by Spanish troops, will maintain its extra-territorial rights there, Secretary of State Cordell Hull said today. These rights were granted in the Algeciras treaty of 1906.

Altho the United States, in signing he Algeciras treaty, made a reservation that it had "no political interest" in Tangier, it is perhaps more directly involved in this port than in any other part of Europe or Africa.

U. S. Exerts Its Influence.

Maxwell Blake, American diplomatic agent at Tangier, often has exerted American influence to maintain the open door there at crucial intervals, wielding more influence than any of the transitory officials of the other governments actually participating in the government.

If Spain permits Italy to use Tangier as a base, Gibraltar could virtually be isolated, altho French troops in northern Morocco might be able to oust the Spanish if necessary, according to information here today.

EXILED PRO-NAZI PREMIER FREED BY JUGO-SLAVIA

May Form New Cabinet Friendly to Axis.

BELGRADE, Jugo-Slavia, June 14 (AP).—The sudden liberation of former Premier Milan Stoyadinovitch of Jugo-Slavia, long known as "Germany's friend," from his enforced residence in a village in the Serbian mountains, was learned today from a high authority.

Milan Stoyadinovitch.

Stoyadinovitch, who was detained in April on charges linking him with Nazi German activity in Jugo-Slavia, was said to have been freed at the beginning of the week.

He came immediately to Belgrade, where there are strong reports that he is conferring with Slovene leaders in the hope of forming a cabinet friendly to the Rome-Berlin axis.

Axis Victory Seen.

High diplomatic quarters viewed his liberation as a move to improve Jugo-Slav relations with Italy and Germany.

His release was seen as evidence that the government of Premier Dragisha Tsvetkovitch, like other governments of southeastern Europe, is reconciled to an axis victory over the allies and is taking quick steps to smooth over any previous differences with Italy and Germany.

Informed quarters said some of the present leaders who have been friendly to the allies are ready to get out of the cabinet so Jugo-Slavia can "reorient her policy in line with the new Europe."

Jugo-Slavia traditionally has been close to France ever since the world war.

Turkey Undecided on War.

ISTANBUL, June 14 (AP).—The grand council of the Republican Peoples party—virtually the governing body of Turkey—cheered the allied cause today but the government continued to make it clear it does not plan to enter the war at this time.

An ovation on behalf of the British and French came after debate in which Premier Refik Saydam and Foreign Minister Sukru Saracoglu told the grand council that Turkey was unswerving in her foreign policy but stressed that Turkey is required to take no action which might lead her into conflict with soviet Russia.

Exiled Chiefs Back in Greece.

ATHENS, Greece, June 14 (AP).—Indications that Greece was moving toward closer national unity were seen today in the arrival at Piraeus of an exiled former vice premier, John Pheotokis, and the reported imminent return of former Premier George Cafandaris—the only man who ever balanced the Greek budget in modern times. It was believed they might become advisers to the government.

Reds Name Envoy to Rumania.

BUCHAREST, Rumania, June 14 (AP).—Soviet Russia was seen attempting to widen her sphere of influence in the Balkans today following appointment of Vasily Lavrentiev as Russian minister to Rumania.

Lavrentiev, in taking over an office that has been vacant since Feb. 4, 1938, will come here after a brief term as minister to Bulgaria during which pro-Russian feeling in Bulgaria strengthened considerably.

TWELFTH OF ITALIAN SHIPPING CAPTURED OR SCUTTLED, SAY BRITISH

LONDON, June 14 (AP).—Approximately one-twelfth of Italy's total merchant shipping is in allied hands or has been scuttled by its own crews since Italy entered the war, authoritative sources reported today.

The tonnage captured or scuttled was placed at 210,855 tons. Italy's total merchant tonnage exceeds 2,500,000 tons.

Slightly more than 80,000 tons of this shipping are now in British home waters. One source said that from the beginning of the war, Sept. 3, until Italy's entry, eight Italian ships of 37,619 tons were sunk by German action.

Red Cross to Issue Food with 50 Million U. S. Fund

Washington, D. C., June 14 (AP).—Norman Davis, chairman of the American Red Cross, said today that the $50,000,000 war relief appropriation requested by President Roosevelt would be spent by government agencies chiefly for surplus foods which would be turned over to the Red Cross for distribution. The Red Cross will bear the cost of distribution.

AVERAGE BRITON REACTS TO WAR WITH GLIB SHRUG

Greets Critical Period with Complacency.

BY GUY MURCHIE,
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 14.—The average Englishman's cheerful indifference to the war constantly amazes neutral observers here.

Sandbags, pillboxes, and barbed wire in the streets apparently are no longer able to penetrate the public's consciousness. Altho many people are seriously working—or wishing to work—to win the war, they think of it as somethin; that will continue until an ultimate victory two or three years from now.

The gullibility of the people in believing the optimistic news in the British papers likewise is surprising. Daily events continually disprove yesterday's stories, and the people continue to swallow more the next day.

Unable to Face Facts.

The general British incapacity for facing the facts, combined with the complacenc, and procrastination at this critical hour, seem characteristic enough to be called the ingle national trait most likely to prove the nation's downfall under the impact of the Germans' realistic efficiency.

It may be of interest to Americans to list the good and bad points of life in England according to a newly arrived American's first impressions of London in war time. Tea—served everywhere in England at numerous times a day, even in the third class railroad cars—is the most pleasant custom and helps to cheer and fortify during the stretches of the day's work. The morning coffee at 11 has a similar effect.

Another point in England's favor is the cleanliness of the streets and public places. The people don't spit on the sidewalks here as in America, and dogs are fewer and better controled. Also there are many public rubbish receptacles, which the people here use.

Hedges Neatly Clipped.

The good appearance of the public places extends to the countryside, where the grass is luxuriant and the hedges are neatly clipped. The lawns prevent continuous lines of houses and gas stations between growing towns. Even in London one can't go more than a quarter mile without passing large public squares with green grass and gardens. A further pleasant feature is England's lack of radio advertising, altho this is more than made up for by the weakness of the programs.

As to the disadvantages in England from the American view there is the pathetic lack of news in the newspapers, which have been cut down to six and eight pages because of the shortage of paper. Many comforts which Americans take for granted are rare here, such as water, both hot and cold. Only a few large hotels are well stocked with bathtubs and in these the hot water is uncertain. Neither water nor napkins is served in restaurants, and obtaining cold drinking water is a constant struggle.

The shortage of food as a result of the war is felt by those who keep house, but the wealthier classes who eat in restaurants can get along nicely without ration cards. Sometimes the restaurants skimp on the butter and sugar, but the lack of customers, with the reduced city population, usually leaves a surplus allowance.

Green Vegetables Scarce.

The bacon here is poor by American standards and green vegetables are scarce because of the war. One notices a dearth of pianos about London and generally misses America's universality of music. Poor dentistry here spoils many a pretty girl's looks, as well as comfort, and the only good dentists are American trained.

Also annoying is the difficulty of buying things that are common in Chicago. Drug stores sell only drugs, and close in the evenings. The saltcellars in England have one large hole, instead of many small ones, with crude results.

The blackout in London soon grows monotonous, even during the present season of short nights and the absence of fog, and makes one miss the general use of blue glass, as in France, which is more efficient than the almost total darkness here.

U. S. SHIP WITH 1,000 REFUGEES LEAVES IRELAND

Galway, Ireland, June 15, Saturday (AP).—The United States liner Washington headed westward into stormy seas from Galway at 4:44 a. m. today [10:44 p. m. Friday, Chicago time], bearing more than 1,000 American war refugees to New York.

Most of the passengers were women and children—many of the latter under 10 years of age. Just before the vessel sailed 1,500 gallons of milk were loaded aboard. Maritime officials said the Washington carried "more children than any liner which has left Ireland in years."

Among the refugees were 40 or more who lacked the $200 necessary to pay their passage. They were permitted to sign promissory notes.

19 Survivors of Torpedoed Finnish Ship Reach Spain

FERROL, Spain, June 14 (AP).—Nineteen survivors of the 1,860 ton Finnish ship Margaretta arrived here tonight. They said their vessel was torpedoed June 9 off Cape Finisterre, westernmost point of Spain.

Ruth Chatterton as she appeared during broadcast.

Ruth Chatterton, star of stage and screen, made her Chicago radio debut last night in "Beautiful Lady," a play by Arch Oboler on Fifth Row Center. The play, which featured Francis X. Bushman opposite Miss Chatterton, was broadcast by W-G-N over the nation-wide Mutual Broadcasting system network.

As they met at the W-G-N microphone Miss Chatterton and Bushman had an opportunity to compare their Hollywood experiences. Miss Chatterton recalled that she had worked in 25 pictures. Bushman, a favorite of the silent era, said he had performed in 425. Only Harold Lloyd, he said, exceeded his output—and by only one!

Bushman has become a leading man in Chicago radio circles and Miss Chatterton has been making pictures in France and England recently.

Miss Chatterton flew from New York City especially for her appearance in "Beautiful Lady." She portrayed the rôle of a mother fighting blind justice—a mother who fights to regain possession of her son. Bushman played the part of a father unwilling to relinquish his adopted son. Marvin Mueller, Ed Prentiss, and Cleveland Towne supported them. Blair Walliser directed the production. The W-G-N orchestra was conducted by Joe Johnson.

RECALL OF DUTCH ENVOY TO ROME ASKED BY ITALY

LONDON, June 14 (AP).—A communique issued by the Dutch legation in France, heard tonight in a French broadcast, said that altho Italy had not declared war on the Netherlands the Italian government had requested the withdrawal of the Dutch minister to Rome. The communique added that the minister had left Rome yesterday. The Dutch government, meanwhile, had asked the Italian minister accredited to the court of Queen Wilhelmina, who now is in London, to leave and also had asked Italian consuls to leave the Dutch East Indies.

Warns Hands Off East Indies.

BATAVIA, Netherlands East Indies, June 15, Saturday (AP).—Gov. Gen. Tjarda van Starckenborgh-Stachouwer reiterated his warning to all nations to keep "hands off" the Netherlands East Indies in an address opening the volksraad [parliament] today.

Stay at Home, France Tells Civilians in Invaded Region

LONDON, June 14 (AP).—The French radio broadcast an appeal by military authorities tonight to French civilians in invaded territory to remain at their homes. "Even if you live in districts invaded by enemy tanks it is in the interest of safety to stay where you are," said the broadcast heard here. "It is less dangerous than to flee."

REFUGEES FLEE FROM TOURS AS NAZIS ADVANCE

Banks and Postoffice Are Jammed with Crowds.

BY BERNHARD RAGNER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOURS, France, June 14.—Dramatic scenes were enacted today in Tours. [Here six words were censored.]

Little by little the details of the catastrophe which has befallen the French nation became known, creating a feeling of dismay and astonishment among the people. Anguish and bewilderment were engraved upon thousands of faces already marked by fatigue and worry.

How did this "impossible thing" happen was the perplexing and unanswered question spoken and unspoken upon every lip in France. So far, however, if Tours may be taken as an example, everybody is so busy with his urgent personal problems, that noboby has had time to assess the blame or to fix the responsibility.

Vacant Rooms Grabbed.

With the departure from Tours of French officials and many newspaper correspondents, many of the hotels took down their "filled up" signs. These were speedily put up again, however, because the vacant rooms were grabbed up by other refugees who desired a night's sleep in a comfortable bed before continuing their journey. Last night many of these refugees slept in their automobiles, on benches in the railroad station, and in parks.

Nobody in Tours has gone without food. Everybody has had something to eat, but many were obliged to be satisfied with a sandwich washed down with beer. Regular meals were served in the prominent hotels and restaurants, but service was slow.

Many Stranded in Tours.

Most pathetic were the sick people, the old, and the crippled, whose transport presented difficult problems. Fellow refugees took care of them with a friendliness that aroused respect and admiration.

Tonight numerous refugees, both rich and poor, are [here one word was censored] stranded in Tours. Most of them are making the best of the situation and are confident they will be able to get away to a haven of safety tomorrow or Sunday.

Hundreds of refugees hoped to leave Tours this morning, but when they went to the railroad station they found all train service had been canceled temporarily. Later service was resumed on a restricted schedule when trains were announced for Bordeaux, Nantes, and Le Mans. Such daring persons as wished to return to Paris were informed by poster that the train could take them only as far as Orleans.

Gasoline Supplies Rationed.

Autoists who were wise enough to stock up yesterday on gasoline took to the southerly and westward highways at dawn this morning. Others not so foresighted were compelled to delay their departure because the supply of gasoline was limited. A rationing system had been installed and everybody could not be served.

Every bank in Tours, also the "Caisses d'Epargne" — the official French savings banks—was beseiged by anxious depositors.

The Tours postoffice did a rushing business, especially the telegraph counters, which dispatched thousands of messages to all parts of France. Everybody had to wait his turn and most persons took the situation good naturedly.

GANNETT DECRIES SALE OF TRADE-IN ARMS TO ALLIES

Frank Gannett of Rochester, N. Y., newspaper publisher and candidate for the Republican nomination for President, said in Aurora yesterday that President Roosevelt's policy of letting manufacturers send "traded in" war materials to Europe is a hostile act that might involve America in the struggle.

Gannett said he favors sending surplus foodstuffs to the people of Europe. That, he said, would help in preventing famine next winter. He said he favors full armament for defense. It is his belief that Germany would lose economically even if victorious, and that America had nothing to fear from Nazi inroads on American foreign trade.

Gannett flew to Aurora to talk with Ira J. Copley, publisher and former congressman, after he had visited former Gov. Frank O. Lowden at his home at Oregon in Ogle county.

BRITON PREDICTS HITLER WILL OPEN PEACE OFFENSIVE

Cites Danger in Loss of English Fleet.

LONDON, June 14 (AP).—Harold Nicolson, parliamentary secretary of the ministry of information, predicted tonight that Adolf Hitler would soon—perhaps in the next few days—"launch his peace offensive."

"Hitler will assure the peoples of Great Britain that he has no desire to subjugate their countries," said Nicolson, "but that all he desires is their complete disarmament.

"He will say to us that we may keep our empire, apart from such colonies as he may desire for himself, but that we must abandon our free democratic institutions and accept a government nominated from Berlin and at the same time surrender our fleet to Germany and Italy.

"Stamp Out" Liberties.

"The moment he obtains our fleet he would sweep upon London and from there he would slowly, carefully, and thoroly stamp out the liberties of our country and reduce our working people to the level of slaves."

The capture of Paris a day before Hitler announced he would, Nicolson went on, "of course is a great triumph for Hitler and a bitter blow to France and her allies."

"But altho they have captured Paris itself, they cannot rob Paris of its world position or kill something that has lived for so many centuries it has become immortal."

Nicolson asserted that the main mass of the French army is unbroken.

Sees Collapse of Germans.

Asserting that the moment must come when the German armored divisions would break down from lack of fuel and men would drop from fatigue, he said "it might well be that the moment of exhaustion will come as the French hold them south of Paris; the French will entrench themselves until our own army and equipment can come to their assistance.

"It will not be on the dry land of Europe that this war will be won. It will be upon the seas and in the air; in distant continents; so soon as unlimited resources of the British empire and of the Americas can be mobilized to turn the scale."

Government Rule Sought for Canadian Industries

OTTAWA, Ont., June 14 (AP).—Virtually unlimited powers to mobilize Canadian trade and industry for war purposes would be conferred upon the government in a bill given first reading in the house of commons today. C. D. Howe, minister of munitions and supply, said the measure would give to him "all the powers I could think of" to place Canadian industry at the maximum of efficiency and capacity.

REDS STILL HOLD FEDERAL POSTS, SURVEY REVEALS

Little Done to Oust Them from Key Jobs.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 14.—Despite the public feeling against subversive activities, little or no progress has been made in ridding the government and key defense industries of communists, a survey today revealed.

The justice department admitted that nothing special has been done about an order issued last fall for the "purging" of all known communists from federal jobs. Representative Martin Dies [D., Tex.], chairman of the special house committee investigating un-American activities, estimated at that time that there were about 2,850 known communists holding key government positions.

No Drive to Date.

Dies also made known the order to purge communists from the government pay rolls. The justice department said that the federal bureau of investigation, headed by J. Edgar Hoover, has a list of communists and members of the German-American bund, but that there has been no active drive against them to date.

It is very difficult, it was explained, to determine who are communists, because they do not carry membership cards as do the bunders.

The justice department takes the stand that the most severe government action against the communists will come as the result of a civil service commission ruling. The commission announced on May 29 that it would not certify to any department or agency the name of any job applicant when it has been established that he or she is a member of any communist or Nazi organization.

This ruling, however, would apply only to future applicants, not to present government employés.

Dies Hits Lack of Action.

Dies agreed today that the only move along the line of removing communists from the government is this civil service commission order.

"I haven't seen any effective action taken," he declared. "I understand that some of the departments —Ickes' for instance—have ordered employés to sign statements that they do not belong to the communist party. Under the communists' code of ethics, however, it is permissible for them to lie about it. So it's a joke to proceed along that line."

Representative James E. Van Zandt [R., Pa.] protested earlier this week that the Roosevelt administration has not taken action to curb and outlaw organized communistic activities within the federal government. He urged that the special bureau created in the justice department to check fifth column activities be directed by the President to eliminating first the "communist fellow-traveler activities within the federal government." Mr. Roosevelt requested a special appropriation of $6,558,800 to investigate subversive activities.

Still in Federal Posts.

Van Zandt pointed out that last Oct. 25 the Dies committee published an official list of 563 persons in government employ who were then described as members of the American League for Peace and Democracy, which was organized and controled by the communist party, according to the Dies committee. Van Zandt found that virtually all of these league members still are employed by the federal government and that only 20 have renounced or repudiated any connection with the league.

The only positive action taken to remove communists from industry was the action of the house of representatives yesterday in passing by an overwhelming vote of 330 to 42 a bill ordering the attorney general to deport immediately Harry Bridges, alien leader of the C. I. O. maritime union on the Pacific coast. Bridges, an alleged communist and labor agitator, has repeatedly been defended by Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins.

The transfer of the bureau of immigration and naturalization from the labor to the justice department is discounted here as far as action against undesirable aliens is concerned. It is charged that a movement among the so-called "liberal elements" to undermine the bureau's effectiveness already is under way.

Fifth Columnists Barred from Illinois State Jobs

Springfield, Ill., June 14 (AP).—The Illinois Civil Service commission announce.' today that fifth columnists will be barred in the future from appointment to state jobs. Chairman W. Emery Lancaster said that the other members of the commission, Gen. John V. Clinnin and Ernest Hoover, had adopted a resolution which he prepared, refusing to certify the name of any person who is a member of "any organization that has for one of its objectives the overthrow of the United States government."

Russia Denies It Promised Sweden Aid Against Attack

MOSCOW, June 14 (AP).—The soviet government described as "devold of any foundation" reports abroad that Russia had promised Sweden assistance if it were attacked by a third power. A statement issued by Tass, official news agency, said: "Responsible soviet quarters point out that the soviet union generally does not engage in distributing 'promises' of assistance."

Find Tanker Reported Sunk by Sub Was Not American

ISTANBUL, Turkey, June 14 (AP).—American officials of the Socony Vacuum company today said they had confirmed definitely that a tanker reported sunk by an Italian submarine was not one of their ships. The report, received Thursday, was that the vessel was flying a British flag when attacked.

New Coat for Army

Washington, D. C., June 14 [Special].—Adoption of a new and lighter jacket for Uncle Sam's soldiers was announced today by the war department. The new garment weighs one pound nine ounces against three pounds two ounces for the old one. The new tunic is said to be warmer, being made of water repellent cotton and lined with flannel. Another advantage, it was asserted, is that it can be manufactured in any shirt factory.

OFFICIAL U. S. AID SOUGHT BY JEWS FOR IMMIGRANTS

Ask Help to Get Them Across Russia.

BY DONALD DAY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

RIGA, Latvia, June 14.—Powerful Jewish organizations in the United States have appealed to Laurence Steinhardt, American ambassador to Russia, to help thousands of Jewish emigrants from the Baltic states and former Poland and Czecho-Slovakia reach the United States.

Steinhardt has been asked to intercede with the soviet foreign office and obtain for the Jews transit visas which would permit them to cross Russia and Siberia for embarkation to America.

Soviet Gold Goes by Air.

The Trans-Siberian Express already is carrying many Jewish passengers to Manchukuo and China en route to American ports on the Pacific coast. Today's Stockholm-Moscow plane carried 14 who were awaiting passage on a Swedish liner when northern Europe became isolated from America.

The Moscow-Stockholm air line, which operated regularly thru the winter, was the most profitable in Europe. On some days 10 to 12 planes flew this route, carrying both soviet gold shipments destined for America and Jewish emigrants who obtained American visas either in Kaunas, Lithuania, or Riga.

Big Jewish Immigration Quotas.

American consular authorities told THE TRIBUNE that the state department had forbidden them to disclose the amount of soviet gold which America bought this winter from Moscow and treasury department officials at Stockholm were equally reticent about Secretary Morgenthau's secret transactions with Russia, whose gold output now approaches South Africa's production.

More than 90 per cent of the American immigration quota numbers allotted to Russia, Estonia, Latvia, and Poland and almost equally large percentages assigned to Germany, Austria, and Czecho-Slovakia are being given to Jewish migrants.

SENATE WALKS OUT ON PEPPER PLEA FOR ALLIES

He Urges Building 50,000 Planes for Empires.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 14.—Senator Claude Pepper [D., Fla.], the senate's foremost advocate of American intervention in the European war, today prepared for introduction a resolution directing President Roosevelt to order American automobile factories to produce 50,000 airplanes for the allies.

Pepper intended to introduce his resolution today and to go into his daily war dance on the senate floor, but the senate literally walked out on him. Advised by Minority Leader Charles L. McNary of Oregon that Pepper was about to take the stage for his daily performance, Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky moved to recess shortly after 6 p. m.

When Senator Robert M. La Follette [P., Wis.], who was speaking on the relief bill, yielded to Barkley, Pepper leaped up and shouted for recognition, but the senate voted to recess before he realized what had happened.

Action Delays Resolution.

As other senators started walking out Pepper asked consent to introduce a resolution.

"I don't see how you can, because the senate is not in session," La Follette told him. "That's right," Barkley declared.

Pepper explained to reporters that his resolution would direct Mr. Roosevelt to exercise authority provided by the national defense act of 1916 to force the automobile manufacturers to begin manufacturing airplanes on a stupendous scale for the allies. Under this law, plants which refuse to comply with the President's orders may be commandeered "in time of war or when war is imminent." According to Pepper, there is no question about war being imminent.

Would Place Orders.

The resolution directs the President to "place orders" for 50,000 airplanes, ostensibly in the name of the United States. Pepper explained, however, that the President could waive American priority rights and release the planes to the allies. He expressed the opinion that the President, under the 1916 law, would not be required to put up any money in advance to enable the automobile manufacturers to change over night into the production of airplanes.

At a minimum average cost of $75,000 for pursuit planes and bombers, such an order would cost 3 billion 750 million dollars, but Pepper dismissed this consideration as a minor detail.

Believes Allies Could Last.

"The allies will hold out some way, by guerrilla warfare if necessary, if we will just show them that we mean business," Pepper said. "This would electrify the allies. Even if France loses it will take Hitler a long time to subjugate Great Britain, and he never will if we'll just mobilize our industries and produce enough airplanes to swamp the Germans."

It was suggested to Pepper that the automobile manufacturers probably would have to stop making automobiles under his proposal.

"Why should we be worried about the production of passenger cars?" he retorted.

Asked about the possibility that the allies could not pay for 50,000 airplanes, Pepper replied that his resolution to suspend the Johnson act and the cash and carry provision of the neutrality law would meet that contingency.

"Then they could get credit," he said.

U. S. SEIZES BIG ITALIAN SHIP AT PANAMA CANAL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ANCON, Canal Zone, June 14.—Uncle Sam took charge of the 23,255 ton Italian liner Conte Biancamano here tonight when United States Marshal John E. Rushing slapped a libel on the vessel to the tune of $91,843.

The action was taken on behalf of the Asiatic Petroleum company, which is endeavoring to collect for fuel oil loaded at various ports during the vessel's cruise. The greater part was taken aboard at the Suez canal. Marshal Rushing served the libel on Capt. Guissepi Ferrara, who accepted the service for the Lloyds Cantrento Line, the owners.

The liner has been anchored here since just before Italy entered the war. She is laden with 2,000 tons of copper bars. If swung across the channel and sunk, she would block the canal. Such a possibility had been discussed by authorities here. But now the ship must remain at the outer anchorage until the libel is settled.

PRESIDENT HITS NAZI DENIAL OF DESIGNS ON U. S.

Cites Hitler Record in the Past.

BY WALTER TROHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 14.—President Roosevelt today cited Nazi Germany's record of broken pledges in discounting Adolf Hitler's statement, in an interview granted an American newspaper man, that Germany has no plans to invade either North or South America.

"That brings up recollections," the chief executive said ironically in apparent reference to similar Nazi pledges made to Poland, Czecho-Slovakia, and other nations now conquered. Dates, countries, and other circumstances over a period of years can be filled in to enlarge the remark, the President added.

Asked to comment on the final appeal of Paul Reynaud, French premier, for American aid, Mr. Roosevelt repeated that the United States is doing everything possible to give the allies every material aid.

Second Appeal Not Received.

He made this statement last night as Reynaud announced he was sending a second appeal to Mr. Roosevelt —the first was sent Monday. The President did not receive the second appeal until after his press conference.

Mr. Roosevelt announced creation of a national defense research committee to mobilize American science behind the defense program. The committee is to be headed by Dr. Vannevar Bush, president of the Carnegie institution in Washington.

The group is to be composed of eight distinguished scientific authorities, the President said. An army and a navy officer will be attached to the committee as technical advisors.

Aviation Problems Separate.

Mr. Roosevelt explained that the committee will have charge of all research pertaining to the national defense except in the field of aeronautics. Aviation problems will remain in the hands of the national advisory committee for aeronautics, which also is headed by Dr. Bush.

Asked about reports that an embargo is to be placed on exports of scrap iron except to France and Britain, Mr. Roosevelt pointed out that he has no power to impose such an embargo.

MRS. CLARA RUSSELL, 98, DIES.

Kankakee, Ill., June 14 [Special].—Mrs. Clara Harriet Russell, 98 years old, life resident of Kankakee county, died yesterday at her home here. Born in a log cabin near Kankakee, she remembered watching wild deer come down to the Kankakee river to drink. The funeral will be Saturday afternoon.

CANADA SEIZES MILLIONAIRE IN ITALIAN ROUNDUP

OTTAWA, Ont., June 14 (AP).—James Franceschini, millionaire president of a shipbuilding company which is constructing four mine sweepers for the Canadian navy, today was disclosed to be among Italians taken into custody as a result of Italy's entrance into the war.

This, the first identification of any of the "several hundred" Italians detained, was made in the house of commons by Munitions Minister C. D. Howe, who said steps would be taken to insure completion of the minesweepers.

JAPAN REJECTS U. S. PROTEST ON CHUNGKING RAIDS

Warns 3d Powers to Flee to 'Safety' Zone.

BY KIMPEI SHEBA.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, Japan, June 14.—Foreign Minister Hachiro Arita today in effect rejected the American protest on the bombing of Chungking, China's provisional capital, in a brief conversation with Joseph C. Grew, the American ambassador.

The American representation was made after Americans in Chungking estimated that a Japanese raid there Wednesday caused $11,000 damage to American owned property.

The foreign office later disclosed that Japan had requested the United States, Britain, France, Belgium, and Russia to evacuate their nationals, including their officials, from Chungking, for the duration of the present Japanese operations.

Safety Area Specified.

The Japanese advised that foreign nationals take refuge in a specified area on the south bank of the Yangtze river facing Chungking and said the Japanese would not attack this area. The Japanese explained that their war planes, which have bombed Chungking repeatedly in the past few days, were finding obstacles in the way of execution of their attacks because the Chinese were erecting antiaircraft batteries and other military facilities near third powers' property in and near Chungking.

Arita informed Ambassador Grew that Japan will not hold itself responsible for any unexpected incidents outside the specified safety area.

Japan to Represent Nazis.

Foreign Minister Hachiro Arita notified the British and French ambassadors today that Japan had agreed to represent Germany in Singapore, Hongkong, Canada, Kenya Colony, South Africa and Colombo, Ceylon.

The Japanese government lodged a strong protest with J. C. Pabst, the Netherlands minister, today in connection with a brush between a Japanese fishing boat and a Netherlands East Indian patrol plane off Gaspar Island a month ago.

The protest charged that the plane failed to warn the ship, then circled three times ten yards above it, "aided by a machine gun."

[The Dutch East Indies government said Thursday that the plane merely had fired a warning shot well ahead of the boat to get it out of Dutch East Indies territorial waters.]

Hull's Statement Delivered.

Washington, D. C., June 14.—Secretary of State Cordell Hull today said Joseph C. Grew, American ambassador to Japan, had delivered his statement of yesterday denouncing the bombing of Chungking to the Japanese foreign office. Grew was given no special instructions from the state department, he said.

The statement was sent to Grew for his information, Hull explained, and he has authority to use his own discretion in calling such a matter to the attention of the foreign office.

WILLKIE BRANDS NEW DEAL GHOST OF THE BLUM ERA

Boston, Mass., June 14 (AP).—Asserting the government cannot conceal its lack of preparedness "by talking of military equipment on order," Wendell Willkie said tonight the New Deal belonged to the disastrous era of the Blum government of France and the Chamberlain government of Britain and must be replaced.

Standing as a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, he assailed the administration for what he called incompetent handling of military expenditures, but added, "let no one—especially no dictator abroad—be misled into thinking we are not able to rouse from this lethargy and become strong."

"We must put into office a government that will waken and liberate the chained and sleeping giant of America," he said in an address at a mass meeting in Mechanics hall and sponsored by three statewide Republican organizations.

CHICAGO REVERES NATION'S FLAG AS BLESSED SYMBOL

Many Schools, Courts Hold Ceremonies.

The American flag was heralded at Flag day exercises yesterday as almost the only national ensign of human happiness left in the world.

Thruout all Chicagoland impressive ceremonies were held in commemoration of the 163d anniversary of the birth of the Stars and Stripes. Each took on a note of solemn significance unheard in recent years.

Judges and other officials of Criminal court suspended all business during part of the morning to hold a Flag day celebration in the courtroom of Municipal Judge Charles S. Dougherty, sitting in Safety court.

Means Glorious Future.

To them, seated in the flag draped courtroom, Judge Dougherty contrasted the peace of America with the struggles of Europe. He declared that while other flags may mean a glorious past, the American flag means a glorious future.

"America holds peace, security, freedom, and happiness, in sharpest contrast with the horrible future of the alien ideologies overseas," he said. "Of these blessings which we cherish the American flag is the symbol."

Schools Observe Day.

Elsewhere over the city groups gathered by the thousands. The American Flag Day association sponsored a large afternoon program at the Lincoln park band shell. Many other large observances were given by and watched by school children.

Other events were held last night. These included a ceremony at Riis park, sponsored by the Montclare-Cragin Boy Scout Leaders' association; another at Douglas park, sponsored by the Douglas park civic committee, and a third at Grand Crossing park, sponsored by the Sons of the American Legion.

ARMY AIR CORPS WILL TRAIN 7,000 PILOTS PER YEAR

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 14 [Special].—Secretary of War Harry H. Woodring today announced a comprehensive program for training pilots and other aviation personnel in connection with the air corps expansion provided by recent congressional enactments.

The plan for the expansion of training facilities will provide for the production of air corps pilots at the rate of 7,000 per year. In addition 3,600 bombardiers and navigators will be trained annually.

Primary training will be conducted as at present at civilian flying schools, which will be materially expanded to care for increased classes. Basic, advanced, and specialized training will be given at three air corps training centers—Randolph Field, Tex.; Maxwell Field, Montgomery, Ala., and Moffett Field, Cal.

GERMANY WON'T FORGET! CONSUL WARNS AMERICA

Reprisals for War Aid to Allies Hinted.

New Orleans, La., June 14 (AP).—A German consul general, predicting early German victory over France, today said his government "will not forget that when she was fighting bitterly for her very life, the United States gave every material aid to her enemies."

The statement was made by Baron Edgar Von Spiegel, consul for eight southern states and Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, in an interview with a New Orleans state's reporter. He later said he had not meant to talk for publication and police announced a 24 hour guard had been posted at his home.

Named in Dies Hearing.

Von Spiegel's name figured in the Dies committee hearings in Washington last Aug. 22 when President John H. Sherman of Tampa [Fla.] university said the German had attempted to give the school free German language books and questioned the status of the school's German professor, a Viennese refugee opposed to Nazi theories.

Von Spiegel said the books in question were "four or five fairy tales," offered as prizes for students, and denied any effort to institute Nazi propaganda.

Von Spiegel today disclaimed any German territorial ambitions in the western hemisphere, saying specifically "Germany does not want Florida, Georgia, or Louisiana." He added:

"I am confident that the German government will be satisfied with regaining her possessions in Africa—and possibly a little more."

Trade Curb Hinted.

"Nevertheless my country will not forget that the United States did everything in its power to aid her enemies," he said, intimating a reduction in German-American trade.

"The new Germany will be self sufficient, with oil from Holland and Rumania, and wheat and wool from her friend, Russia, and countless other supplies from other European countries."

Von Spiegel said Spain would soon join the conflict against France, which he predicted would capitulate "in a matter of days." He said Germany had 28,000 fighting planes despite losses.

Von Spiegel was a world war U-boat commander until his capture by the British in 1917.

Pittman Calls It Insult.

Washington, D. C., June 14 (AP).—Senator Key Pittman [D., Nev.], chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, commented sarcastically today on the statement of the German consul general in New Orleans criticizing the United States' aid to the allies.

"If [Baron Edgar] Von Spiegel was quoted correctly, he is insulting," said Pittman. "He is too valuable to Hitler to remain longer in this country."

HEART ATTACK FATAL.

Mrs. Frieda Kolar, 56 years old, 1417 West 70th street, died of a heart attack in her home last night.

BROTHER-IN-LAW ADMITS KILLING GIRL WITH KNIFE

New Castle, Pa., June 14 (AP).—Helen Nasal, 27 years old, an attractive beauty shop operator was slashed and beaten to death today just outside the city.

Stab wounds covered the body. One gash had penetrated the heart.

A few hours after the body was found in a field by three boys who had heard her scream, District Attorney John G. Lamoree announced her brother-in-law, Arthur F. Dean, 36, had admitted the slaying. Lamoree said Dean, a WPA worker, was escorting Miss Nasal home when he suddenly attacked her with a knife. The prosecutor said Dean claimed he didn't know why he did it.

LAUNCH LEGION PROTEST AGAINST WAR MONGERING

Evanston Post to Carry Campaign Thru Nation.

Eugene F. Galvin, a member of Evanston post No. 42 of the American Legion and past national president of the Navy-Marine association, said yesterday that the 12,000 American Legion posts thruout the nation will be asked to adopt resolutions similar to the antiwar mongering resolution voted by the Evanston post Thursday night.

Galvin said the 7th district meeting, to be held Wednesday night, will be asked to approve the resolution and that copies will be sent to the national executive committee in Indianapolis for approval by the next national convention.

Assail Trend to War.

The resolution was voted by 1,000 members of the Evanston post. It declares that "a highly emotional clamor by war mongers and by innocent but misguided persons . . . is fast leading this nation into a state of near belligerency which history proves has always led ultimately to open war."

The post affirmed its belief that United States territorial, political, and military aims must be confined to the western hemisphere, and called for development of strong national defenses and strict observance of the neutrality act.

"It is clear to us who served in the world war that our former allies left no stone unturned to block the war debts which they solemnly borrowed from us and later curtly refused to pay," the resolution stated. "The Johnson act [forbidding foreign nations who have not paid their debts to float further loans in the United States] was passed by an aroused congress to prevent such a situation happening again. We enjoin all members of congress to uphold the Johnson act."

Flay Alien Propaganda.

Declaring that "our best interests are served by remaining neutral," the resolution asserted that the "war mongering clamor is stimulated and inflamed by pernicious propaganda of alien interests."

"We renew our pledge of unreserved aid to our country in this critical period," the resolution concludes. "Thru patriotism and loyalty we must show the war mongering portion of our population that the American Legion means to keep America free from entangling alliances and foreign quarrels."

American Navy Purchases Private Yacht—for a Dollar

Boston, Mass., June 14 (AP).—In consideration of $1, the United States navy today took over the Gypsy, private yacht of Robert F. Herrick, Boston lawyer, in the first transaction of its kind to the knowledge of navy yard officers since the last war. The Gypsy, approximately 100 feet long, has a speed of about 16 knots. A tug brought the Gypsy from the Lawley shipyard, where she had been in winter storage, to the navy yard.

76 IOWA TOWNS PICK DEWEY IN TRIBUNE'S POLL

Roosevelt Is Ahead on Democratic Side.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Additional straws from 16 cities roll Iowa's ballots up to a grand total of 26,880 in today's tabulation of results in THE TRIBUNE'S presidential straw vote. The canvass covered 76 cities. This completes the Iowa poll. Indiana results were given earlier this week. Michigan returns start tomorrow. Minnesota straw figures will be given later in the week.

Thomas E. Dewey, New York's racketbusting candidate for the Republican nomination at Philadelphia June 24, made a sweep in the Republican straws gathered in the tall corn state that is little short of amazing. Dewey finished as he started, with more votes than his rivals combined. He has 55.5 per cent of the total. Dewey has leads in each of the nine Iowa congressional districts, as he had in Indiana's 12 districts.

74 of 76 Cities Back Him.

In the 76 Iowa cities, Dewey was far in front in 74. The only two he dropped were Mason City, home of Hanford MacNider, Iowa's favorite son candidate, and nearby Nora Springs. MacNider was placed at the top of the list on the Iowa straw ballots.

The cities canvassed lie in 62 of Iowa's 99 counties—an indication of the extent of the straw poll. Dewey is ahead of the field in 61 of the 62 counties. The one in which he lagged was Cerro Gordo county, the home of MacNider.

The table in an adjoining column shows Dewey is more than 4 to 1 ahead of Wendell Willkie, native Hoosier, who runs second. Dewey has more than four times as many straws as has MacNider, who came in third. Dewey polled six times as many straws as Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, and almost seven times as many as Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan.

Roosevelt Leads His Ticket.

Of the Democratic straws, President Roosevelt finished with 83.3 per cent. He had big margins in each city, district, and county. Secretary Cordell Hull got 4.8 per cent; Postmaster General James A. Farley, 4.5 per cent; Vice President Garner, 3.2 per cent.

Straws in THE TRIBUNE'S preconvention poll have been gathered and assembled on the basis of the congressional district. Each of these districts sends two delegates to each of the Republican and Democratic national conventions. In addition there are four delegates at large. The tabulation by districts indicates sentiment of the rank and file of the voters in each district as well as in the state at large. Every district has been canvassed.

The Iowa Republican convention April 12 indorsed MacNider as Iowa's favorite son candidate and called on the delegates to present his name at Philadelphia. He is to receive Iowa's 23 votes at least on the first ballot.

District Main Unit.

In Iowa the congressional district is the main unit in the political setup. The state is perhaps even more addicted to the district habit than is Indiana, where it is aces in politics. Election figures are tabulated on a district basis in the Iowa official register.

The straw returns, tabulated by congressional districts, with leading cities to designate their location, follow. They give the four leading candidates in each party. The rest are in the low brackets in the table of cities.

In the 9th, in the northwest corner of the state, with a Democrat congressman, he has over 55 per cent. The polls in Sicux City, in the 9th, where there has been labor unrest at times, gave Dewey 62 per cent. He was in front of the field in all districts. His nearest runners-up varied.

G. O. P. ANTIWAR PLANK IS URGED BY GLENN FRANK

New York, June 14 [Special].—The Republican platform should declare for keeping out of the European war and insist on full speed on defense of the western hemisphere, Dr. Glenn Frank, chairman of the unofficial G. O. P. program committee, asserted today.

"If we had entered the war at the start we might have determined the outcome and influenced the course of history," he said. "Now it is too late. National defense is now the primary consideration of the country. We should build our defenses no matter what the cost."

ROOSEVELT ERRS IN WAR POLICIES, LANDON CHARGES

Arouses Allies' False Hopes, He Says.

Topeka, Kas., June 14 (AP).—Alf M. Landon charged tonight that President Roosevelt has shown "a disposition to take this country to the verge of war without regard to national opinion" and added it was "cruel" to arouse "false hopes in the nations that are fighting for their existence."

The 1936 Republican presidential nominee expressed his criticisms of the President's recent utterances on foreign affairs in a statement issued just before his departure for Philadelphia and the G. O. P. national convention.

Pointing to Sen. Burton K. Wheeler's recent threat to break with the Democratic party if it became a "war party," Landon asserted:

"What has disturbed Senator Wheeler, and what has profoundly disturbed me, has been the attitude of the President as disclosed most clearly in his Charlottesville speech.

Disputes President's Right.

"The President offered to the allies 'the material resources of the nation.' He made this offer as if the material resources of the nation were his to dispose of.

"This is not the way of democracy. It is the way of dictatorships—the way just taken by Mussolini.

"The speech was interpreted by the British press as meaning that America is about to enter the war.

"The President may not have meant to give this impression. Indeed, he could not have meant to give it. He knows that only congress has the authority to declare war and that congress has not the slightest notion of declaring war. Nevertheless his language was so emotional and so loose that it lent itself to this British interpretation.

"This is the time above all others for the American people to keep their heads. It is no time for whipping up national emotion."

Agrees With Sympathies.

The former Kansas governor said it was obvious that American sympathies are with the allies.

"We believe their defeat would be a calamity to the world, and that it would be a menace to the United States. Most of us are agreed that we should sell them all the material supplies we properly can.

"All of us agreed on preparedness; on going the limit for national defense. But I am not ready to agree that we should go into the war and send our boys overseas—for that is what going into the war would eventually mean—and I am convinced this is the view of the overwhelming majority of the American people."

Landon insisted the United States should "tread softly" until the "big job" of preparedness is well under way.

Becomes Bride Today

DOLORES GILLEN.

Dolores Gillen, former W-G-N actress and now in New York radio, and Vincent Downey, New York attorney, are to be married at 9:30 o'clock this morning in Holy Name cathedral. Miss Gillen, who was featured in an interview program with Bob Elson for several years, is the daughter of Mrs. Peter J. Gillen of Clinton, Ill. She is a graduate of the University of Illinois. Mr. Downey is a graduate of Georgetown university, Washington, D. C. A reception at the Drake hotel will follow the wedding. They will be at home in New York City after a motor trip thru New England.

ALMAZAN WARNS AGAINST FRAUD IN MEXICAN VOTE

Says Revolt Will Be Fault of Cardenas.

NOGALES, Sonora, Mexico, June 14 (AP).—Gen. Juan Andrew Almazan, independent candidate for the presidency, said today he expects to win the July 7 election. He said that if there is an uprising it will be the fault of the government for counting him out.

Asked what he thought would happen should he receive the majority of the votes and yet be declared the loser, as his followers frequently charge will be the result, Almazan replied:

"That is up to the people."

Cites Previous Failures.

Then he elaborated:

"President Diaz of Mexico could not impose Ramon Carral on the people as his successor, Carranza could not impose Ignacio Bonillas, and President Cardenas cannot thrust Camacho upon them."

Gen. Manuel Avila Camacho is the candidate who is backed by President Lazaro Cardenas.

Almazan said that if the administration tries to count him out of the election the administrationists, rather than his own backers, will be the trouble makers.

Honest Election Pledged.

"Those who obey the law do not rebel," he said. "Those who break the law are the rebels. If the Cardenas administration ignores the law and the constitution and denies me the right to take office, then they are the instigators of an uprising—if one occurs."

Almazan explained, however, that the administration has promised an honest election, and expressed belief that President Cardenas would live up to his promises.

If elected Almazan said he would build up a modernized army, navy, marine, and air corps, and said his foreign policies would parallel those of the United States.

In an address last night he promised that he would exterminate communism, which he said was eating at the foundations of Mexican democracy.

NEW DEAL JUST 'AN OLD TYRANNY, SAYS GOV. JAMES

The sins of the New Deal parallel those of George III. of England, which forced the American colonies to revolt, Gov. Arthur H. James of Pennsylvania said yesterday at a luncheon of the Executives' club in the Hotel Sherman. Gov. James has been mentioned as a possibility for the Republican Presidential nomination.

"Under George III.," he said, "the British seized the colonial legislatures. They made judges directly dependent on the sovereign. They sent a swarm of officials to this country to feed on excessive taxes imposed. To be certain that would never occur again, the founding fathers of the United States created the constitution.

"But in the last seven years, as never before in our history of freedom, the constitution is imperiled by the executive branch of government. Those in authority are imposing throttling taxes, establishing a vast burocracy, riding roughshod over the legislative and judicial branches.

"The New Deal would impose the executive will as the law of the land."

CONGRESS VOTES POSTPONEMENT OF FINNISH DEBT

Washington, D. C., June 14 (AP).—Without a dissenting vote both houses of congress today passed legislation authorizing postponement of Finland's semi-annual $159,398 war debt payment which is due tomorrow.

In the senate Senator Arthur Vandenburg [R., Mich.] praised Finland's perfect record of having met each instalment when engaged in war with Russia.

Secretary Hull, Vandenberg said, approved the postponement because of hardships Finland is undergoing in reconstructing the country following the soviet invasion.

BROOKS BLAMES WEAK DEFENSES ON NEW DEALERS

Wasted 7 Years While Dictators Armed.

Springfield, Ill., June 14 [Special].—The forceful antiwar speech delivered by Wayland Brooks, candidate for United States senator, before the Republican state convention today was described by many delegates as the high note of the day's session.

Brooks' own distinguished war record added weight to his utterances. He was wounded seven times in action during the first world war and his two brothers were killed. He came out of the service a lieutenant with the Distinguished Service Cross, the Croix de Guerre, the Navy Cross, and the Purple Heart.

Served in Great Battles.

The Republican leader was at Château Thierry and Belleau Wood and in the Soissons offensive, as well as in the trenches before Verdun. It was near Soissons that an explosive shell blew off part of his left foot, tore part of his hip away, and caused other injuries. While he was hunting bandages among the dead a rifle bullet went thru his right arm.

Extracts from his address follow:

"The old world is on fire! Mad men, with mechanized, motorized monsters, are conducting the greatest march of murder in the history of the world. A war is raging in Europe which completely threatens the future peace and the happiness of free men everywhere.

"We, as a people, must take stock of our position and with determination and courage face our future.

"What is our position?

Seven Years of Meddling.

"For seven years, the present administration of our government has meddled in international power politics and has failed to provide us with adequate national defense. It has likewise meddled with our domestic unemployment problem and has failed miserably to solve it also.

"It has attacked private enterprise and so-called big business, causing it to allow its tools and machines of production to deteriorate. And now they call for an unprecedented amount of money for hysterical manufacture of war machinery, without providing us with either a well-defined domestic or foreign policy.

"America, the greatest nation of free men on earth, with the greatest productive possibilities, stands today woefully unprepared.

Battleships for Fishing Boats.

"For seven years we have had an administration with full access to the direct lines of communication and information concerning the gigantic preparations of modern machines of war. Yet our battleships have been used for pleasant fishing trips, and we find the secretary of the navy telling us now that we must remodel our ships on the sea. And the general in command of our air force tells us that our ships of the air are also obsolete.

"All this, my friends, while we have been piling high the greatest peacetime debt in history. All this while our youth have been crying for opportunity and ten million citizens have longed for productive employment.

"What is our aim—peace or panic? Are we going to follow the death march of Great Britain and France—are we going to follow an American Chamberlain, talking in pleasant phrases about social reform and a theoretical greater good for a greater number—until we find ourselves lost as a people and our system piled as another skeleton on the graveyard heap of government of yesterday?

America Must Awake.

"Valiant America must awake. Loose-thinking men will tell us soon of the wartime weaknesses of a democracy as compared with dictatorship.

"If there is any weakness in America it was not created in wartime. It was created during the last seven years of an incompetent administration.

"The prepared dictators have been working and training their men, producing their motors, machines, ammunition and building morale, while we have piled high a burden of debt, allowed our tools and war equipment to become obsolete, made our people dependent upon the government and weakened our whole structure.

"This administration, by indictment and malignment, caused our people to look with scorn upon big business. But now, with almost frantic appeal, this same administration calls upon the heads of two of the biggest businesses in America to please come to the rescue and please help save and defend America.

Deception or Incompetency.

"It is no longer sufficient for them to cry politics when we, as free American citizens, ask these simple questions, 'Did not our government officials know of this war preparation which threatens all free people? If not why not? If they did, why did they not have the courage to tell us? They either deliberately deceived the American people or are so incompetent that they are not fit to handle the affairs of our government longer.

"Why did they not use the billions to give productive employment that we have spent keeping free men in submission on government doles?

Raises Other Points.

"Why have we had years of government attack on industry and free enterprise, causing their tools to become outmoded?

"Why haven't we built hundreds of airports and encouraged primary training in all the necessary elements of flying and keeping our planes in the sky?

"Why are we not so strong today that no nation and no man could speak lightly of our effectiveness?

"Has this condition been deliberately brought about to cause fear in the hearts of our people and to cloud their calm judgment?

"Has this national weakness been the result of a deliberate, brain trust scheme to cause a frightened people more willingly to turn over more control to individuals in government power, with the false hope of peace and safety, and thus make the will of the people themselves inarticulate and powerless?

"These are fair questions for free men and women to ask now.

"No administration has ever had more money to spend in the face of impending danger. No administration has ever had so much power and control to protect a people.

"No administration has had such a direct and immediate source of information of an approaching storm. No administration has had such direct facilities of both press and radio to reach into every American home, moving trains and automobiles and yet we were unwarned and we now stand unprepared. Why? is the question America asks.

"That is the question every mother and father of a son of military age has a right to ask, and they are asking it now!"

18th District G. O. P. Delegates

Victor McBroom.

Karl R. O'Hair.

This is the seventh in a series of sketches of downstate district delegates to the Republican national convention who will share the task of picking the G. O. P. candidate for President. Today's sketches are of delegates from the 18th district.

When he became G. O. P. chairman of Kankakee county in 1932, after serving 20 years as the central committee's treasurer, the Democrats held every city and township office in the county except that of sheriff and county clerk.

In the eight years since then the Republicans have wrested all the county offices from their political foes except that of state's attorney.

McBroom was born in Hillsboro, Ind., in 1886, but has lived in Kankakee for many years. He was a member of the Kankakee county board of supervisors from 1915 to 1936.

He is married and has two children.

Karl R. O'Hair of Paris, former state representative, is a lifelong resident of that city, where he was born Jan. 9, 1887. He is head of a finance company there and for many years has been active in the civic and political life of his community.

Since 1923 he has been a member and secretary of the Paris board of education. He belongs to numerous clubs and social organizations there. He is a member of the Edgar county Republican central committee.

O'Hair was elected to the state legislature from the 22d senatorial district in 1929 and served one two-year term.

He is married and the father of two children. He and his family live at 220 East Washington street in Paris.

19 Planks in G. O. P. Platform

BY PERCY WOOD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 14.—The Republican state platform adopted in convention here today contained 19 planks, the most important of which demanded adequate national defense but insisted upon no American participation in the wars of other countries.

"The Republican party," the platform declared, "stands for Americanism and peace. The Democratic party stands for internationalism and war.

"We demand, as we have demanded, an adequate national defense to protect the United States against invasion, but we insist that not one drop of blood of American youth shall be spilled on a foreign shore for the purpose of interfering in any European or Asiatic conflict."

Fifth Column Condemned.

Fifth column activities were condemned in the 2,500 word platform and the charge was made that "high officials in Washington" have been encouraging these activities.

"We advocate drastic and immediate measures to exterminate all such subversive influences," the document read, and continued with a pledge to enact laws requiring American citizenship as a prerequisite to the issuance of licenses for the practice of the various professions and trades licensed by the state.

After condemning Democratic extravagance and "tremendous increases in taxes," the platform pledged the party, when returned to power, to remove the sales tax from food, eliminate lump sum appropriations, restore "free and open bidding" in the letting of state contracts—"in short, the entire operation of state government will be put on a sound basis."

Platform pronouncements on other important matters follow:

PARDONS AND PAROLES.

"We pledge that society will be protected against premature release of hardened criminals from our penitentiaries, and that abuses in the administration of the parole law will be eliminated so that it may properly serve to restore first offenders to useful places in society. The alliance between crime and politics can and must be ended."

CIVIL SERVICE.

"The Republican party pledges honest civil service administration. We will stop the illegal solicitation of campaign funds from civil service employés."

ELECTIONS.

"We condemn the fraud, corruption and intimidation practices in elections by the Democratic party. . . . We pledge honest elections in this state."

EMPLOYMENT.

"Unemployment can only be absorbed by private industry. The first step toward that accomplishment is the restoration of confidence in the administration of our government. This can best be accomplished by the withdrawal of government from competition with private industry. Encouragement and not the hindrance of legitimate business is needed. Neither labor nor the employer should be regimented.

"Until such time as jobs can be found in private industry for every employable person, we pledge ourselves to maintain a program of useful public works for the benefit of the needy unemployed. All jobs on such work should be filled first from the ranks of the unemployed in the community where the project is located without the requirement of the endorsement of any political boss."

LABOR.

"The Republican party firmly believes that employés should have the right to organize, free from intimidation and coercion by government or employer, and to engage in collective bargaining thru representatives of their own choosing, for working hours, wages, working conditions, and other forms of mutual aid or protection. We oppose as un-American, and against the interests of labor, the vesting of power in any governmental board to enforce involuntary servitude either directly or indirectly."

RELIEF.

"The Republican party believes that one of the first responsibilities of the state is to render assistance to the needy unemployed and to those who, because of advanced age, physical or mental disability, or other handicaps, are unable to properly maintain themselves.

"Frequent recurring crisis, fluctuating payments of relief, and unreasonable delays have left deserving aged and unemployed persons hungry and without funds. The Republican party pledges that adequate relief will be extended to all deserving persons. We pledge home rule in the administration of relief, subject to uniform standards set up by state law."

OLD AGE ASSISTANCE.

"The Democratic administration has deceived the aged of this state. The handling of old age assistance and practices regarding old age pensions have been a sham. The Republican party pledges to remove burcratic red tape and deception, and honestly and promptly administer all old age assistance funds on a sound financial basis and absolutely free from political control."

AGRICULTURE.

"A workable tariff for the protection of American farm markets.

"Any feasible plan to balance supply with demand and so raise agricultural prices.

"A program to restore and maintain agriculture on a basis of parity with labor and industry.

"Removal of burocratic red tape, extravagance, inefficiency, and political coercion. We favor the extension of local control to the administration of all farm legislation, and a genuine soil building program on lands taken out of the production of the basic agricultural commodities, thereby preventing burdensome surpluses."

EDUCATION.

"The Republican party promises adequate state support for all public schools. We will insist upon maintenance of local control."

WAR VETERANS.

CONSERVATION.

"We pledge to remove the department of conservation from political control."

WOMEN.

"Recognizing the important part played by women in our governmental affairs, we pledge ourselves to give them adequate representation in our party councils."

HOME RULE.

"We believe that only state-wide questions should be left to the control and management of the state government."

this state as advisory. It did not seek to instruct the delegation.

Delegates Are Listed.

The eight delegates at large chosen are Dwight H. Green, Wayland Brooks, Col. Robert R. McCormick, Frank Knox, National Committeeman Hill Blackett, Richard J. Lyons, former United States Senator Otis F. Glenn, and former State Senator William E. King, a spokesman of the Negroes.

The alternate delegates are Mrs. Mabel G. Reinecke of Chicago, Congressman Leo Allen of Galena, Congressman Everett M. Dirksen of Pekin, Superior Judge Oscar F. Nelson of Chicago, Philip W. Collins, a representative of the American Legion; Edward A. Hayes of Decatur, another Legionnaire; State Senator Charles Carpentier of East Moline, and Frank G. Thompson of Mount Vernon.

Col. McCormick Tells Stand.

Upon the presentation of the nominating committee's report, James E. Hill of La Salle, permanent secretary, read a telegram from Col. McCormick. It follows:

"Ladies and gentlemen: If you elect me as a delegate to the Republican national convention, I will feel bound by the overwhelming expression of the Republicans of this state in the presidential preferential primary to exert myself continuously and conscientiously for the nomination of Thomas E. Dewey.

"As a soldier who served in a division which lost 23,000 men killed and wounded in the last war, which sacrifice was all in vain, I will vote against and work against any platform pronouncement calculated to involve the United States in the present tragic struggle. Very respectfully, Robert R. McCormick."

Contest on One Delegate.

Charles A. O'Connor of Aurora, state's attorney of Kane county, made a fight on Knox before the nominating committee which selected the delegates at large. The vote to place Knox on the slate was 17 to 6.

The regular slate, which contained Knox's name, was submitted by Victor McBroom, chairman of Kankakee county, and Ed Moore seconded its adoption. O'Connor got the floor from Chauncey Jenkins, committee chairman, at that point and said he was against the slate of delegates for two reasons—it contained no women and the name of Knox was on it.

"Today Knox is advocating war," O'Connor said. "Do you want to fall in with presidential candidates of the Democratic party? If you don't, then don't put Frank Knox on this slate. He hasn't learned that you can't drive people to a European war."

The regular slate, with Knox's name on it, then was adopted by the 17 to 6 vote. O'Connor threatened to take the floor when it was read to the convention and protest against Knox. He decided against it at the last minute, however.

Regarded Blow to Blackett.

The adoption of the candidates' slate for delegates at large was regarded as a blow to National Committeeman Blackett's hope for approval of a slate that would be largely favorable to him. The candidates, with the exception of Green, whose declaration of neutrality was a disappointment to Blackett, have lined up solidly behind Werner W. Schroeder for election as committeeman at Philadelphia. All except one or two of the new delegates at large will vote for Schroeder and are believed to insure him a substantial majority of the 58 votes in the delegation.

The three candidates nominated for university trustees are Park Livingston of Hinsdale; John R. Fornof, Streator newspaper man, and Mrs. Helen Matthews Grigsby of Pittsfield, a former trustee.

Because of a question whether a fourth university trustee is to be elected on Nov. 5, the convention did not adjourn sine die but took a recess. There is a vacancy on the board caused by the death of Trustee Louis C. Moschel of Pekin, but Gov. Henry Horner has not called a special election. If he does issue a call, the convention will reassemble in skeleton form and, in that event, Harold [Red] Grange may be the nominee.

GREEN SUMMONS VOTERS TO OUST STATE MACHINE

Charges Corruption of Government.

Springfield, Ill., June 14 [Special].—Dwight H. Green pledged to the Republican state convention today that, if he is elected governor next November, "corrupt machine politics will be cleaned out of every department of state government.

"Lump sum appropriations will end," Green declared. "Civil service will be extended and rigidly enforced. The gains made by labor will be protected and its representatives given proper part in state councils"

Green paid tribute to his primary opponent, Richard J. Lyons, "whose staunch Republicanism and devotion to country tower above his personal ambition."

"No man in Illinois," Green told the great crowd in the state armory, "was quicker to pledge his loyalty to me after the primary or to lead his valiant followers to join our forces than that indomitable 'happy warrior' of Libertyville."

Fight Against New Deal.

"We meet here," Green continued, "not as party candidates speaking in party terms, but as men charged with the solemn duty of leading the independent voters of Illinois, Democratic and Republican, in their contest with the forces of the New Deal and the pay rollers of the Kelly-Nash-State house machine. In this fight we ask the help of those splendid, stalwart Democrats who have seen the name "Democrat" used to cover foreign theories of government and cloak the misdeeds of men who disgraced the party name.

"We welcome all genuine Democrats into this struggle to free Illinois from corrupt machine rule and give it and our nation the kind of government which has made it great, under both Democratic and Republican administrations. This is the fight of every voter who believes that we must keep American self-government and the American system of private enterprise.

"Hundreds of thousands of serious minded, honest Democrats have tried in vain to rid Illinois of the Kelly-Nash-State house machine. Since 1936 this state has witnessed four vicious Democratic primary fights. Loyal and conscientious Democrats, who put the welfare of their state and city above party loyalty, have tried in vain to crush the Kelly-Nash machine.

Serious State Problems.

"The people of Illinois have serious problems to solve. No state has produced so many shocking scandals or revealed such wanton waste and corruption as Illinois has in the past seven years. The Kelly-Nash machine in Chicago has joined hands with the state house machine in Springfield and together they have looted the state treasury and parceled out state offices, contracts, and jobs.

"We have heard much about fifth columns of late but such enemies are not limited to traitors who seek to sabotage industry and overthrow our government. The leaders of a corrupt political machine whose greed and tyranny cause our people to despair and to forsake self-government are our most dangerous fifth column.

"The fifth column that must be defeated in Illinois is the Kelly-Nash-Springfield Democratic machine. The fifth column democrats, who drop their Kelly-Nash-Nudelman parachutists into every precinct in Illinois to corrupt elections and undermine free government, will be driven out of Illinois by the aroused, militant citizens who will vote Republican on November 5th.

Patronage and Spoils.

"We can barely mention the record of the state Democratic machine today. In brief, every agency, office, and function of state government has been seized as patronage and spoils. The cost of state government today approaches 250 million dollars a year. This money is collected from the pay envelope and income of the average citizen.

"Thousands of useless jobs have been added. Contracts for roadbuilding and supplies of state institutions have been sold on the political auction block. The 'little black book' containing the record of slush funds and contractors' assessment is still in hiding, but the nation knows that its pages include one of the most sordid stories in the history of any state.

"Public welfare and the administration of relief and old age assistance have been seized as spoils. Civil service has become a mockery while the scandal of slush funds forced from state civil service employés has been carried on front pages. The public school system has been forced to pay tribute to the machine.

National Guard Demoralized.

"The National Guard, our line of defense to stand beside the regular army while the nation is mobilizing, has been demoralized. Seniority and proven ability are no longer the things that determine promotion. Enlisted men are forced to work for Democratic candidates or lose the small sum they are paid.

"The typhoid epidemic at the Manteno hospital took the lives of 60 of our unfortunate citizens and brought to the light of day the inefficiency and politics in welfare institutions. Wholesale escapes from the St. Charles school for boys have resulted from political misrule. The state police, guardians of the safety of our highways and homes, have become a part of the spoils.

"We are not in this contest as Republicans against Democrats. We are in a fight to determine whether this great state, rich in its natural resources, its forest and farms, its mines and factories, its orchards and oil fields, its villages and great cities, is to be freed from the tyranny of tribute of a corrupt Democratic machine. It is this great issue that we must carry to the tax burdened, long suffering, independent voters, Republicans and Democrats alike."

KELLY RETURNS, CONFIDENT OF TRANSIT LOAN

Mayor Kelly, on his return from Washington, D. C., yesterday, said he was confident that a 25 million dollar loan can be obtained from the Reconstruction Finance corporation to help finance Chicago's proposed traction unification. The mayor conferred in Washington with Jesse Jones, federal loan administrator, and RFC officials about the loan prospects.

Ald. James R. Quinn, chairman of the city council transportation committee made public yesterday a memorandum received from the transit lines on the synopsis of the unified traction ordinance released by the city June 4.

The city and the lines on May 25 reached a substantial agreement on terms of the ordinance. No major changes were suggested by the companies' officials in their memorandum. One condition they proposed was that any future special tax or license expense levied by the city on the unified company be deducted as a credit from compensation to the city for use of streets.

STUDIES AT NIGHT 17 YEARS TO GET COLLEGE DEGREE

Northwestern university was proud of George J. Behnke yesterday because it took him 17 years to win his bachelor of science degree. Here's why: The only time he could study and attend classes was in the evening, because he works days and supports a wife and two children.

Behnke lives at 4647 Deming place. When he was 19 years old he got a job with the Western Electric company but resolved not to let that keep him from having a college education. So he enrolled in the university's school of commerce for classes two nights a week.

Behnke, who is still with the company, will receive his degree at the university's commencement this afternoon, with his wife and children watching him. Then he'll begin work on his master's degree, which he expects to get in three more years.

DEWEY THANKS HIS BACKERS IN ILLINOIS G. O. P.

Wires His Greetings to State Convention.

Springfield, Ill., June 14 [Special].—The Republican state convention received a telegram this afternoon from Thomas E. Dewey of New York expressing thanks for its action earlier in the day in adopting a resolution calling the attention of national convention delegates to the vote given him. His telegram follows:

"May I ask that you extend my greetings to the delegates assembled in convention as the representatives of the Republican party in Illinois. In my visits to Illinois and to other states in all section of the country I have seen a marked resurgence of Republicanism that is due mainly to the excellent and patrotic work of the rank and file of the Republican party workers.

Voices His Appreciation.

"I shall always be grateful to the Republican organization of Illinois for the cordial receptions accorded me in your great state and for the splendid vote of confidence which it evoked in my behalf at the primary on April 9.

"In a world gone mad our party is determined to exert every effort for the welfare of America. Thanks to Republican vigor, defeatism has been defeated in this country and we are prepared vigorously to furnish leadership to the people in their desire for peace and security.

"The Republican party is going forward to victory in November."

Text of Resolutions.

The text of the Dewey resolution adopted by the state convention follows:

"Whereas, pursuant to, and in compliance with, the primary election laws of the state of Illinois, the name of Thomas E. Dewey, candidate for the Republican nomination for President of the United States, was printed upon the primary ballot of the Republican party at the primary held in the state of Illinois on April 9, 1940; and

"Whereas, the primary election law provides that the vote for President of the United States shall be for the sole purpose of securing an expression of the sentiment and the will of the party voters with respect to candidates for nomination for said office, and the vote of the state at large shall be taken and considered as advisory to the delegates and alternates at large to the national convention of the respective political parties, and the vote of the respective congressional districts shall be taken and considered as advisory to the delegates and alternates to the national conventions of the prospective political parties; and

"Whereas, Thomas E. Dewey received 977,225 votes out of a total of 1,143,662 cast by the Republican primary electors in the state at large; and

"Whereas, Thomas E. Dewey received an average of over 85 per cent of all Republican primary votes cast in the various congressional districts;

"Therefore be it resolved that the Republican party in Illinois in convention assembled expresses its appreciation and commendation to Thomas E. Dewey for the contribution which he has made by his efforts not only in this state but thruout the nation to a revival of interest in the American system of government and the principles of the Republican party."

CIRCUIT COURT JUDGES ELECT P. J. FINNEGAN NEW CHIEF JUSTICE

Judges of the Circuit court elected Judge Philip J. Finnegan as their chief justice yesterday. He will succeed Chief Justice Cornelius J. Harrington July 1. Judge Harrington will be head of the chancery division and will continue to hear divorce cases. Judges Robert Jerome Dunne, Finnegan, George Fred Rush, and Stanley H. Klarkowski will sit in the chancery division.

Judge Finnegan.

The judges chose Judge William V. Brothers head of the law division and Judges Walter J. La Buy and Julius Miner to serve in the Criminal court with a third Circuit court judge to be chosen next week.

Criminal court judges are drawn from the Circuit and Superior court benches. The chief justice of the Criminal court is to be chosen from the Superior court this year, since the Circuit and Superior courts alternate the post. The Superior court judges will meet Thursday to name the Criminal court's chief justice.

WARRING UNIONS TIE UP 18 SHIPS AT LOS ANGELES

Stalled Cargo Includes Wood for Planes.

Los Angeles, Cal., June 14 [Special].—Factional strife between warring labor unions today tied up 13 American flag ships in Los Angeles harbor and interfered with the operations of five foreign ships.

Ship owners protested that the disruption of water commerce in these uncertain times is an intolerable imposition upon the public. Among the paralyzed cargoes is wood for military airplane manufacturers.

The interunion troubles began several weeks ago when C. I. O. members started picketing the Consolidated Steel corporation's shipyard in Long Beach. The action was in protest against the corporation having granted a contract to an American Federation of Labor union.

Union Foes Retaliate.

The C. I. O. then attempted to organize café employés in the area of San Pedro, Wilmington, and Long Beach. The A. F. of L. Culinary union retaliated by picketing the docks which employ members of Harry Bridges' C. I. O. International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's union.

Today waitresses and bartenders, supported by sympathizers, a picket force 200 strong, paced the docks keeping their C. I. O. foes from work. They received help from Bridges' bitterest foes, Dave Beck's A. F. of L. Teamsters union, and from the independent Marine Firemen's union.

The refusal of firemen to go thru the picket line and get up steam to work ship winches kept the C. I. O. longshoremen from loading or unloading cargoes. Truck drivers refused to deliver or receive cargo thru the picket line.

Seek to Preserve Order.

While the A. F. of L. picketing was in progress on the docks, C. I. O. men picketed waterfront eating places manned by A. F. of L. workers.

In an effort to preserve order during the union warfare, Los Angeles uptown police sent five cars of officers to San Pedro and the state board of equalization ordered the closing of every drinking place in lower San Pedro.

On behalf of themselves and the public, ship operators protested against the interunion strife thru F. J. McGowen, president of the Waterfront Employers' assocation. He termed the situation grave.

"Disruption of water-borne commerce in this critical period," he said, "is intolerable and unforgivable, for it ties up cargoes intended for public consumption and those essential to the President's defense program."

OLD MEN BAWLING FOR WAR.

If America should be betrayed into war, the so-called Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies may boast that its effort was to a considerable extent responsible for our participation. The advertising campaign undertaken by the committee is said to have yielded $20,000 in contributions in the last week and the money is continuing to flow, promising more advertising and more contributions.

The spectacle borders on the obscene. The committee consists for the most part of elderly ladies and gentlemen who aren't going to fight in any war which they may promote. Of course they do not say in so many words that they wish to see America declare war; they are advocating only material aid as distinguished from the sending of an expeditionary force. They believe, or pretend to believe, that the distinction is both reasonable and honorable. In fact, they are asking this country to adopt the despicable policy of declaring that Englishmen and Frenchmen are dying for us, but we will not die for them, nor even for ourselves. We will let Georges and George do it. We are to enjoy the fruits of victory without paying the price for it.

That position is immoral, and precisely for that reason is untenable. It is difficult and, indeed, it is impossible to credit the members of this committee with being so shortsighted. They must know in their hearts that if we go as far as they demand we go, we cannot stop there. The expeditionary force and the casualty lists must follow inevitably.

Few names of members of the committee will appear on these lists. The dowagers will knit their sweaters and roll their bandages, and the ageing gentlemen will fight the war in the comfort of the club. They will derive a considerable satisfaction from the accounts of the valor of the American soldiers and will know little about the sufferings.

It is charitable to assume that these elderly ladies and gentlemen are not thinking ahead to the social and economic disorganization that will follow the next war as certainly as it did the last and every other war. If they are thinking about it, they can quiet their misgivings with the knowledge that chaos won't bother them for long. They are nearing the end of their days and they have enjoyed the good things of life. Let the future take care of itself. If they succeed in fastening a dictatorship on their country, overwhelming it with debt, slaughtering a generation, and planting the seeds of discord, they won't be around to gather the harvest.

Going into war is not a reversible process. Once a nation is in, it is in to the end, come what may. Once the step has been taken, the consequences, however bitter, however costly, must be accepted. The common sense of the nation knows that. Every day this newspaper, and we have no doubt many other newspapers as well, receive great piles of letters from readers who are alarmed at the eagerness of the administration, abetted by self-appointed committees, to involve our country in war. The Voice of the People is at least 10 to 1 against war or steps toward war.

These writers are not cowards or hyphenates. They are thoughtful and most of them are literate men and women. Only the fewest of them have the slightest use for Hitler, Mussolini, or Stalin. These Americans want America to stay out of war because they do not see that anything we might gain from participation will be worth what war will certainly cost this country. They are not letting their hatred for the dictators and sympathy for the beleaguered allies capture their minds. They can still think beyond the moment, and it is because they are thinking and not yielding to emotion that they want to stay out of war. Their voice is the voice of those who will fight the war and pay for it.

THE BRIDGES DEPORTATION BILL.

The bill which the house has passed ordering, by name, the deportation of Harry Bridges leaves a bad taste. But however doubtful the wisdom of the procedure being followed may be, the situation that has caused congress to adopt this drastic method is far more distressing.

Harry Bridges should be deported. Thru all of the whitewash daubed on him by Secretary Perkins and Dean Landis, the facts stand out that he is a communist at heart and probably in name who for years has been engaged in sabotaging our maritime industry on the west coast. So long as he remains in power Stalin can blockade our pacific ports.

The constitution forbids congress to pass bills of attainder, by which process a legislative body finds a person guilty of a crime and fixes his punishment. The Bridges deportation bill does not violate this provision. It is a well settled law that aliens enter this country and maintain residence here as a matter of privilege and not of right.

Thus Bridges is not being deprived of any rights if he is deported, nor is he being punished. He is merely being denied extension of a privilege which he has long abused and which should have been withdrawn from him long ago.

The deportation bill nevertheless comes too close to a bill of attainder, in substance but not in legal form, to be palatable. It is of dubious effectiveness. Bridges is a symbol of communist domination of the west coast ports. When he goes other communists will be waiting to step into his shoes.

Still worse, the introduction of the bill is in itself a confession of the inability of our system of general law, applicable to all, to protect us. The defect, more correctly, is not in the law but in its maladministration, perversion, and violation by Madam Perkins, the labor board, and the other fellow travelers that President Roosevelt keeps in power at Washington.

If congress thinks the situation demands a legislative remedy, as it surely does, that remedy is the impeachment of Secretary Perkins, not the deportation of her protége.

ILLINOIS REPUBLICANS SPEAK.

The Republican party in Illinois has hoisted its standard in the platform plank adopted by the state convention at Springfield. The Republicans are the peace party. The Democrats are the war party.

"The Republican party stands for Americanism and peace. The Democratic party stands for internationalism and war.

"We demand, as we have demanded, an adequate national defense to protect the United States against invasion, but we insist that not one drop of the blood of American youth shall be spilled on a foreign shore for the purpose of interfering in any European or Asiatic conflict."

This is a clear statement. It contains no weasel words. It voices the hopes of the overwhelming majority of the people of Illinois, of the middle west, and of the nation. It is a standard about which they can rally to stop the hysteria-breeding drive of the war mongers.

To appraise the Republican stand by the lowest possible standard, that of political expedience, this is the only platform on which the party can win. The folly of trying to match the war-like utterances of President Roosevelt is apparent. No candidate whom the Republicans nominate could match his recklessness, and no war platform they could adopt could keep step with his day to day disregard of the interests of the American people. If Americans want war, they are going to vote for a third term.

If the intrigues of a few party apostates and fifth columnists should sway the convention at Philadelphia away from the clear course charted at Springfield, the Republican party will lose the election. It will deserve to lose the election, because it will have betrayed the people.

PARIS AN OPEN CITY.

In view of what the Germans did to Warsaw, Rotterdam, and a number of smaller cities in their destructive trail across Europe, many Americans had heavy hearts as they contemplated what the Nazis might do if they succeeded in taking the capital city of their ancient enemy. The one encouraging development in the war so far is the willingness of Hitler to recognize the designation of Paris as an "open city" and to accept its surrender as such.

There are, after all, rules established by the customs of nations which limit what a nation may do in reducing an enemy to submission. One of these rules is that the force applied must not go beyond what is necessary in attaining an objective. Open or undefended cities are given a special status in the rules of war.

In the regulations annexed to the Hague convention of 1907 respecting the laws and customs of war on land it was provided that towns, villages, dwellings, or buildings which are undefended must be spared bombardment. Prof. Charles Cheney Hyde in his treatise on international law points out that a town does not necessarily cease to be defended because it lacks fortifications, and that conversely an unfortified place possessing a military force or a population rising in armed resistance must be regarded as defended. When any means are taken to prevent an enemy from occupying it a place cannot be considered undefended. "The price of immunity to bombardment is that the place shall be left open for the enemy to enter."

Paris apparently met all of the conditions and was not assaulted. This in itself is significant. For it has been asserted that in the last war the immunity of open cities was not recognized by the Germans, and the Carnegie endowment for international peace has published a list of instances of alleged deliberate bombardment of undefended places by the Germans following 1914. The sparing of Paris may be explained, perhaps, as evidence of Hitler's fear of arousing world opinion against him. At any rate, the world will rejoice that the beloved city and all its treasures have not been reduced to ashes and rubble. That profanation, at least, has not been committed.

ART CRISIS AT POTEAU.

[Tulsa Tribune.]

The citizens of Poteau are greatly incensed over a new mural in their postoffice which has just been completed by a girl from Rochester, N. Y., on funds provided by the federal works agency.

The mural, it appears, features a cotton picking scene, altho any one who knows LeFlore county is aware that cotton growing is of little importance there. Specifically, the irate townspeople object to what they describe as the "wooden face expressions" on the characters depicted thereon, the fact that the cotton pickers are all wearing new, clean clothing, and—worst of all—the figure of a youth carrying a cotton bale. All persons from points south of Rochester, N. Y., know that cotton bales weigh about a quarter of a ton.

During the last seven years in which the New Deal has been spending a few modest millions in "fine arts" projects for the relief of impecunious artists and the edification of the unartistic general public it has become apparent on a number of occasions that the boys in Washington are no hotter as art connoisseurs than they are as recovery experts. A lot of the work has been plainly lousy and some of it has carried "social messages" reminiscent of soviet political posters. It is true that the cost of this work, while it might have staggered any previous administration, didn't bulk large in the New Deal budget, but still the money might have built a few dozen warplanes and thus slightly lessened the current defense "emergency" which the administration is now frantically viewing with alarm.

If the young lady from Rochester has made any mistakes in her painting it is merely because she is expressing the philosophy of her bosses. For to an administration that publicly doubts if the people of America ever will be even slightly inconvenienced by a 45 billion dollar debt there is certainly nothing remarkable about a youngster hoisting a cotton bale.

MR. PEPYS GOES TO COLLEGE.

15th June—Today I will be like the old fellow in "You Can't Take It with You" who made a hobby of college commencements, and will go to Northwestern to see the young men and women in their black gowns, getting their diplomas. It will be on the fine meadow in front of the library if the weather is fair; and if it rains, in nearby churches; and as I watch the well ordered processions of students and professors, many hundreds of them, I will say, "The man who manages and directs all this must be a good man, and able."

Then, toward the end, a professor will come to the platform for special honors and farewells, and it will be the one who marshaled the great flock together, the stage director, so to speak, of the show. He has been doing so for many years, and this commencement will be his last, for he is retiring. And from the crowd there should be cheers as well as applause for Dr. Omera Floyd Long, who bears the title of John Evans professor of Latin language and literature.

He came to Northwestern 43 years ago as a young man not long out of Johns Hopkins, and of the thousands of students who conned their Cæsar, Cicero, Vergil, and whatnot under him, there was not one but who profited by his teaching and his example, and not one but who always kept a warm place in his memory for this kindly and completely human scholar.

The young men of the playing fields knew him, too, for he was one of them at heart, and had a hand in the management of their affairs. Baseball was his game as a student, and even now I do think he could go out to short stop or second base and scoop up a hot grounder; for there is some youth in him still.

Methinks it will take several men to fill the shoes of O. F. Long, professor of Latin, faculty athletics chairman, and chief marshal of the university. And when his honors and titles are recited today, I would add to the list: Contributor to the Line o' Type column and author of verses printed over the signature, Ophellus.

CLASS REUNION.

Well, Joe, old boy! You haven't changed a bit
Since we flunked Bozzie's course in English Lit
Because of Matthew Arnold—What a guy!
That was a time! We knew his stuff was dry,
And drowned our sorrows. . . . What? You didn't flunk?
I've mixed you up then with some other drunk . . .
Say, where's that crazy blonde, the little twerp
From Albany? That wren could surely chirp
A foolish song! You . . . What? You married her?
My error. . . . Lucky man! Well, Joe, those were
Our palmy days! A pleasure to come back
And live them over. . . . Say, old man, don't whack
My sunburn so darned hard. . . . Yes, this is great!
Yes, sir! . . . My boys are fine, except that fate
Gave only girls. . . . No, I don't practice law:
I'm just an honest man. I never saw . . .
What? You're a lawyer? . . . Gosh, Joe, but it's good
To get together! How I wish we could Accomplish this more often. . . . You're no thinner. . . .

Geoff.

Wanted: A Day of the Millennium.

It would be fine to know a day when all the news was good. When headlines would announce "Robins Return," and a front page story detail the building of a nest, and the four little turquoise eggs waiting there. When radios would bulletin the passing of the bridal wreath in a snowfall of petals, and the coming of the buxom peony. When the telegraph would flash the news of lemon lilies that bloom beside a garden pool. When telephone wires would sing only with the song of the south wind, as it touches them with gentle fingers. When men and women would smile and say "Have you heard? There was a new moon last night, and all the sky was laced with moonbeams, and spangled with silver stars." O, it would be good indeed!

Helene.

Names on Old High School Programs.

What becomes of high school actors? I am thinking of the dramatic club of the old South Division High school, 1901-'02. It gave excellent performances of "Twelfth Night" and "The Rivals." Paul Dickey played Sir Toby Belch and Captain Resolute, and made his professional debut at McVickers in 1907, supporting Edgar Selwyn in "Strongheart." I lost track of him thereafter. . . . The old program of "The Rivals" shows that a certain Dudley C. Watson played Fagg. Can this have been the well known Dudley Crafts Watson, art and travel lecturer?

Max of the Second Gallery.

[Paul Dickey died in 1933. He was more active as a playwright than as an actor. Incidentally, he played on Michigan's "point a minute" football teams of 1903 and 1904.]

A SPRIG OF HELIOTROPE.

If Clytie's wave-drenched hair this perfume bore
As she emerged from the Aegean mist,
How stern a heart the dashing Helios wore
That could such dainty loveliness resist.
Perhaps it was the sun god's love for man
That bade him leave her pining hour on hour
Till rooted firmly in the Grecian sand
She changed into this lovely fragrant flower.
Certain it is that thru the centuries,
The while she watched the shining firmament,
Striving with eager smile her god to please,
Mankind has reaped the passion she has spent.
Trembling within these petals now, I see

Memories of an Ugly Duckling.

Regarding Lillian Russell as a Chicago schoolgirl [June 7]:

I often heard Miss Harriet Winchell, principal of the Tilden school, and Miss Emily Currier speak of Lillian Russell. As a pupil at the Tilden she was known as Nellie Leonard. Her father was a lawyer. "She gave no promise of her future beauty," they said.

The old Tilden school district was then the "gold coast" of Chicago. The Crane family, resident there, gave Miss Winchell money to start the first manual training courses in Chicago.

How to Keep Well By Dr. Irving S. Cutter

*To the limit of space, questions pertaining to hygiene and prevention of disease will be answered in this column. ### WHEN FRIEND JONES IS ILL.

THE other day a friend whom I regard as highly intelligent — even tho he adopted the legal profession —propounded the query. "After all, what is disease? Take my colleague, Jones, as an example. He is a fine looking, well set up chap. He seems to take good care of himself, but every so often he will be confined to his home for a week or two with some ailment."

Apparently it was up to me to reply and—as best I could—I explained what we mean by "a strong constitution," "body resistance," and "reserve." Possibly the discussion may be of general interest—so here is the gist of it.

"Every individual is endowed with a physical makeup which either invites or repels illness," I asserted. "He obtains this primarily thru inheritance — from his mother, father, grandparents, and more remote ancestors. In other words, he is what he is because each forebear contributes something to his physique.

"Next in importance is the period of infancy and early childhood. Was Friend Jones well nourished? Did he obtain the proper amount of exercise and have contagious maladies passed him by—leaving his tissues and organs uninjured? Even ancient physicians understood many characteristics and some were able to prophesy a stroke of apoplexy—not so much from the habits of the patient as from his general build.

"Again, referring to Jones," I continued. "He may have a peptic ulcer, for he is just the type. He is an intense, nervous, positive, driving person and we know that trouble of this sort is far more common with this group than with those who take life as it comes; who adopt a 'don't care' attitude. There is, too, a well marked relationship between sickness and the body's frame. The spare, cadaverous appearing man or woman may be a sufferer from indigestion. On the other hand, the short, thickset, chunky one may develop diabetes.

"Naturally, we can understand that when bacteria or some other irritant attacks the body and gains a foothold, inflammation may ensue and tissues be destroyed. But let pneumonia break loose in any community—with weather conditions favorable to the propagation of the germs—some will be ill, while others will escape. Here again the variation lies below the surface. The blood of one victim may destroy the organisms in large numbers, while the circulation of another may encourage and feed them. The only symptom exhibited by the former may be a sore throat. With the latter, a typical siege with pneumonia may ensue. Thus we ward off or contract diphtheria and other ailments because we either possess or lack immunity against them.

"Furthermore, one's habits, including diet, exercise, and sleep, assume dominant rôles. Nutrition may spell the difference between disease and health. Suppose the individual omits all the essential elements —not 50 per cent but, let us say, 10 to 15 per cent? What are his chances? He will be far less likely to repel an onslaught of invading microbes than he would if a full complement of foods were within the fort.

"Finally, there is overstrain—with accompanying fatigue. As an engine needs overhauling at intervals—so will the cells demand rest. But wear and tear does not mean physical work. It may be translated into terms of eating too much for the digestive apparatus to handle."

After we parted I wasn't sure that I had made my point, altho my legal companion felt that he had a clearer insight into why Jones was indisposed periodically. As he put it, "Perhaps he had poorer materials out of which to construct himself."

TRIGGER FINGER.

R. writes: What is a trigger finger? Can anything be done about it?

REPLY.

Contraction of the tendon leading to the terminal joint. This is seen in what is known as Dupuytren's contracture and is sometimes the result of injury. There is also a malady in which movement is arrested for a moment when closing or opening the hand. It then continues with a jerk. Dividing or lengthening the tendon will relieve the former condition. Little can be done for the latter.

SPOTS BEFORE EYES.

C. F. H. writes: Would kidney stones cause spots before the eyes?

REPLY.

Kidney stones are not capable of floating before the eyes. The shiny specks observed when gazing at the sky are of little significance. They are thought to be minute particles of cholesterol. Fixed black dots moving about in the fluid within the eyeballs may point to a circulatory or renal disturbance.

STAINED TEETH.

E. M. writes: What will remove tobacco stain from the teeth in between the twice yearly visit to the dentist?

REPLY.

More frequent trips to the dentist. The home application of pumice stone may lead to injury of the enamel or the gums. Routine washing of the mouth and the use of a good dentifrice may prevent the appearance of discolorations.

ASPHYXIATION.

H. L. writes: How long does it take to get over the effects of being "knocked out" by carbon monoxide gas?

REPLY.

Several days—at least; perhaps a few weeks. The blood must undergo a substantial amount of rebuilding.

Test Your Facts

Below each of the following questions are listed three answers. Make your choice, turn to page 27 in the Want Ad section for the correct answers, and mark your score:

1. Who won the title of "the American mother of 1940?"

2. Who wrote the verse: "For he who fights and runs away may live to fight another day?"

3. Into which of the Great Lakes does the Genesee river empty?
[a] Lake Michigan. [b] Lake Superior. [c] Lake Ontario.

4. Which of the following is known as the El Dorado state?

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

100 PER CENT DAMNABLE.

Iowa City, Ia., June 12.—England and France thought they were prepared for war, but have lost most of their armies and armament. We are as well prepared to fight Germany as a rabbit is prepared to fight a wolf, or a salmon to fight an eagle. Whoever tries to lead American youth into the European slaughter pen in our present state of unpreparedness is not guilty of more than 99 44-100 per cent treason, but his conduct is 100 per cent damnable.

SAMUEL D. WHITING.

G. O. P.'S OPPORTUNITY IN ILLINOIS.

Chicago, June 6.—The Republican party is having open meetings to consider various ideas proposed for inclusion in the Republican state platform. The new platform, when completed, will contain a number of planks all of which it is hoped will appeal to the majority of the voters in Illinois next November.

This committee ought to assure the voters in Illinois that in the event a Republican governor is elected immediate steps would be taken to eliminate the useless taxing bodies in the state. At this time there are fifteen thousand taxing bodies of Illinois, of which over five thousand are in Cook county alone.

The elimination of these taxing bodies would lower the cost of government, bring about efficiency, and lighten the tax load on our overburdened home and farm owners. The new preparedness program of the federal government will result in increased taxation and can only be paid if local and state governments cut their costs.

The Republican party can be successful in Illinois if it assures the people that it has in view a sober minded program of government economy and will stop the plundering activities of these fifteen thousand taxeating bodies.

DANIEL J. MCGRATH.

OWNING YOUR OWN HOME.

Harvey, Ill., June 12.—Congratulations to your paper for its editorial, "More Home Owners." The vision and foresight expressed in that article will help Chicago citizens to see the advantageous possibilities of owning their own homes, and help overcome the staggering obstacles which tend to alter present building plans.

This line of reasoning will be a major factor in placing Chicago at the top of the home building list, and THE TRIBUNE deserves credit for calling it to our attention.

DWIGHT E. JENKINS.

WOULD RALLY AROUND DEWEY.

Chicago, June 13.—Isn't it wiser to swap horses in midstream than to sink with the old horse? Here is what Owen D. Young is quoted as saying: "I resent at any time or any place the attitude that the safety of this country depends on any man holding his job. No man has achieved that strength, and this country has not deteriorated to that weakness." Let's stop this nonsense immediately that Mr. Roosevelt is the only man qualified to be President and rally around a man like Thomas E. Dewey, who would have a united people with him.

F. H. D.

WOMEN FROM WISCONSIN.

Chicago, June 12.—On May 16 you published a letter captioned, "Call for Wisconsin Women." This brought responses from a number interested in forming a society made up of Wisconsin women now living in Chicago. We had our first meeting a few days ago. We thank you for affording us this opportunity to "get together." Our next meeting will be held July 2. All Wisconsin women are eligible and welcome.

WISCONSIN.

FOR MILITANT PEACE PARTY.

Chicago, June 13.—Your leading editorial today was great. Why not a militant peace party? Fifth column centering in White House is determined to engulf us. Expose dishonesty of begging billions for defense while allowing allies to clean us out of arms.

MRS. C. C. MORRISON.

SEES THE DEAL EXPOSED.

St. Louis, Mo., June 11.—The Willkie business I wrote you about a few days ago is now out in the open. William Allen White in an article in today's St. Louis Globe-Democrat exposes himself and his crew of allied war wreckers. According to Mr. White, his crew plans to sell the Republican party down the river at the convention, then hand the nomination to Mr. Willkie, for the sole reason that he has promised more aid to the allies than any one else. In other words, the other candidates probably refused to be a party to the betrayal of the Republican party, so this war group picked up this Democrat, Willkie, and evidently made a deal with him. I say it is the rankest political deal ever made in the history of the United States.

The question is what will the Republican party do—will it fight back and nominate and elect a real American to the presidency or will the party submit to the "war group" that cares nothing for party or country?

America is at the crossroads—will it be peace, prosperity, and happiness, or chaos, war, and destruction. We must make our choice very soon.

T. R. HAZARD.

AFTER THE ROOSEVELT SPEECH.

Madison, Wis., June 11.—Today, after having been presented to the University of Virginia and the world of radio as "his excellency," the President of the United States delivered a promised "important announcement" in which he [one man] clearly defined the attitude of this country as being no longer neutral, but entirely in favor of the allies. This brilliant speech, with its glowing references to Jeffersonian principles, could well have been climaxed by the phrase: we must make the world safe for democracy.

Isn't there something we, as average citizens, can do to keep our country from being carried step by step into war?

MR. AND MRS. PAUL ENTRIKIN.

STATESMEN, TOO, ARE OBSOLETE.

Urbana, Ill., June 11.—I see they are figuring new taxes which in my estimation is O. K. This country should be prepared to take care of itself in case of invasion and we need equipment of the latest type to stop an invasion. But didn't we learn our lesson when we went into the other conflict in 1917?

I drilled three weeks in a blue serge suit because there were no uniforms available. We stood guard with broomsticks because we had no rifles. Now I see where they are trading our rifles in for new ones, which we can't hope to get for a long time.

So instead of trading off our rifles and large caliber guns let's trade some of our congressmen and senators because I am afraid they are becoming obsolete and not of any material benefit to this country.

WALTER FULTON,
Chief of Police of Urbana.

THE FLAG SALUTE.

Chicago, June 10.—In an article in THE TRIBUNE of June 4, entitled "Supreme Court Upholds Forced Salute to Flag," the salute is quoted as follows: "I pledge allegiance to my flag," etc.

During the world war it was found that this wording was not definite enough; "my flag" might be interpreted as any flag according to one's nationality. Therefore the form of the salute was changed to: "I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America" and this is the version used in all of the schools of Chicago.

In view of world conditions, I feel that this revised form should be emphasized and given publicity.

A RETIRED PUBLIC SCHOOL PRINCIPAL.

TWO REASONS FOR ARMING.

West Chicago, Ill., June 6.—The war monger and the isolationist both want to arm. The only difference is that the war monger wants to arm for war and the isolationist wants to arm for peace. I'm of the latter variety. Are you?

R. [SPARKS] BYERLY.

DEFICIENCY JUDGMENT.

Oak Park, Ill., June 5.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—In 1934 one of the Chicago banks foreclosed on our home and in July, 1934, obtained a deficiency judgment against my wife and myself for balance they claim due.

1. How many years do these real estate judgments run? The bank is now asking me to pay said judgment. Since 1932 I have not held a salaried position and have been selling on a commission basis only. I do not own any real estate, bonds, mortgages or anything else of value and have no other income. Married [wife not working], have three children [all minors]. I also have part ownership in a 1935 automobile, which was purchased used, also some old household goods.

2. What extent of monthly income are we exempt?

3. Is income of a salesman based on yearly average? Our household furniture is mortgaged—and the automobile is likewise.

4. I am overdrawn on commissions. The bank has now sent me a financial statement to fill out.

5. Do I have to fill this out and return it to them?

R. W.

1. The lien continues for seven years if the judgment is not renewed. The limitation period on the judgment itself is 20 years.

2. $20 per week.

3. For the purpose of garnishment, each week would stand on its own footing.

4. As long as you are indebted to your employer, your creditors could not force your employer to pay money by garnishment, except that if your employer continues to pay your wages and preserves this debt as a shield, then a court could hold him to garnishment.

5. No.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

TODAY IN HISTORY

June 15, 1752

Benjamin Franklin successfully demonstrated with his famous kite experiment that lightning was an electrical discharge. The identity had been suggested previously, but no one had been able to prove it. Franklin sent up his kite in a storm. The twine was insulated with silk ribbon, and at the end there was a key. When lightning broke around the kite he was able to get sparks from the key and charge Leyden jars.

TWO HOODLUMS SHOT TO DEATH IN PARKED AUTO

Woman's Purse Is Found in Back of Car.

Two hoodlums, one the brother of a notorious gangster of the prohibition era, were mysteriously shot and killed side by side in their parked automobile at 69th street and Wabash avenue last night. A woman's purse was found in the car. The double murder victims were:

Michael J. McGovern, 41 years old, 1428 West 79th street, racketeer and muscleman, and brother of Hugh [Stubby] McGovern, who was shot to death in 1928 after a stormy gangland career.

James McGlade, 29, of 1713 West 83d street, also a racketeer and all 'round tough, who was shot in a gun scrape on the west side in 1933.

Wide Range of Activities.

The joint and individual activities of the two were so diverse, police said, that it would be difficult to establish a definite motive for the murders. These activities ranged from muscling for unions to suspected robberies of handbooks controled by their one time friend, Danny Stanton, one of the leaders of the Frank Nitti mob.

McGovern and McGlade were shot about 8:45 p. m. as they sat in the front seat of McGovern's sedan in front of 58 East 69th street. They were shot from behind and, police believe, by some one whom they trusted. Two shots were fired into the back of McGovern's neck at such close range that his high priced Panama hat was charred almost black. McGlade was shot below the left shoulder and twice in the left arm.

Car Noticed in Afternoon.

Neighborhood residents told police that they first saw the death car in 69th street at 2 p. m. McGlade was sitting alone in it. Later McGovern joined him. Police believe the two had arranged a secret meeting with one or more men on a gangland deal.

Five empty pistol shells were found on the floor of the back seat and another on the front seat. Also on the rear floor was found the woman's purse. It contained the name and boarding school address of a girl 10 years old. Thru Investigators Francis Donohue and Ollie Karwoski and Chief Deputy Coroner Anthony Prusinski, detectives traced the memorandum to the child's mother, Mrs. Alice Gray, 34, of 7456 South Shore drive.

Purse Traced to Owner.

Mrs. Gray, who said she is employed in the Chicago offices of the federal interior department, claimed the purse. She said she knew the McGovern family and had borrowed the car last Tuesday to take her daughter home from boarding school. She had returned the car the same night and had inadvertenly left her purse in the car, she said. Mrs. Gray told Capt. Eugene Barry of the Woodlawn station that she is separated from her husband.

Capt. Barry also questioned Mrs. Anita McGlade, widow of one of the murder victims. Police quoted her as saying that she understood her husband and McGovern had an interest in a gambling house near 63d street and Western avenue and that they had been trying to organize a shipping clerks' union.

Both McGovern and McGlade were in and out in the union racket, police said. McGovern was reported to have been more active in gambling and to have been a closer friend of Stanton.

TELLS OF OLD INQUIRY OF JOB SALE CHARGES

Mayor Kelly said yesterday that reports that union teamsters had paid bribes of $300 each to obtain city jobs had been investigated by the city a year ago, but that no evidence had been obtained to substantiate the charge. Charges of bribe payments were brought into the open again Thursday when the teamsters' joint council stated it had heard testimony from at least 10 members of the Municipal Teamsters' union that they had paid for their jobs. An official of the union is involved as an alleged bribe taker.

"If any one has new information, it should be turned over to the civil service commissioner," Mayor Kelly said.

Civil service records showed that examinations for the jobs concerned were held Oct. 13, 1934, with 2,547 candidates, that the list was posted Oct. 22, 1937, after the same charges had been investigated for two months, and that after 246 successful candidates had been given jobs, the remainder of the list was canceled Nov. 3, 1939.

SPEED TRAPPER OUSTED FROM A CAREER ON WPA

Bare Two Jobs of Indiana Justice of Peace.

Bernard W. Fleming, 30 years old, a WPA career man, was ousted from the rolls yesterday when Elmer G. Wenz, WPA district manager at South Bend, Ind., found that he no longer meets eligibility requirements. Fleming, according to Wenz, is doubling as a spare time justice of the peace in the operation of a profitable speed trap in Porter county.

Fleming, who lives eight miles north of Chesterton, near Baileytown, works in partnership with Raymond Edgerley, an ex-convict auto bandit living about 15 miles north of Chesterton, who is a justice of the peace in Portage township.

Appointed by County.

Julius W. Turk, chairman of the Porter county board, said Fleming was appointed a justice of Westchester township at the board's May 1 meeting when he presented a petition bearing a large number of names of influential citizens. He filled a vacancy left by the death of the former justice. Prior to that, since 1938, Fleming had held the job of constable.

"As far as the board knows no speed trap is being operated," Turk said. "We have cautioned county officers against abusing motorists. We will welcome any complaints and investigate them."

Fleming's transition from constable to justice was the result of an Indiana state law passed last year prohibiting constables from making traffic arrests. A justice, however, is empowered to make them.

WPA investigators found that, upon completing work at a WPA sewer project near Chesterton, Fleming hurried home, put on an official looking blue uniform with a cap shield and star bearing the legend "Conservator of the Peace," and took to the highways in a speedy sedan.

Office at Tourist Camp.

The drivers he arrested were brought to the joint office he and Edgerley maintain in a green and white cottage in a tourist camp three miles east of Gary on U. S. highway 20. The usual fine was $1 and $5 costs, of which, Fleming admitted, 50 cents went to the county, while he and Edgerley split the rest.

Edgerley was released from the Michigan City penitentiary in 1933 after serving almost seven years, marked by an attempted escape from the Pendleton reformatory, where he was at first incarcerated. Fleming has been on and off the WPA and direct relief rolls ever since 1935.

Among the complaints of speed trap practices was that of Adam Sarber of Bourbon, Ind., a salesman arrested by Fleming on May 24 for failure to carry flares on a one ton truck. He was fined the customary $6.

Glenn Convis, a Gary truck driver, was fined the same amount for failing to have flares and flags mounted on a truck. Both men said they had never heard of any such requirement.

A FATHER, 22, ADMITS SLAYING GIRL, THEN FALLS FAST ASLEEP

Bellefonte, Pa., June 14 (AP).—State police claimed tonight to have solved the puzzling sex slaying of comely Fay Gates on May 5 with the arrest of a young married man who lived across the street from the Gates home in Mt. Eagle, Pa.

Capt. H. E. McElroy said Richard Millinder, 22 year old road worker and father of a 10 month old baby, had signed a statement admitting he smashed the 25 year old brunette factory worker's skull with a rock as she struggled to fight off his advances.

Millinder, the officer said, was not connected with the slaying of Rachel Taylor, 17 year old state college co-ed, whose mutilated body was found March 28 only 12 miles from where the Gates girl was slain. A formal charge of murder had been filed against Millinder.

Taken to jail, Millinder fell asleep immediately after explaining he had not "been sleeping well lately."

RED EDITOR GETS JAIL TERM, FINE ON LIBEL CHARGE

New York, June 14 [Special].—Clarence Hathaway, editor of the Communist newspaper, the Daily Worker, today was sentenced to 30 days in the workhouse and fined $500 by Judge John J. Freschi in General Sessions court.

Hathaway and the Comprodaily Publishing company, former publisher of the Daily Worker, were convicted on May 3 of criminal libel on charges brought by Mrs. Edith F. Liggett, widow of Walter W. Liggett, crusading Minneapolis newspaper man. The publishing company was fined $500.

Before the sentencing Hathaway was permitted to deliver a 45 minute oratorical attack charging District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey and his staff with making the trial a persecution of Communists to further his Republican presidential candidacy.

Slain During Campaign.

Liggett's body was riddled with bullets in an assassination before his wife and daughter at the rear of their apartment on Dec. 9, 1935. As the climax of his rigorous campaign against politico-criminal alliances, he was to have appeared the next day before the Minneapolis legislature to press his demands that the late Gov. Floyd B. Olsen be impeached.

As editor of the Midwest American, a weekly newspaper, he had hammered relentlessly his charges that leaders of the Farmer-Labor party, since ousted from its Minnesota control by the Republicans, had joined in criminal alliances with the underworld.

Isadore [Kid Cann] Blumenfeld, ex-bootlegger, employed in the Minneapolis "syndicate," was indicted for the murder of Liggett. He was acquitted, with the aid of police testimony, despite Mrs. Liggett's positive identification of him as the killer.

Widow Brings Action.

Then in February, 1936, the Daily Worker published a series of articles expressing the Communist viewpoint toward Minnesota politics and the Liggett murder. Mrs. Liggett charged that they libeled her and the memory of her husband. A widely quoted line in one of the articles stated:

"It is especially disgusting to see the widow...selling her husband's corpse limb by limb to the highest bidder" [thru her wrting about the case].

Mrs. Clara G. Lydon left an estate of $600,000 when she died on May 23, it was disclosed yesterday when her will was filed for probate. The bulk of the estate will be shared equally by a son and two daughters, Eugene Lydon, Mrs. Marion Colnon, and Mrs. Leila Colnon. Mrs. Lydon was the widow of William A. Lydon, who was president of the Great Lakes Dredge & Dock company.

INGENIOUS ARSON PLOT IS BARED; 8 UNIONISTS SEIZED

Garments Treated to Fire Cleaning Shop.

New York, June 14 [Special].—An ingenious plot to set fire to the stores and plant of a cleaning and dyeing company in a scheme to get a union contract for its 400 workers, was charged today to four women and three men, including Alexander Hoffman, general manager of local 239 of the Cleaners and Dyers union, a C. I. O. affiliate.

The seven were arrested yesterday after more than score of garments, whose linings had been packed with yellow phosphorous, had been seized by Queens detectives. The phosphorous would ignite in cleaning solutions.

Bonds Set at $5,500.

The women involved were Mrs. Pearl Spivack, 23 years old, of the Bronx, and Miss Norma Rimland, 20; Miss Rita Dembitz, 20; and Miss Mary Melachowsky, 22, all of Brooklyn. The other two men were Frank Palermo, 27, Long Island city, and Solomon Pelish, 29, Brooklyn.

Arraigned in felony court on charges of attempted arson and conspiracy, all seven pleaded not guilty. Magistrate Jenkin R. Hockert held them for the grand jury in $5,000 bail each on the attempted arson charge, which is a felony. He fixed bail at $500 each on the conspiracy charge.

Threats Are Revealed.

The complaint was brought by Isadore Paul, treasurer of Kent Stores, Inc. It alleged "that on March 7, 1940, Paul was told by Hoffman that 'you have to sign up with our union. We will use all methods, legal or illegal, to accomplish our purpose.'" When Paul asked, "Does that mean more fires?" the complaint continued, Hoffman replied, "Yes, more fires."

Police said several mysterious fires occurred in the company's plant after this conversation. When police saw Pelish come out of the home of Palermo yesterday with an armful of clothing, they followed the car and after garments had been left in two of the company's stores, they arrested Pelish and the girls who were with them.

FALLS FROM PORCH; DIES.

Floryan J. Buck, 35 years old, died yesterday in county hospital of head injuries suffered when he fell from the front porch of his home at 2446 Haddon avenue, Thursday night.

TRIBUNE SPENDS $1,300,000 FOR FINER PRESSES

Equipment Needed to Care for Rising Circulation.

To meet the requirements of its expanding circulation and numerous editions, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE has just placed a huge order—the second in the last few months—for new press equipment with the Goss Printing Press company.

Production Manager John W. Park estimated that the new installation, including auxiliary machinery and foundation changes, would cost $1,300,000, making the purchase one of the largest in Tribune history. The bulk of this sum will go to pay wages and salaries to Chicagoans. Goss is a local concern and the policy of THE TRIBUNE—to deal with Chicagoland industries whenever possible—was followed in placing the order.

$8,000,000 Spent Since 1929.

The improvement is part of a long term plan to maintain Tribune mechanical facilities in line with the latest developments and to replace equipment as it becomes obsolete. This plan has been followed thru all the depression years. Since 1929, THE TRIBUNE has expended eight million dollars on new building and equipment and replacements; an important sum in an era when many industries were suffering from lack of orders. Half the spending was for presses.

Construction is now under way on an addition to the plant, at a cost exceeding $200,000. This will give the editorial, circulation and composing departments needed extra space. Last December a new garage, started in June, 1939, was completed and put in use. It cost about $200,000.

Among the major 1939 improvements were two new paper cranes in the storage warehouse, representing an investment of $60,000, and a warehouse sprinkling system costing $25,000. New truck purchases reached a total of $110,000, and the new W-G-N radio transmitter at Itasca was completed for a total outlay of $140,000.

Buy Six New Color Presses.

The new order is for 32 high speed black and white press units with six double holders, six color printing units, and six half units for printing the other side of the color web. All the presses will have electric alternating current drives and special brakes and controls to insure proper acceleration and deceleration.

These new presses will replace a line of 30 black and white units, with seven folders and four color decks, which were installed between 1923 and 1926. Some of the units will be under Tribune Tower and will be on mountings designed to lessen vibration. The others will extend under the plant behind the tower.

This equipment is in addition to the purchase, a little more than two months ago, of eight new Goss presses and a folder. That improvement, including foundations, was estimated to cost $375,000. Otto Wolf, assistant production manager, said the eight units would be in operation on Oct. 1, with the larger installation scheduled for service about Jan. 1.

116 Press Units Available.

When all the new units are in THE TRIBUNE will have a total of 116 press units, 16 of which can be used in high speed color printing—a field in which THE TRIBUNE has pioneered.

At present direct electric current is used to operate all presses of THE TRIBUNE. Tribune engineers said that only in the last few years had the necessary controls for successful use of alternating current been developed. They believe that eventually all presses will be powered with alternating current.

COURT GETS BANK ROBBER'S $4,175 LOOT; 13 CLAIM IT

United States Attorney William J. Campbell asked the federal District court yesterday to decide what should be done with $4,175 which federal investigators found last year when they seized Thomas Kyle, one of America's most notorious bank robbers. Kyle is now serving a 25 year prison term for the holdup of a bank at Los Angeles, Cal.

Of the total sum, $1,575 was in the possession of Kyle's wife, Thelma. The rest, $2,600, was found in an apartment they occupied at 4429 Magnolia avenue. There are 13 claimants to the money, including Mrs. Kyle and her attorney. Kyle himself, two other individuals, six banks, and two insurance companies complete the list.

Campbell has had the money, and the problem of distribution, on his hands for several months. He has turned both over to the court.

Miss Elizabeth Henneberry, Honored by Wilson, Dies

Miss Elizabeth Henneberry, who was awarded a certificate of merit by President Wilson for special work with the Illinois Red Cross during the first world war, died last night in her home at 5234 Washington boulevard. She had been suffering from heart disease following an accidental fall three months ago. Miss Henneberry was 70 years old. For many years she served as an interviewer for the Illinois department of labor.

Couple Tied Up in Home and Robbed of Cash, Gems

Irving Hamburg, 24 years old, and his wife, Frances, 21, were held up by two gunmen in their apartment at 3520 Lake Shore drive last night, tied and gagged, and robbed of $435 in cash and $400 in jewelry. The robbers entered the apartment while the Hamburgs were out to dinner. When the latter returned they were seized and tied. Hamburg owns several filling stations.

FATALLY INJURED AT WORK.

George Paules, 50 years old, of Anderson, Ind., a laborer, died yesterday in Passavant hospital. He was injured Wednesday while working in the Joliet plant of the American Steel and Wire company.

TEST YOUR HORSE SENSE

BY DR. GEORGE W. CRANE.

Here is the second instalment of my TEST FOR THE GIRL FRIEND, based on confidential interviews with 1,144 engaged men, who frankly enumerated the MERITS and DEMERITS of their fiancées. Paste this in your scrapbook for permanent use. To score yourself, subtract your DEMERIT total from the MERIT total to procure your net score. Then interpret the latter according to the scoring below.

| DEMERITS. | MERITS. |
| 1. Applies makeup in public. [6] | 1. Can carry on an interesting conversation. [6] |
| 2. Is very suspicious and jealous. [30] | 2. Praises her boy friend in public. [30] |
| 3. Speaks poor English or uses an excessive amount of slang. [6] | 3. Adaptable. Can be serious or frivolous as occasion demands. [6] A. |
| 4. Will not explain or talk things over during a quarrel. Pouts or sulks. [30] | 4. Deft in handling children. Knows some child psychology. [30] |
| 5. Confides too freely in others. Tells her private affairs. [6] | 5. Helps boy friend with his work or lessons. [6] |
| 6. Has poor table manners. Eats with fingers, etc. [6] | 6. Good seamstress. Can make her own clothes. [6] |
| 7. Addicted to smoking. [6] | 7. Healthy and athletic. Likes the outdoors. [30] |
| 8. Chews gum too much, as during dancing, church, parties, etc. [6] | 8. Has a wholesome enthusiasm for life. Not bored or cynical. [6] |
| 9. Apologetic regarding her parents. [6] | 9. Can take shorthand or operate a typewriter by the touch system. [6] |
| 10. A "projector." Blames others for her own errors. [30] | 10. Occasionally invites boy friend to her home for dinner. [6] |

TRAIN WRECKED, DRIVER KILLED IN CROSSING CRASH

Hursell Beck, 26 years old, 8251 East End avenue, was killed yesterday when he drove his trailer truck into the side of a Nickel Plate freight train near Gibson City, in Ford county. The accident derailed 18 freight cars. Beck was on his way to St. Louis, Mo.

Mrs. Emily Kterschel, a Chicagoan, died last night in a hospital at Berea, Ky., of injuries suffered when her automobile crashed into a bridge abutment. Two other persons in the car were slightly hurt. Mrs. Kterschel was on her way from Georgia to Chicago when the accident happened. Her Chicago address was not learned.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 375 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 293 were killed in Chicago where 9,947 were injured in traffic during the same period.

Motorist Drowns Sorrow Over Hitler; Pays $15 Fine

When Harold Foss, 1502 Elmwood avenue, Evanston, was arraigned yesterday before Judge John V. McCormick in Automobile court on a charge of drunken driving he blamed his plight on Hitler. "I'm a Norwegian, your honor," he explained. "But there isn't any Norway any more. Hitler took it. This makes me very sad—so I drink." Judge McCormick said he understood, but just the same Foss would have to spend 15 days in jail.

High Court Rules Sale Tax Must Be Paid on Caskets

Undertakers must pay the state sales tax on receipts from the sale of caskets and grave vaults, the Illinois Supreme court held yesterday.

SENATE BOOSTS FARM SUBSIDIES BY 100 MILLION

Relief Total Increased to 1,223 Million.

BY CHESLY MANLY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 14.—The senate today added a farm subsidy appropriation of 100 million dollars to the pending relief appropriation bill, raising its total to 1 billion, 223 million dollars. The additional 100 million for subsidies makes a total of 1 billion, 247 million dollars to be provided for that purpose at this session of congress.

The vote for the 100 million dollar addition was 58 to 16. Even Republican Leader Charles L. McNary of Oregon supported it. Republicans and conservative Democrats who have been demanding a slash in government expenditures as well as drastic tax increases to help finance the 5 billion dollar national defense program said the senate vote made a mockery of any talk about economy.

Sponsored by Bilbo.

Senator Theodore G. Bilbo [D., Miss.], sponsored the 100 million dollar farm subsidy amendment, which was favored by Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace. The money is to be added to funds heretofore made available, including 100 million dollars from customs receipts and 85 million dollars in the billion dollar farm appropriation bill, to finance the administration's so-called surplus disposal program.

Under this program subsidies are paid to increase both exports and domestic consumption of agricultural products. The food stamp plan is operated as a domestic consumption program.

Proponents of the Bilbo amendment said the additional appropriation was made necessary by the European war, which has resulted in a sharp curtailment of American exports.

Other Millions Provided.

The relief administration bill already provided a total of 200 million dollars for farm subsidies, including 75 million dollars in cash and 125 million dollars in RFC loans for the Farm Security administration's loan and grant rehabilitation program. Moreover, the agriculture department appropriation bill authorizes 50 million dollars in RFC loans for the Farm Security administration.

Thus the total for the Farm Security administration is 250 million dollars. The total for the surplus disposal program is 285 million dollars, assuming that the house will agree to the 100 million dollar Bilbo amendment.

Other farm subsidies made available at this session are 212 million dollars for so-called parity payments, intended to boost farm purchasing power toward the 1909-'14 base level, and 500 million dollars for soil conservation payments.

'WIRE TAP' CASE IS UPHELD; ORDER TRIAL ON MONDAY

Judge James F. Fardy in Criminal court yesterday denied a defense motion to suppress the state's evidence against Attorney George M. Crane and three co-defendants in the so-called jury fix case. He ordered them to stand trial Monday.

Defense attorneys sought to have the evidence declared illegal on the ground it had been obtained by telephone wire tapping. Such evidence has been held invalid by the United States Supreme court. State's Attorney Courtney's office had denied wire tapping had been used.

Judge Fardy said there was no doubt in his mind that the state had tapped telephone wires to obtain evidence but that he would not take the responsibility of declaring the evidence void as there was no precedent in the state courts to guide him.

Crane and seven other persons were indicted on charges of bribery and conspiracy to obstruct justice after Sam Orlando and Joseph Vinci were acquitted last Dec. 20 of election fraud charges. Crane was attorney for Orlando, Democratic precinct captain of the 11th ward, and for Vinci, Orlando's assistant.

W-G-N SYMPHONIC HOUR WILL OFFER BAGGIORE DEBUT

Attilio Baggiore, W-G-N and Mutual's operatic tenor, will make his first appearance on the Chicago Tribune symphonic hour from 9 to 10 p. m. tomorrow. Marion Claire, soprano, will be featured. Henry Weber will conduct the W-G-N Symphonic orchestra and chorus.

Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of THE TRIBUNE, will be the speaker. The concert will be broadcast before an invited audience in W-G-N's main studio over the coast to coast network of the Mutual Broadcasting system.

Mr. Baggiore, who is heard regularly on the Pageant of Melody broadcast, will sing Dix's "The Trumpeter," and, with Miss Claire, the duet and finale from Gounod's "Faust."

CIGARET FIRE HITS CATTLE PEN.

Fire presumably started by a burning cigaret caused about $25 damage yesterday to an empty cattle pen at Exchange and Dexter Park avenues in the stockyards.

Hinsdale Horse Show to Open This Morning

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE weather today and tomorrow is of especial interest to all those who have planned outdoor affairs and to the many more who are expecting to be guests at such affairs. Rain or unseasonable cold can spoil the best laid plans—and the most carefully thought-out costume, for when one has assembled a hat, frock, and shoes for a sunny day in June it is difficult to look suitable or comfortable if it's cold or rainy.

Largest of the many outdoor events of the week-end is the 11th annual Hinsdale Horse show, which will have two performances today and again tomorrow. The morning sessions will start at 9 o'clock and the afternoon ones at 1:30. The Hinsdale Junior Infant Welfare society receives the net proceeds. The show will be held on the Oak Brook polo field, York road just north of 29th street.

Large Tent Required to Stable Overflow of Horses.

About 200 horses are entered in the show, which has grown to such a size during the last few days that a large tent has been erected to stable the overflow. Walter P. Saunders is president of the horse show association and Mrs. David V. Thomas is chairman of the box committee. A few of the many boxholders are Mrs. Merrill Hubbard, Mrs. William B. McIlvaine Jr., Mrs. Wallace Wakem, the Frank O. Butlers, the Paul Butlers, Austin Selz, Archibald MacLeish, the Frederick L. Herendeens, and the Edwin Ruthven Moores. There will be a horse show ball tonight at the Hinsdale Golf club.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Winfield Cresap are hoping for fair weather tomorrow afternoon, for they are giving a garden party between 4 and 7 o'clock at their home in Woodley road, Winnetka. Their especial guests will be President Franklyn Bliss Snyder of Northwestern university and Mrs. Snyder. The iris and peonies in the Cresaps' garden are in full bloom and there still are many flowering shrubs with blossoms, so the garden never has been more lovely, in spite of the season being late.

Their Son and Daughter Are Here for Party.

The Cresaps' son, Mark Jr., is here from his home in Philadelphia, and their daughter, Mrs. Samuel Comly, has come from her home in Port Chester, N. Y., along with Mr. Comly, for the party. Others assisting will be Mrs. Walter Dill Scott, Mrs. Arthur Wakeley, Mrs. Percy B. Eckhart, Mrs. Bentley G. McCloud, and Mrs. Grant Ridgway.

The Telfer MacArthurs have invited a group of neighbors and friends to drop in for cocktails tomorrow afternoon in the hope that their acres of peonies will be in bloom and that the weather will be nice enough to tempt the guests to walk about in the gardens. The MacArthurs reside in Libertyville.

A wedding reception in Lake Forest this afternoon and one in South Bend are to be al fresco affairs. The Lake Forest bride is Miss Lily Fleming, who will be married to William Edwin Holt Maulsby of Baltimore. The South Bend bride is Miss Mimi Farabaugh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gallitzin A. Farabaugh of the Indiana city. She will be married to Walker Griffiths Everett of South Bend, son of Mrs. John C. Everett of Chicago and Holland, Mich. The reception will be given at 5 o'clock at the Farabaugh home, 1019 East Colfax avenue.

Miss Fleming's Service to Be at Four o'Clock.

Miss Fleming, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Fleming, and Mr. Maulsby, son of Mrs. Maud Holt Maulsby and the late David Lee Maulsby of Baltimore, will be married at 4 o'clock in the Church of the Holy Spirit, with the reception following at the Fleming home.

Miss Fleming is to wear the lovely gown her mother wore 30 years ago. Her sister, Miss Jean Fleming, will be her maid of honor. Two other sis-

THRU THE LOOKING GLASS

The trouble with a lot of feminine faces, according to a makeup expert with whom we talked recently, is that too many women are their own eyebrow experts. They tamper with natural line when they get a tweezer in their hands and often the results are rather terrible.

You've probably noticed this yourself. That unnaturally thin, high "surprised" eyebrow line that is affected lately by so many women is awful to behold. And so are those lines that go upward above the eye corners, giving the face a caricaturish effect.

A professional arching job isn't expensive. And we know of at least one professional in town who is a genius at knowing what's wrong with eyebrow lines and doing the artistic thing in the way of correction. She's one of the busiest people to be found, too. All day every day in one of the local salons she does nothing but "eye work."

Her basic theory is that the shape of the brows should usually follow the shape of the lips. It works out amazingly well. A completely symmetrical mouth calls for symmetrical brows, and the effect is good. An unusual mouth line ordinarily is an indication that the face can carry a somewhat unorthodox brow line. We've seen this work out too. She does not believe that the little face accented with a rosebud mouth can stand for an exotic line — and we agree with her.

The penciled line is usually bad. Brows can be darkened with pencil of course. But the pencil stroke should not be an arc made with one line. Much better apply the lines with the "grain" of the eyebrow growth. The effect is beautifully natural.

Miss Marie Merrill Hubbard, debutante daughter of Mrs. Merrill Hubbard of Lake Forest, is one of the most expert young horsewomen in Chicagoland. Last week-end she carried away several ribbons from the South Shore Country club horse show. This week-end she will ride in the Hinsdale show and next week she will be riding in the Lake Forest show, which opens on Wednesday and runs thru Saturday.

They've Fixed Up Some Fancy Dad Day Trifles

BY REA SEEGER.

Final market tips for Dad's day include such blazing glories as a matching pajama and lounging robe set of awning stripes, a telling bit of team work that can be separated, but the price mark for both is surprisingly modest. Material is a particularly smooth, silky sateen.

There isn't a dad in the world who wouldn't welcome a dark dotted travel robe that folds compactly in a case. The case and robe are of the same material, a foulard textured stuff in cypress green, navy blue, and dubonnet red with small white dots. This find is yours for less than $5. There are plenty of pockets, a long tuxedo collar, and a tie belt. Small, medium, and large sizes are available. For equally moderate sums you can select terry cloth summer robes in solid colors and some slick bright mixups, blue and orange with white, green and red with yellow, and so on.

Huge French mull handkerchiefs, just about the most eye blinding affairs on the boulevard because of the gay brilliant plaids and color combines, are priced around a dollar and look like something five times that amount. The first showings didn't have a chance at a man's wardrobe. All the appreciative feminine shoppers snagged them for their own daytime and spectator sports clothes. Now dad gets a break. Tucked in either light or dark palm beach or seersucker coat pocket the necessary highlight colors are achieved.

Fine French lisle short socks come in stunning new shades—summer green, cool blue, gray biege, and dubonnet. Side clox add the festive accent. Other short socks, in an especially good design of fine lines in dark color against cool white or light colored backgrounds, are not as costly as the lisles but just as easy to wear.

Ties, the tricky glass suspenders, matching garters, buttonhole carnations for dress parade, snowy white hankies with rolled hems and effective initials, swanky outfits of colored slacks and a choice of two shirts, new air conditioned sports shirts that come in handsome shades and colors as well as white, loud and not so noisy shorts, just about furnish everything with which to celebrate the day for dad.

Couplet.

Carl B. Roden of the Chicago public library read in this space about the Anglican priest of wide girth who had to have a belt made by a harness maker and relays the couplet somebody wrote, inspired by the sight of a convention of the Episcopal house of bishops:

Some looked Anglican, some looked Roman,

Missing Stripe.

Last Monday morning an American flag with only 12 stripes flew from a standard in a Wilmette school yard. That the public is more observant than you might think was indicated by the telephone calls that began coming in shortly after the flag was unfurled. The principal of the school, having gone out to see for himself that the flag had only 12 stripes, puzzled over the mystery and finally asked the janitor why a flag with a missing stripe was flying. The janitor was pleased to be asked. He found that the flag was frayed, so he trimmed it off and hemmed it, making it neat but not legal.

Make-Believe.

Early June, and no daisies in bloom. A summer advertising campaign undertaken by a Chicago agency that called for a photograph of two youthful sweethearts in a sun drenched daisy field has been delayed week after week because of rain and lack of daisy blossoms. The closing dates of the magazines in which the advertisments were to appear approached.

Impossible to make a realistic daisy field in a studio, said the photographic studio head engaged to make the picture. No fields of waving daisies anywhere, reported scouts to Wibb Smart, art director of the agency. Florists knew of no daisy fields in Illinois. Finally it was decided to build a daisy field to order, Hollywood style.

Thousands of tall, graceful daisies had their stems wired to four inch stakes, three blossoms to a stake. On Memorial day Mr. Smart and an ace photographer from the photographer's studio, together with two young models, took their boxes of pegged daisies and drove to Palos Park. They found a suitable field, stopped, and poked the daisies into the ground at regular intervals. Result, a daisy field in full bloom.

When the models posed the handsome boy gazed adoringly at the girl in the fluttering summer dress, the sun shone obligingly thru the clouds for a fleeting moment, and the photograph was made. The result will appear soon in the advertising pages of national publications. You never would dream that both the love and the daisy field are make-believe.

Yehudi Again.

No more Yehudigrams, we vowed. But let's just slip under the door Dorothy Laughlin's: Yehudi is the little man who turns off your car radio when you go under a viaduct.

And Bob Singer's: He's the guy who turns the water on when you bend over those new theater lobby fountains.

Bannockburn Garden Club Is Giving Dance Tonight

Because a dinner-dance and fashion show the Bannockburn Garden club gave last year was so successful, the club members decided to repeat the party. The gardens of the Bannockburn home of Mr. and Mrs. William Aitken again will be the setting for the party, which will be given to night. Mrs. Siebel C. Harris is the general chairman.

Looking at Hollywood

By Ed Sullivan

Helpful Hints to Ye Tourist.

Hollywood, Cal., June 21.—There are several score letters on this littered desk asking me to tell what points of interest there are out here for those of you who are planning a vacation trip west of the Rockies. . . . Well, let's see. . . . There's M.-G.-M. at Culver City, where at noon every day the keepers feed Clark Gable, Spencer Tracy, Mickey Rooney, Robert Taylor, and Jimmy Stewart. . . . There are the Warner mobsters, Cagney, Edward G. Robinson, and Humphrey Bogart, with Errol Flynn thrown in for good measure. . . . No foursome in the country has killed so many men without running afoul of the F. B. I. and J. Edgar Hoover. . . . There's Beverly Hills, with a glamor girl chicken in every pool and two cars in every garage. . . . There is a magnificent drive along the Pacific, Los Angeles to San Diego, or Los Angeles north to San Francisco, a panorama of ocean, oil wells, and orange groves. . . . There are the Brown Derbies, where the celebs lunch, and Ciro's, where they dine.

There's the mission of San Juan Capistrano, where the swallows return each year on the same day. . . . If you like to play golf you can have your choice of Bel-Air, Lakeside, Hillcrest, and Riviera clubs, and if you travel north you'll find Pebble Beach a golfer's paradise, 100 miles south of San Francisco on the Monterey peninsula. . . . There's the Goodyear blimp that waddles through the skies every day, with a guide to name the owners of the various swimming pools, . . . There's the Republic studio, where keepers feed Gene Autry daily at 3 p. m., with a bale of hay thrown in for his hoss. . . . There's Earl Carroll's club, with midget Bert Wheeler framed against a background of very gorgeous femmes. . . . There's the Rose bowl, where gridders fight it out for a mythical national championship. . . . There's the racing oval at Hollywood Park, and another at Santa Anita, where racing history has been made. . . . There's Hollywood boulevard, where Santa Claus rides each Christmas without ever leaving his footprint in the forecourt of Grauman's Chinese theater.

There's the University of Southern California, University of California [Los Angeles branch]. . . . There's the California alligator farm where alligators allegedly 500 years old ride the chute-the-chutes. . . . There is Signal hill, outside of Long Beach, where the oil derricks are clustered so closely that you fancy you are looking at a forest of tall masted ships. . . . There is Palo Verde, from which you get a breath-taking view of Catalina and its mountains, where wild goats frolic. . . . There's Catalina, where you can see the flying fishes play. In the daytime glass bottom boats ply over the submarine gardens that grow inshore, and thru sea windows you see fish of gold, silver, and blue darting in and out among the rocks, sea fern, and kelp.

There's Lookout mountain, which commands a breath-taking view of the valley. It was given its name in a day of bloodshed—Feb. 20, 1845—when the entire population of the pueblo of Los Angeles had fled to its heights and, kneeling with crosses in their hands, prayed all day for the success of their men fighting enemy forces in Cahuenga pass. . . . There's the Mexican plaza in which are Mexican curio shops and restaurants, motion picture theaters showing Spanish talkies, and the old Spanish Mission church, which is crowded every Sunday. . . . There's the Los Angeles ostrich farm. . . . There's Mount Wilson, which is over a mile high. . . . Day and night nine huge telescopes on Mount Wilson are busy probing the mysteries of the universe.

There's China city in the heart of downtown Los Angeles, where you can ride a riksha thru narrow, winding streets. It contains a theater where Chinese plays are presented in the traditional manner—but in English. There are a half dozen shrines in China city where deities promise to grant your every wish. Newlyweds and lovers can take the most ancient of Chinese vows, "everlasting love," as they stroll thru Peach Tree lane. . . . There's Gay's lion farm at El Monte, where lions are raised in large numbers to supply the demands of circuses, zoos, and amusement parks thruout the world. . . . There's the new Union station, built at a cost of 11 million dollars. The station has coin-in-the-slot shower baths for travelers, and telephone connections are installed at all tracks to plug into the trains and provide passengers with local and long distance communication. . . . There's Wrigley field, the home of the Angels of the Pacific Coast Baseball league. . . . There's Gilmore field, where ball games are played day and night. . . . There's the Church of Our Lady, the oldest religious edifice in Los Angeles, dedicated in 1822. Religious paintings made by the early padres adorn the walls.

There's the Griffith observatory and planetarium, known as a "theater of the heavens," where you can see how the other nine-tenths of the world lives. . . . There's Sycamore Grove, one of the most picturesque parks in the world, which takes its name from the sycamores that sprang up on the banks of a stream, assuming all sorts of fantastic shapes. . . . There's the old San Gabriel mission and mission play house, where formerly was staged "The Mission Play," by John Stephen McGroarty. The mission has an old grape vine which is over 150 years old.

There's Sunset boulevard, where the movie celebs go bicycling on the bridle path. . . . There's NBC and CBS. . . . And Prince Mike Romanoff. . . . There's Universal, where Deanna Durbin is fed. . . . There's Venice, the "Coney Island" of southern California. . . . There's the business section of Wilshire boulevard, known as the "Miracle Mile," whose shops are comparable to those of New York's 5th avenue. . . . There's the Casa de Adobe of the Southwest museum, which is a replica of a Spanish-California ranch house of a century ago, furnished in every detail to represent the home life of the period.

Sees Cultural Projects' Doom in Federal Aid

BY BETTY BROWNING.

Percy B. Eckhart, president of the Ravinia Festival association, yesterday warned several hundred musicians and music lovers that federal support would be "the kiss of death" for orchestras, museums and other cultural institutions now maintained by individual contributions. Mrs. Eckhart spoke at the White Breakfast of the Illinois Federation of Music clubs at the Woman's Athletic club.

Mrs. Royden J. Keith. [Du Bois Photo.]

A bill pending in congress to extend the social security act to include all institutions, Mr. Eckhart said, would mean the "destruction" of nonprofit corporations.

"We must choose between two alternatives," Mr. Eckhart averred. "Either our cultural institutions must be supported by taxation—and that means political control, sure poison to artistic endeavor. Or they may be saved by spreading out the base for support. Many new backers must replace the few large contributors of the past who no longer are available."

Dr. Frederick Stock, conductor of the Chicago Symphony orchestra, told the women that the orchestra's golden jubilee next season will be "a golden opportunity for us to get together." The federation, he suggested, might organize a choir to appear with the symphony, and he himself might compose a song for the occasion.

The veteran conductor recalled his friendship with Theodore Thomas, founder of the Chicago Symphony, and with Mrs. Thomas. It was in tribute to Mrs. Thomas, who organized the National Federation of Music clubs, that the breakfast was given.

Mrs. Royden J. Keith, the Illinois federation's new president, told the members that this White Breakfast is to be an annual event, and that similar parties are to be held in other federated states.

The Fate of the Darmenys

By Elizabeth York Miller

[Copyright: 1940: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

SYNOPSIS.

Knowing she has but a few minutes to live, Madge Darmeny gathers her family about her so she can select the most deserving heir, unbeknown to them. She is a childless widow, and Amelia Pennyfeather, a distant cousin, has been living with her for years. Her nearest kin is her own niece, Leda, and the next in line are Frank and Geoffry, nephews of her husband. Leda is married to Frank but in love with Geoffry. Eight year old Betsy is Frank's child by a former marriage and she and her stepmother dislike each other very much. Madge's secretary, Shirley Westall, is acting as governess for Betsy. On the pretense she has to retrench, Madge has her family come live with her on her large estate. She confides to her solicitor, Alfred Barnes, her plans. He tells her of Geoffry's latest scrape. He gave a bad check for a diamond bracelet. Madge has always overlooked Geoffry's debts and escapades because he has been able to get around her with his charming ways, but when Leda shows up with a diamond bracelet, saying a girl friend gave it to her, Madge becomes suspicious of both Geoffry and Leda. Shirley reminds Frank of his first wife and he begins to fall in love with her. Betsy tells her father that Geoffry gave Leda the bracelet. Frank trails Leda and Geoffry to a friend's apartment and finds them in the midst of a drunken party. He orders Leda home. She refuses, and Geoffry starts a fight, but Frank knocks him down and takes Leda home. Madge sees them come in and knows something is wrong. When Geoffry arrives later Madge lectures him and tells him he should settle down. She suggests that he marry Shirley and he, playing up to his aunt, agrees it will be a good thing to do. The next day he breaks a date with Leda and takes Shirley to the races. Leda persuades Frank to take her and Betsy to the races also. At the track Betsy publicly comments on Geoffry's neglect of Leda, whereupon, in a rage, Leda knocks the child down, causing concussion. Geoffry has become tired of Leda, is really trying to make Shirley fall for him, but in a rendezvous with Leda he tells her he is just pretending to Shirley in order to please his aunt. Amelia is eavesdropping on them at the time.

INSTALMENT XVIII.

DECLARATION OF LOVE.

Amelia reeled slightly and pressed a hand to her heart. Her face was a liverish saffron.

"You startled me so, Frank. I wonder if I'm going to faint? I feel so queer."

"I'm sorry, old girl."

"Could I take your arm? Would it be too much bother?"

"Why—certainly. Lean hard. Gosh, I didn't realize, Amelia."

"If you'd just see me out of the wood, I think I'd be all right."

Amelia allowed herself to recover, but slowly.

She didn't care a great deal what might have happened to Geoffry and Leda if Frank had discovered them there together, but it gave her a pleasurable sense of power over them to have averted the contretemps.

They would know that she knew; that it was she who had prevented Frank from discovering them.

They said nothing so long as Frank and Amelia's voices could be heard retreating into the distance.

Then Leda whispered: "Amelia must have followed me. She was listening. She heard every word we said."

Geoffry hated her for the mess she had got them both in, and his hatred boiled over.

"If you hadn't insisted on us meeting here! Now the fat's in the fire. You precious fool! All because you were jealous. Gad, I'm fed to the teeth with you."

"Geoffry—don't speak to me like that! I can't bear it."

"You can do what you like. I'm thru."

In his fury he forgot his fear of her, forgot that she had to be placated.

"Anyway, I'm not taking any more risks."

He turned and left her then, going, not toward the house, but down the path that would ultimately bring him out at the village. And at the stile leading into the main street of Crane's wood he met Shirley Westall.

Shirley had gone home to make some arrangements about leaving her father for the night and to collect a few things in a bag, and now she was hurrying back to Beechbourne Park.

"Poor Shirley!" he exclaimed. "What a disappointing day we've had. All our fun spoiled. Give me that bag, my dear. Now jump. I'll catch you!"

He held out his arms as she climbed the stile.

But Shirley did not jump, and she did not blush as she usually did so easily. She seemed distressed and preoccupied.

"Yes, it has been a dreadful day," she said, as she climbed down from the stile sedately. "I don't know who I feel sorrier for, Frank or Betsy . . . or Mrs. Darmeny," she added, as an afterthought.

"I don't think I'd waste much sympathy on Leda," Geoffry said. "If one could only hope it would be a lesson to her. She has the vilest temper of any woman I know."

Shirley threw him a slightly startled look.

"Need we hurry?" he asked. "It's not often I get you alone, Shirley."

He didn't care very much if Leda was somewhere within hearing distance, but he guessed that by this time she had returned to the house.

"I told Frank I wouldn't be long. Hilda's sitting with Betsy until I get back." Shirley replied.

"But I want to talk with you," Geoffry persisted.

She was trying to evade him, and he wouldn't stand for that. What had happened to change her? This morning when they set out so gayly for the races he could have sworn that Shirley liked him more than a little, and now she looked at him almost as tho he was a stranger.

Her softly parted lips, her slender, rounded figure; that look of puzzled bewilderment in her eyes. Everything about her was so enticing, yet at the same time aloof.

He dropped her bag and took possession of both her hands, all the more determined because she tugged away from him.

"Shirley, I've been wanting to tell you—you must have seen—you must know how madly I love you. Perhaps this is the wrong time to tell you——"

"Yes—yes, it is," she cried, with a little gasp. "O, please don't! Won't you let go of my hands?"

He did not release her hands, but she managed to keep at arm's length from him.

"Shirley, have you only been flirting with me?"

Now she did color up, and so sharply that her eyes smarted.

"I—I hope not," she murmured uncomfortably.

"Then what has changed you?"

"I didn't know I was changed."

"I thought I was safe in telling you I love you, and that I want to marry you. Aunt Madge would be delighted. I spoke to her last night about it, Shirley, and she's all ready to give us her blessing."

"I don't think you had a right to do that," Shirley said gravely.

She felt guilty, altho she hoped she had not wantonly led Geoffry Darmeny to think she was angling for him.

It hadn't been anything like that. His gallant attentions had made an impression on her, almost a serious impression; but she was quite sure she had not solicited them.

She remembered yesterday afternoon, which now seemed a hundred years away in point of time, when she had been allowing herself to dream a little with Geoffry as the central figure of her dream.

But something had happened today that changed all that.

Had it been the look on Frank Darmeny's face as he gathered Betsy into his arms after Leda struck the child, that had stabbed Shirley Westall anew with the consciousness that Frank was some one who mattered to her more than anybody else in the world?

It was as tho she had taken a great leap from the borders of childhood into this, her adult life, preserving intact her youthful adoration of Frank.

Her heart had ached for him with a pity that fairly overwhelmed her. And, thank God, there was something she could do for him!

That look on his face—the look of a man alone in the world, having no one with whom to share his crazed anxiety; a man who must be torn to ribbons between his love for Betsy and his loyalty—yes, and his love, too, for the woman who was his wife but not Betsy's mother.

Shirley had felt his unspoken gratitude to herself for the little she had done, and it made her feel solemn and immeasurably grateful.

For Geoffry Darmeny to force his lovemaking on her at this particular moment when her emotions were so deeply stirred and complexities were creeping in, was distasteful, to say the least.

Geoffry could not read Shirley's mind, but he knew he had done the wrong thing, and that was something very new in his experience.

He walked beside her, trying to figure it out, for while he had made little mocking allusions to the frequency of Frank's visits to the Westall cottage, he knew well enough about the old friendship between his cousin and Roger Westall. Moreover, it was incomprehensible to Geoffry that any girl could possibly prefer Frank to him. If he had met her first, he felt sure she would never have looked at Frank.

"Is there anybody else? Some bucolic lover, perchance, who has secretly engaged your young affections?"

"I have no lover—bucolic or otherwise," she replied.

"You needn't be so sharp about it, my darling!"

"It was an impertinent question, as you said. Really, I must hurry. Frank will wonder what has become of me."

She quickened her pace.

"Frank?" he queried, lengthening his stride to catch up to her. He had to get in another jealous gibe.

"If it's Frank, I'm afraid you haven't got much hope. There's Leda, you know."

Shirley turned on him, her eyes blazing.

"O, I hate you, Geoffry Darmeny—I hate you!" she cried.

Hinsdale Horse Show to Open This Morning

ters, Mrs. Norman Lee Cram and Mrs. T. MacPherson Thomas, and the bridegroom's sister-in-law, Mrs. David L. Maulsby; Mrs. John Mercer, Miss Jean Pettibone, and Miss Annette Cross of Kansas City, will be the bridesmaids.

Alan Maulsby will be his brother's best man, and ushering will be two other brothers, David and Saunders Lee Maulsby. William Kempton, John Raine, Frederick Baugh, Thomas Cook, Coleman Freeman, and Wentworth Boynton of Baltimore, and Mr. Cram and Mr. Thomas.

Mr. Maulsby and his bride will reside in Baltimore.

Farabaugh-Everett Service to Be in Church Rectory.

Miss Farabaugh and Mr. Everett will be married in the rectory of St. Joseph's church, in South Bend. The bride will wear her mother's wedding dress of satin and lace. Mrs. Clarence Manion of South Bend will be her only attendant.

Roger Q. White of Chicago will serve his brother-in-law as best man. Mr. and Mrs. White went to South Bend yesterday for the bridal dinner last night. Among the Chicagoans going down for the ceremony today are the Marshall G. Sampsells, the Gordon Louds, Mrs. Edward Rich, Marshall and Kenneth Rich, and the Theron Chapmans.

After a wedding trip to New York and Nantucket Mr. Everett and his bride will be at home in South Bend.

The Chauncey McCormicks have gone east for the marriage of Mr. McCormick's niece, Frances Fabyan, and Howland Davis of New York. The wedding is taking place today in Beverly Farms, Mass., where the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Marshal Fabyan, live. Mr. and Mrs. McCormick's son, Brooks, and Miss Hope Baldwin are to be married on June 26 in Bedford Hills, N. Y.

Parker Blair and his daughter, Miss Alice Blair, are in Dayton, O., for the marriage of the former's niece, Miss Anne Beau Cox, and Louis Johnson of Atlanta, Ga. Miss Blair will be a bridesmaid for her cousin, whose parents are former Gov. James M. Cox and Mrs. Cox of Dayton.

Chicagoans Go East for Elizabeth Cushing Wedding.

The Lester Armours, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald V. Hollins Jr., and the Clarence C. Prentices will be among the Chicagoans at the marriage in Cold Spring Harbor, N. Y., today of Miss Elizabeth McKay Cushing and J. Richardson Dilworth. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Cushing of Lloyd Neck, Huntington, N. Y. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dewees W. Dilworth of New York. Miss Cushing is a great-granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Robert McKay and a granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Albert W. Goodrich of Chicago.

Comfortable Summer Hats

WOMAN'S AND MISS' TURBANS.

One of the most comfortable hat styles for summer time is the turban. It's an economical fashion, too, since your dress material remnants may be employed, or you may purchase small parcels of contrasting fabric. Easy-to-make is an overstatement regarding these hats. They're done before you know it, and you need little sewing skill to create them. The illustration not only shows the three styles, but shows you how to wind them around the head. We've done everything except actually make the hats for you!

Style No. 2822 is designed for one headsize only, adaptable to any measurement. Wrapped version requires 1 yard of 39 inch material; twisted band, 1½ yards; crownless, ¾ yard.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

For 15 cents buy the summer Chicago Tribune book of Clotilde Fashions, on sale at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower; 10 cents if ordered with a pattern. Address mail orders to the New York address above.

[Copyright: 1940: By The Chicago Tribune.]

KITCHEN HINTS: Peel or slice onions in a bowlful of water or under running water, if you don't want to cry. . . . Sift flour for cakes back and forth between two squares of waxed paper. . . . Roll crumbs on waxed paper to save washing the cutting board.

Use a pair of scissors to cut chives, green onion tops, watercress, parsley, dates, raisins, marshmallows. . . . To obtain onion juice, cut the end from a large onion and scrape the surface of the vegetable with a spoon, holding it over a small bowl.

Keep a supply of soft paper on hand [you can buy it in rolls] for use in draining excess fat from bacon, French fries, doughnuts, and other fried foods.

Use a deodorant in the refrigerator. . . . Keep leftovers stored in the refrigerator covered. . . . Keep fresh meats in the coldest spot, which is usually that just under the freezing compartments. . . . Keep boxes of berries on an open shelf where air can circulate thru them. . . . Don't store bananas in the refrigerator. They don't like to be chilled [except, perhaps, just before going into a salad].

When you cook sauces and fillings, use a round bottomed double boiler and a wooden spoon. . . . No kitchen should be without a set of wooden spoons, or without a meat thermometer and a candy thermometer.

Buy oils for salad dressings and cooking in small quantities so that they won't have time to become rancid. . . . Be sure that butter is tightly covered when in the refrigerator, for it absorbs flavors from other foods readily. The same is true of cream and ice cream. If there's left-over ice cream, better cover it with waxed paper before restoring it in the freezing unit.

DON'T YOU BELIEVE IT!

It isn't true that salting a roast or a steak before cooking it will make it tough . . . or that pork is indigestible.

It isn't true that you must bring a steak to room temperature before cooking it. Put it in the broiler right out of the refrigerator if you like. 'Twill be just as tender. . . .

Penn Hall Alumnae Club Holds Luncheon Today

The annual luncheon of the Chicago Penn Hall Alumnæ club will be held today in the Crystal room of the Palmer House. Dr. Frank S. Magill, head of the college, has come from Chambersburg, Pa., to address the meeting. The committee in charge includes Miss Betty Kettlety, Miss Jean Prosser, Miss Marjorie Beebe, president of the alumnæ; Miss Virginia Clink, Miss Muriel Beach, and Miss Jane Ward.

* *

Polish Benefit Dance.

The Polish Medical and Dental societies will hold a summer formal dance at the Morrison hotel next Saturday night for the benefit of the Polish Ambulance fund. Dr. Joseph C. Ulis will be in charge.

Spinning Wheel Motif

BY ELLEN BRUCE.

The medallions which create this spinning wheel design for a tablecloth are made separately and are grand "pick-up" work. They are so quickly crocheted that you will soon have enough to complete the cloth, which will be an everlasting pleasure to possess. It is an ideal gift for the bride or bride-to-be.

For instructions in crocheting the spinning wheel design for a tablecloth, No. X-325, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

Chicago Opera Chorus Heard for First Time

BY EDWARD BARRY.

The Chicago Opera company's new chorus, which was assembled earlier this year and is now in the midst of a long series of grueling rehearsals, made its first public appearance last night at the World playhouse. An excerpt from the first act of Verdi's "Otello" and the "Anvil Chorus" from the same composer's "Il Trovatore" were presented as a prelude to the 8 o'clock showing of the motion picture, "The Life of Giuseppe Verdi." Kurt Adler conducted and Alexander Aster played piano accompaniments.

The new chorus turned out to be an encouraging sample of the good things an aggressive management is preparing for next autumn's six week opera season. These fresh sounding, well rehearsed young men and women sang with a tremendous rhythmic verve and with a remarkable feeling for the dramatic aspects of the music. Another noteworthy feature of their work was the skill with which dynamic effects—even those of the subtler sort—were handled.

At the Sherwood Music school's 45th annual commencement, which was held last night in Orchestra hall, the honorary degree of doctor of music was conferred upon the distinguished American pianist, Guy Maier. Some 65 students received degrees, diplomas, and certificates.

The musical part of the evening consisted of a concert given by the Sherwood Symphony orchestra, P. Marinus Paulsen, conductor, and the following soloists: Miriam Hall, Robert Kline, Frances Stevenson, and Wade Parks, pianists; Evelyn Wildman, violinist; Margaret Jirasek, Beverly Watts, and James King, vocalists.

Supervise the Swimming of Your Children

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1940: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

The surf is rough where we vacation in summer, and altho those who belong there may deny it, I think there is often a decided undertow. In any case, with the beach changing so from year to year and dropping off sharply in some places, there is a strong pull after a big wave breaks. In spite of this, I see 6 and 7 year olds throw themselves into the surf in that excited delight and exhilaration which rough, cold water produces, with their parents seated up on the beach, in view of them, but too far away to help them in an emergency, even if they were experienced enough to do a lifesaving job.

There's an outdoor pool that I know very well, very shallow at one end. Many of the 3 and 4 and 5 year olds are permitted to paddle around in it with their inflated tubes or waterwings on, unaccompanied by any responsible older person. There have been two or three nearly fatal accidents there.

Not far from a place I often go to in the country, a little girl was found drowned in a brook, in only a few feet of water, less than her depth.

Swimming being one of the few sports I indulge in, I am always interested in reading articles on the subject. In an article, a famous swimmer, teacher and coach warned against taking unnecessary chances or doing foolhardy things in the water. He said, in effect: "The more I am in the water, the more wholesome is the respect I have for it." He warned against long swims away from the shore. He warned against long swims without an accompanying boat. He warned against swims so long that they exhausted the swimmer.

Take to heart those warnings from an expert in supervising the swimming of your daring teen age children this summer. I have been at ocean beaches many summers where still young figures lay tragically under the boardwalk after all efforts at resuscitation had failed.

June 15, 1940.

Universal day—A strong day for those wise enough to use the opportunities it brings. Others take it discreetly.

Year ahead—Things should be shaping up for you now to bring in greater returns than you have had for some time. Extra dividends in the way of appreciation, promotion, wider contacts, and financial increases should be coming your way this year if this is your birthday.

Names—Ann is likely to be a very highly individualized person. The Anns are leaders with a strong pioneer instinct to blaze out new trails. Anne, with the "e" added to the name, gives distinction and independence with the same urge to lead. Both have a desire to investigate and be original. They are likely to have a changeable, exciting, and unpredictable life.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1940: By Ely Culbertson.]

Aside from sound knowledge of technique, an expert's greatest weapon is his ability to form accurate mental pictures of the opponents' hands, sometimes from their bidding alone, at other times from their bidding plus one or two plays.

Today's hand is a good illustration of this point. By avoiding two pitfalls, either of which would trap the unwary, declarer succeeded in fulfilling a small slam contract.

South, dealer.

♦ 10 6 5 2

SOUTH
♠ A K Q 7 6 3 2
♦ A Q
♣ None

The bidding:

| South | West | North | East |
|---|---|---|---|
| 2 spades | 4 hearts | Pass | Pass |
| 4 spades | Pass | 5 spades | Pass |
| 6 spades | Pass | Pass | Pass |

North's raise to five-odd, based on nothing but his singleton heart and three trumps, was, to put it mildly, rather optimistic.

West opened the queen of clubs and East overtook with the king. As the declarer ruffed, he gave serious thought to the significance of that first trick. East's overtake had indisputably shown that he held the ace-king, since certainly West would not have opened the queen from an ace-queen combination. That being the case, it looked dark for the success of the diamond finesse. Not only was West marked with the diamond king to compensate his heart bid that lacked both the ace and queen, but he must have great length in hearts as well.

Declarer actually felt that there was grave danger of the first heart lead being ruffed by East: In other words, that West had an eight card heart suit, but if that were true there was simply nothing to be done about it. The lead of the heart ace, therefore, had to be risked, but after East followed suit declarer did not make the mistake of pressing his luck. He ruffed a second heart with the ten of spades, entered his hand by ruffing a club, ruffed a third heart with the jack of spades, and then ran off every trump.

West could see what was coming, but there was no way for him to avoid the trap. Declarer finally held only three cards, a heart and the ace-queen of diamonds. West had the high heart and the king-jack of diamonds. Now all declarer had to do was lead the heart and scoop up the last two and fulfilling tricks when West was forced to lead a diamond up to the major tenace.

Are you hunting for some ready-made draperies that are handsome and that are neutral enough in tone to work into your color scheme? We can tell you of some that are most artistic and that because of their beige color will harmonize with any room's furnishings. They are of a cotton damask and have a scroll design in white, slightly raised. They are lined and they measure 2½ yards by 48 inches. They look much more expensive than they really are. These same draperies come in a light, soft blue with a white leaf pattern and in a deep wine tone.

BEES WIN, 4-2; CHICAGO GETS ONLY FOUR HITS

Errickson Turns In Masterpiece.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Boston, Mass., June 14.—The busy but seemingly futile Bees, who have made seven 1940 contributions to the Cubs' victory column, proved today that their generosity is not without limit. Instead of continuing in their rôle of charity workers, they turned on the Chicagoans and sent the latter sprawling into an ignominious four hit defeat. The score was 4 to 2. The loss was the Cubs' third trimming in succession since their seven straight triumphs and gave Gabby Hartnett's batswingers an unenviable mark of 13 safeties in their last three games.

The blackout of the Cubs was due to the presence of Richard Merriwell Errickson, who, had he been flawlessly assisted by his helpers, might have fabricated a shutout as well as a three hitter. The first run against Errickson was hung up mainly because of a flurry on the part of Eddie Miller at short. The other was a brazen presentation in the eighth, when six Cubs batted, but not one produced a base hit.

Olsen Has Unhappy Day.

Vern Olsen, the Cubs' freshman southpaw, didn't do very well, considering that the Bees are not especially talented as hitters. In the first two innings he yielded three hits, not to mention a trio of passes. This batch of run producing ingredients, however, brewed only two tallies. After his wabbly start he settled down for a time, but in the sixth and seventh was jostled again, whereupon Boss Hartnett removed him for a pinch hitter. Charley Root handled the one remaining home inning, and even he had trouble in the shape of a pair of hits.

Olsen, who now has lost four against three victories, received half of his punishment from the same man—Buddy Hassett. The ex-Dodger threw a single into a first inning run, and drove in the second in the next inning with another single. He singled again in the fifth, when Olsen experienced a close call, and in the sixth doubled for his fourth hit, driving in the third Bee tally. Hassett had no part of the seventh inning activity, but in the eighth Root finally stopped him on a pop foul to Cavarretta.

More Luck Than Skill.

Olsen's first inning pitching wasn't exactly baffling, so his escape with nothing worse than one run proved more a matter of luck than skill. Hassett opened with a single, which was knocked down behind second by Herman. He scored on Sisti's triple to right center. Moore then looked at a third strike. Ross was purposely passed and when he tried to skip down to second on a short passed ball he was nipped by Collins' quick recovery. West also walked, making the fourth Bee to reach base. Rowell bounced to Hack, ending the inning.

The widely advertised Miller was kind to the Cubs and the official scorer was kind to Miller in the second. After Nicholson had lofted to Ross in left, Herman singled to center for the Cubs' first hit. Dallessandro slapped a sharp bounder directly at Miller, who was in such a hurry to launch a double play that he overlooked the necessity of capturing the ball. The scorer ruled it a hit, Herman taking third. Herman scored the tying run on Collins' infield out. Then Miller fumbled Mattick's grounder and Dallessandro tried to score from second, but the ball arrived first.

Luck Fails Olsen.

Whereas Olsen was a bit lucky in the first inning, he didn't have the same guidance in the home second when the Bees again went ahead by one run. For a starter Olsen walked Masi and Miller rolled to short, but Mattick let the ball trickle thru his hands, Masi taking third. Masi went out trying to score on Errickson's poke to Herman, Miller going to third. Hassett singled to right and

RED SOX BUNCH HITS TO WIN 1ST '40 NIGHT GAME

Foxx Again Pesters South Siders.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The gleaming lights of Comiskey park last night brightened the pennant chances of the league leading Boston Red Sox by one more victory as 40,104 fans looked on. The lads from the land of the cod fashioned themselves a 5 to 1 victory over the White Sox behind the highly adequate pitching of Denny Galehouse, a gent who was unable to withstand the thumping of White Sox bats in his home park on June 2.

Few of the Red Sox hits were of the whistling variety in which Joe Cronin's boys specialize as the league leading hitters, but all but one of their runs were earned. The Sox made only one run, that coming in the fifth inning on a double by Eric McNair and the second of Mike Tresh's three singles.

Rigney Pretty Good, Too.

The huge crowd that attended Chicago's first major league night game of 1940, seemed to have a good time, tho the folks waited in vain for some such heroics as marked the White Sox's first night game of the season in Philadelphia Tuesday night. That was the one in which Julius Solters knocked a pinch homer with two out in the ninth for two runs and victory.

Johnny Rigney, eager to duplicate his nocturnal success over the Red Sox, a 3 to 1 victory on Aug. 24 last year, in which he struck out Jimmy Foxx four times, wasn't around at the finish. He turned in a good job, and might have made it closer with a little more luck in the first scoring inning, the Boston fourth.

John struck out the last batsman in the second, third, fourth, and fifth innings. But strikeouts aren't everything, as proved by Galehouse, who didn't fan anybody. Rigney was wilder than he had been in recent games. He walked four, including one which forced in the second run of the game. All the passes came in scoring innings. It was Rigney's seventh defeat of the season and broke his personal winning streak of three straight.

Sox Miss Two Chances.

The first three innings were scoreless, but the White Sox outhit the Red Sox, two to one. Both sides went out in order in the first inning, but Foxx opened the second with a single and was forced by Williams. Cronin flied to Wright and Tabor fanned. In the Chicago second, Rosenthal doubled with two down, but McNair popped to Doerr.

The Red Sox went out in order in the third, but Tresh led off the Chicago half with a single. Mike moved up on Rigney's sacrifice, went to third on Kennedy's fly to Finney and died on third as Doerr threw out Kuhel.

The scoring began in the Boston fourth. Cramer dumped one in front of Kreevich and Finney caromed a single off Rigney's foot. Foxx beat out a hit in front of the plate, loading the bases. Williams then banged a 420 footer to the wall in right center and it took a great play by Kreevich to grab the ball. Cramer scored after the fine catch and the other runners moved up. Cronin popped to Kuhel, then Tabor was given an intentional pass, loading the bases. Desautels walked, after a three and two count, forcing Finney across the plate. Galehouse struck out.

White Sox Finally Score.

Wright singled with one out in the home fourth, but Appling hit into a double play, Doerr to Cronin to Foxx.

After Doerr had grounded out at the start of the fifth Cramer singled against the bag at second and went to second on Finney's single to cen-

YANKEES BATTER BROWNS' HURLERS FOR 12-3 VICTORY

Champions Pound Out 17 Hits.

St. Louis, Mo., June 14 (AP).—The New York Yankees pummeled four pitchers for 17 hits and a 12 to 3 victory over the St. Louis Browns before 17,970 here tonight. Charley Keller hit two homers for the Yankees.

Monte Pearson scattered the Browns' hits in all except one inning in hanging up his sixth triumph. The Browns bunched four hits for two runs in the fifth and counted another on a pinch single in the seventh.

The Yankees counted four runs on five hits, including Keller's second homer with Red Rolfe on base in the fifth, and tallied five more on five hits in the sixth. Keller's first homer gave New York a run in the first. Score:

MISS WOLFENDEN, MARY HARDWICK ENTER NET FINAL

St. Louis, Mo., June 14 (AP).—Virginia Wolfenden of San Francisco, the nation's fifth ranking woman player, and Mary Ruth Hardwick, England's Wightman cup star, will play for the women's singles championship of the Triple A tennis tournament tomorrow.

Miss Wolfenden entered the finals of the Triple A meet by defeating Mary Arnold, Los Angeles, 6-4, 6-1. Miss Hardwick beat Pat Canning of Alameda, Cal., 8-6, 6-0.

In the men's quarter-final singles, two of the four top seeded players were eliminated. Wilbur Coen Jr. of Kansas City, Mo., lost to Ed Alloo of Berkeley, Cal., 6-2, 6-4, and Henry Prusoff of Seattle, Wash., became ill last night and was advised by a physician not to continue.

Frankie Parker of Pasadena, Cal., defending champion, extended in eliminating Bob Harmon, University of California, 7-5, 7-5, and Frank Kovacs of Oakland, Cal., brushed aside Frank Thompson of St. Louis, 6-1, 6-3.

Misses Berg, Jameson Gain St. Louis Final

St. Louis, Mo., June 14 (AP).—Under pressure all the way, Patty Berg bore down at the finish today to gain a spectacular 1 up victory in 20 holes over Mrs. Russell Mann of Milwaukee in the semi-finals of the trans-Mississippi tournament.

The Minneapolis girl, who is seeking her third straight title, will meet Betty Jameson of San Antonio, Tex., women's national champion, tomorrow in the 36 hole finals over the rolling Glen Echo course. Patty has defeated Miss Jameson twice in three previous tournaments.

Wins Last Three Holes.

Mrs. Mann, medalist in the 1934 national, had Patty 3 down and 3 to go when the little champion pulled herself together and whizzed thru the next three holes with two birdies and a par to square the match on the home green.

They halved 19 with par 4s. On the second extra hole both were in the edge of the rough with their shots. Mrs. Mann scuffed her third shot and it took her four to reach the green, while Patty was on, 10 feet from the cup, with her third. Both two-putted, giving Patty the hard-earned decision.

Prep Star Is Beaten.

The Berg-Mann match overshadowed another exhibition of fast finishing by Miss Jameson, who disposed of Phyllis Otto, 15 year old Atlantic, Ia., youngster, 5 and 4, after they had rounded the eighth hole all even.

Betty squeezed out the ninth with a par 3, halved No. 10 with a birdie 4, then breezed in a pair of birdies along with two pars to finish the Iowa high school champion.

PICARD-REVOLTA TAKE BIG LEAD IN INVERNESS GOLF

Toledo, O., June 14 (AP).—Henry Picard and Johnny Revolta hopped far ahead of the field in the second round of the sixth annual Inverness $6,400 four ball matches today as they ripped 10 strokes off par to beat Walter Hagen and Byron Nelson, 7 up. The best ball 61 gave Picard and Revolta a seven point edge over the field with two of the seven sets of matches completed.

Results of the second round, with the best ball scores and the standings of the eight teams:

Sam Snead and Ralph Guldahl, 34—32—66, plus 4, defeated Gene Sarazen and Clayton Heafner, 33—34—67, minus 3, two up.

Jug McSpaden and Lawson Little, 31—32—63, plus 4, defeated Horton Smith and Jimmy Thomson, 33—37—70, minus 4, seven up.

Pirates Give Up Berres and Cash to Get Al Lopez

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Boston, Mass., June 14.—After weeks of sparring with various offers for members of the Boston Bees, Bob Quinn, club president, announced late this afternoon that the Pittsburgh Pirates' bid for the veteran Catcher Al Lopez had been accepted. In return for the services of Lopez the Boston club received an unrevealed sum of cash, possibly $25,000, and Catcher Ray Berres.

The Pirates have been searching the league since last year for a backstop. Among the players sought was Arnold Owen of the Cardinals. The Pirates' prospects for landing Owen went glimmering two days ago when the St. Louis club fortified itself financially by the trade for cash and four players of Outfielder Joe Medwick and Pitcher Curt Davis to the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The Bees' president, however, furnished no clew to impending trades except that he hasn't received word from the Chicago Cubs who, according to rumors, are seeking Shortstop Eddie Miller. The Cubs, newspaper reports have stated, bid $100,000 for the infielder. Quinn, however, denies such an overture.

Bill Dietrich to Pitch Today Against Hash

Bill Dietrich, who has won three games and lost none—his first victory was over the Red Sox—will pitch for the White Sox this afternoon. Herbert H. Hash, holder of two victories over the White Sox, will be the Red Sox caster.

The weatherman qualified as a great guy. Thursday night it was 52 degrees; last night at game time the press box thermometer registered 76 degrees.

They haven't been showing Umpire Bill Summers' name on the Comiskey park scoreboard since he was beaned with a pop bottle two years ago. Last night, however, Bill was umpire in chief.

Pregame ceremonies were impressive. The theme was patriotic and the flag was raised by special arrangement, despite the after-retreat time of the ceremonies.

Crowds at night games in Chicago, of which last night's was the 11th, are becoming famous for high spirits without rowdyism or disorder of any kind. There were 20,000 in the stands at 7:30 o'clock and the noisy good time seemed constant from then on.

The crowd roared the famous "Come on, Luke" when Appling made his first appearance at the plate. Many visitors, not familiar with the battle cry, were shocked because they thought the slugging hero was being booed, the pronunciation of "Luke" giving the general effect of a boo.

The crowd gave Joe Cronin the bird when he came up the first time. All in the spirit of fun. The fans here always have admired the personable Boston boss.

The Comiskey park playing field all season has been in the best shape of any acreage in the American league, but never looked quite so pretty in the day time as it did last night.

The Red Sox and the White Sox will wind up their series tomorrow with the season's first Comiskey park double header. Monday will be an off day, then in come the Yanks for three single games on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Mucho Gusto Is Favored in Feature Today

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Lincoln Fields will send out its stake horses in today's $5,000 La Salle handicap for a longer gallop than any they have undertaken hitherto in the meeting. The distance of a mile and three-sixteenths has eliminated those which have established themselves strictly as sprinters, leaving nine to go to the post in a race which will point them up for next Saturday's Lincoln handicap at a mile and a quarter.

Mucho Gusto, Yale O'Nine, Manie O'Hara, Chi, Shot Put, Inscoelda, Gray Jack, Chance Ray, and Day Dodger are included in the overnight entries. By virtue of his victory in the Francis S. Peabody Memorial handicap earlier in the meeting, Mucho Gusto is sure to get considerable backing. The running strip, which has been drenched repeatedly, will be soft enough to suit the legs of this 8 year old veteran, who was foaled in a race track barn and has been a trouper ever since.

Has to be Careful.

Followers of the Lincoln Fields races are wondering whether old Mucho Gusto has another winning effort in him just at present. When Kirby Ramsey, owner and trainer, gets him fit to run, he has to be mighty careful lest the horse show signs of getting sore and requiring another rest.

Mucho Gusto has been taking things easy since his stake victory on Memorial day. On that occasion he led from start to finish of the 1 1-16 miles gallop and had no difficulty at all in defeating four of those which will match speed with him today. These four were Shot Put, Gray Jack, Inscoelda, and Manie O'Hara, which came in second, third, fourth, and sixth respectively.

Trainer Howard Wells will saddle two horses which he has brought on well in the last few weeks. These are Tom Taggart's Yale O'Nine and R. W. McIlvain's Chi.

Yale O'Nine Hits Stride.

Yale O'Nine was well regarded at the end of his juvenile campaign, but he let his handlers down badly last season, never winning a race. Since coming to Lincoln Fields, however, he has shown signs of hitting his stride at last. In the Steger handicap on June 1, he closed with excellent speed to catch Joe Schenck at the eighth pole, but his charge to the front left him just a bit too weary to stand a hard drive the rest of the way home and he weakened so finish second by a length. Last Saturday, however, he showed even greater improvement, winning handily in a 7 furlong allowance event for his first victory since 1938. Among his victims were Shot Put and Manie O'Hara.

Time, 1:06 4-5. Weather, partly cloudy; track, heavy. Two dollar mutuels paid: Easy Flying, $5.80 straight, $3.40 place, $2.20 show; Squaw Jane, $4.00 place, $2.40 show; I Bid, $2.20 show. Winner trained by Cecil Locklear. Went to post at 2:05½. At post 1 minute. Start good, from gate. Won easily, place driving.

EASY FLYING, prominent from the start and steadied along to the stretch, moved into command when put to pressure, drew clear rapidly and won with something to spare. SQUAW JANE took command at once, established a clear lead rapidly, was under strong handling when tiring, failed to hold the winner but withstood I BID. Latter worked his way forward steadily and closed strongly. MR. MAIS passed tiring horses in the drive. BUDDY GREENOCK was outrun. ENQUIRE had speed.

SECOND RACE—Six furlongs. Three year olds. Claiming. Purse $800. Net value to winner, $600; second, $125; third, $50.

Time, 1:20. Two dollar mutuels paid: Smuggled In, $8.20 straight, $3.80 place, $3.40 show; Cossack Girl, $4.00 place, $3.80 show; Miss Shirley C., $6.80 show. Winner trained by F. Barton. Went to post at once. Start good, from gate. Won driving, place same.

SMUGGLED IN, slow to reach his best stride, improved his position steadily, drew clear after subduing ETERNAL WAVE, but weakened in the last stages and was under strong pressure to withstand COSSACK GIRL. The latter improved her position rapidly after a quarter mile and was wearing down the winner. MISS SHIRLEY C. well up from the start, dropped back approaching the stretch and came again in the drive. ETERNAL WAVE rushed to the front, drew clear after a quarter, established a big lead rapidly and stopped badly after five-eighths. GETABOUT had early speed.

THIRD RACE—Six furlongs. Three year olds. Claiming. Purse $800. Net value to winner, $600; second, $125; third, $50; fourth, $25.

Time, 1:22. Two dollar mutuels paid: Peter Pumpkin, $6.40 straight, $4.00 place, $2.80 show; Sign Up, $5.20 place, $3.40 show; Calculator, $3.00 show. Winner trained by R. Miskell. Went to post at 3:05. At post half minute. Start good, from gate. Won driving, place same.

PETER PUMPKIN, under good reserve while following the early pace, took command with a rush on the stretch turn and, after shaking off CALCULATOR, withstood SIGN UP. Latter worked her way up from a slow beginning, came to the inside in the drive and finished courageously. CALCULATOR forced the early pace, offered a strong bid entering the stretch then weakened. GOOD SERVANT raced evenly. GAMING was thru after three-eighths.

FOURTH RACE—Six furlongs. Three year olds and up. Claiming. Purse $800. Net value to winner, $600; second, $125; third, $50; fourth, $25.

Time, 1:20 4-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Employer, $4.40 straight, $3.40 place, $3.00 show; Jay Heart, $4.00 place, $3.20 show; Onyourway, $5.00 show. Winner trained by S. Ott. Went to post at 3:31½. At post 1 minute. Start good, from gate. Won easily, place driving.

EMPLOYER took command at once, increased his advantage gradually and drew away in the drive to win easily. JAY HEART lacked early speed, was taken to the outside after straightening out in the stretch and finished gamely. ONYOURWAY had speed, dropped back on the turn, then finished well when put to good pressure. MELVA JANE tired after offering a mild challenge on the turn. VIVIANNA had no mishaps. PATS EYE tired.

FIFTH RACE—One mile. Maiden. Three and four year olds. Claiming. Purse $800. Net value to winner, $600; second, $125; third, $50; fourth, $25.

Time, 1:50 3-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Bettys Bob, $10.00 straight, $5.40 place, $4.20 show; Residue, $27.80 place, $12.80 show; Easy Street, $6.20 show. Winner trained by G. Mangan. Went to post at 4:00. At post half minute. Start good, from gate. Won driving, place same.

BETTYS BOB, rushed to the front, drew clear under energetic handling, was put to hard pressure while racing on the inside, and challenged repeatedly and again drew clear near the finish. RESIDUE worked his way forward steadily, was sent to the inside for the drive and closed resolutely. EASY STREET, strong factor thruout, tired. FORMAL DRESS stgadied along early, dropped back approaching the stretch, cams again in the drive and tired in the last stages. LADY JEAN ran in spots. PINNACLE LIGHT appeared not to favor the track. SMALL SON had speed.

Joe Medwick Drives In One of Brooklyn's Runs.

Brooklyn, N. Y., June 14 (AP).—Inspired by the prospect of a National league pennant, the Dodgers performed like heroes today to conquer Cincinnati's Champion Reds, 2 to 0, behind the two hit pitching of Luke Hamlin.

The debut of slugging Joe Medwick as a Dodger and the natural lustre of a clash between the leading rivals for the flag brought out a typically noisy Brooklyn crowd of 27,998 fans, 10,241 of whom were ladies day guests.

Medwick covered an amazing amount of territory in making six putouts in left field and batted in one of the Dodgers' two runs. This performance was more than satisfactory to the spectators.

86 Yachts Sail Today in Race to Michigan City

Eighty-six sailing yachts, the largest number on record, will start from the outer Chicago harbor breakwater this morning for Michigan City, Ind., in the Columbia Yacht club's 49th annual cross-lake race.

The entries represent 12 clubs—the Jackson Park, Chicago, Chicago Corinthian, Lake Shore, Burnham Park, and Columbia, all of Chicago; the Michigan City Yacht club; the Racine, Kenosha, Milwaukee, and South Shore, of Wisconsin; and the Macatawa Yacht club, Black Lake, Mich.

The fleet will be convoyed by the 125 foot coast guard patrol boat, Colfax, under command of Chief Boatswain C. M. Fedderson. The ship will mark the south end of the starting line, where Race Committee Chairman R. F. Hatfield will start the yachts at 9:30 a. m. The course is 32 nautical miles.

CRUISING DIVISION.

MOON MULLINS—CHICKEN HEARTED

BIG 9½ HOPEFUL OF TAKING SEVEN TITLES MONDAY

BY WILFRID SMITH.

The Western conference may not fare as badly as comparative results would seem to indicate in the dual meet with the Pacific Coast conference track athletes. The Big 9½ seems fairly certain of winning four individual championships Monday evening in Dyche stadium and has not conceded victory in two or three other events.

The meet, which is the fourth between the nation's leading collegiate associations, will start at 7 o'clock, daylight saving time, Monday evening. Children will be admittted for 25 cents. General admission tickets are $1 and reserved seat tickets, $1.50, tax included.

The Western conference is almost a prohibitive favorite in the discus throw. Archie Harris of Indiana, who set a Big 9½ record last month of 166 feet 5¾ inches, should beat Stan Andersen of Stanford. Wisconsin's Ed Smith is favored to win the 120 yard high hurdle event.

Schwarzkopf a Favorite.

If Indiana's Roy Cochran runs the low hurdles, and if he is in condition, the Big 9½ might mark up another championship. Capt. Ralph Schwarzkopf of Michigan is a favorite in the two mile run, provided, of course, he has completely recovered from his throat infection. Schwarzpof should be ready. Monday's meet will serve as final preparation for his effort in the National collegiate two mile a week from today in Minneapolis.

It is too much to believe that the Western conference will take both the low hurdles and the two miles, but with Ed Buxton of Wisconsin, Big 9½ champion, and possibly Campbell Kane of Indiana, available for the half mile, the Western conference should gain a fourth individual title.

Mile Relay Is Coast's.

Stanford's record breaking mile relay team, plus Lee Orr of Washington State, premier quarter miler on the Pacific Coast conference team, indicate that the Big 9½ will have no chance to win this event. The Western conference never has taken a relay from the westerners.

The Western conference will take a beating, however, in the field events.

Lane Will Face Calumet Today for Prep Title

Lane Technical High school's baseball team will step into a familiar rôle this afternoon. The North Siders will seek their 11th championship in the 25 year history of the Public School league against Calumet, south division contender, in Wrigley field. The game will start at 2 o'clock.

With the exception of last year when they were upset by Steinmetz, 5 to 2, the North Siders have always managed to win the title on the performance of one of their star pitchers.

Attempting to place his name beside Lane Tech's heroes of other years, including Phil Cavarretta, Ed Linke, Orville Jorgens, and Bob Weiland, will be a 6 foot southpaw, Herb Chmiel.

Chmiel, 18 years old, who is spending his third season on the team, led Lane Tech to the north zone championship and last Tuesday displayed his artistry against Fenger, south division title holder, 6 to 0, in the semi-finals. Chmiel held Fenger to three hits. In addition, the tall pitcher pounded out two doubles.

Calumet's hopes for its first championship will depend upon Wally Soderlind, right handed pitcher. Soderlind, 17 years old, has scored 13 consecutive triumphs. His most recent victim was Steinmetz, 4 to 2, in the semi-finals. The 1939 champions were limited to three hits.

The probable lineups:

| CALUMET. | LANE. |

MacQuinn to Compete in Midget Races Tonight

Harry MacQuinn of Indianapolis, who finished in the money in the 500 mile Memorial day race, will return to competition in the midget auto races tonight in Raceway park, 129th street and Ashland avenue, as one of the 45 contestants on the eight event program.

Old Pastimers Will Hold Outing Wednesday Night

The Old Pastimers association, composed of former Chicago athletes, will hold their annual outing Wednesday night in Mills stadium, 4700 West Lake street. It originally was scheduled to be held last Wednesday, but was postponed because of rain.

Cubs Held to 4 Hits; Bees Triumph, 4-2

Miller sauntered home. Olsen had no trouble shaking off the next two men; in fact, he didn't allow another hit until the fifth when a single and two passes created a full house. He got around this without damage.

The kid southpaw had two Bees retired in the sixth before being assessed for the third run. Errickson singled to left and made a nonstop trip from first to the plate on Hassett's double to left center. A similar combination of hits sent another Bee winging across the plate. Ross, who had been walked twice because of the homer he hit recently in Chicago, dropped a double among Herman, Nicholson, and Cavarretta in short right. West fanned, but Rowell singled to center and Ross sprinted home.

Cubs Score in Eighth.

The eighth, in which the Cubs scored a run without improving their batting averages, opened with a pass to Galan, who swung for Olsen. Hack popped to Hassett. Cavarretta grounded to Sisti, whose throw to second was too late to force Galan. After Gleeson had forced Cavarretta Nicholson grounded to Rowell. This should have been the end of the inning, but Rowell fumbled, Galan scoring. Herman fouled to Sisti for the third out.

40,104 SEE SOX LOSE AT NIGHT TO BOSTON, 5-1

ter. Foxx was given an intentional pass, filling the bases. Williams sent a long fly to Wright, Cramer scoring and Finney taking third. Cronin was called out on strikes.

Foxx Robs Kuhel.

Foxx robbed Kuhel of a hit at the start of the Chicago sixth, but Kreevich singled to right. Wright forced Kreevich, Doerr to Cronin. Appling lined to Finney.

After Appling had thrown out Cramer and Finney in the seventh Foxx made his third hit and Williams drew Rigney's fourth pass. Cronin grounded to Kennedy, who threw high over McNair's head into right field in an attempt to force Williams. Foxx trotted home on the error, but Williams was out at the plate, Wright to McNair to Tresh.

With two out in the home seventh Tresh knocked his third straight single to center. Silvestri batted for Rigney and popped to Tabor.

Appleton took over the pitching assignment at the start of the eighth. Kennedy threw out Tabor, but Desautels was hit by a pitched ball, his third straight trip to first without hitting the ball. Galehouse executed his second sacrifice, then Doerr tripled over Kreevich's head, scoring Desautels. Cramer flied to Kreevich.

Indians Win, 8 to 0, as A's Get Two Hits

Cleveland, O., June 14 (AP).—Only five outs separated Johnny Allen from a no hit pitching triumph today. Sam Chapman spoiled that dream with a single over Shortstop Lou Boudreau's head, but Allen turned in a two hit, 8 to 0 shutout for Cleveland in the opener of the four game series with Philadelphia. Allen opened by walking Benny McCoy, then retired 22 batters in order. Score:

11th Hinsdale Horse Show to Open Today

Topping all previous records for entries, with a total of approximately 600, the 11th annual Hinsdale Horse show will open this morning on the Oak Brook Polo club field at York road and 29th street. Starting times today and tomorrow are 9 a. m. and 1:30 p. m. More than 200 horses are entered in the show, some of them in three to five events.

Of the 37 classes of competition listed, 15 carry cash awards for place winners. Championships are to be settled in the three-gaited, five-gaited, hunter, jumper, and Town and Country Equestrian association classes.

Wisconsin Horses Entered.

Horses from Illinois and Wisconsin will vie for awards, the Badger state being represented by Mrs. Alfred Kiekhefer and Capt. Atwood C. Elliott of Milwaukee, and R. A. Ochs of Elm Grove.

Four judges share the assignment of picking place winners. They are N. K. Carnes of St. Paul, Minn.; William H. Henderson of Eatontown, N. J.; Maj. Henry Leonard of Washington, D. C., and Harry B. Thornton of Bradfordsville, Ky.

H. Leslie Atlass leads all exhibitors in number of horses with seven, all in the saddle classes. His High Tide is considered the horse to beat in the five-gaited event. John H. Connors with six and Denison B. Hull with five hunters and jumpers are strongest numerically in these events. Connors will rely heavily on Jay Don, while Hull has Ironic and Frosty Morning entered.

Clifton's Chatelaine Competes.

Other great hunters and jumpers in the show include Mrs. E. M. Hubbard's Clifton's Chatelaine, Stanley Luke's Ilderton, Nancy and Sally Miller's Golden Bow and Dominick, Jeanne Lee Hester's Beauty, Ted Mohlman's Beowulf, Mrs. A. C. Thompson's Master Johnnie, and Lieut. Col. P. W. Evans' Tamerlane.

VITT IS CALM UNDER BLOW OF PLAYER REVOLT

Cleveland, O., June 14 (AP).—Looking at Oscar Vitt today one would say he was a man who had no fear of being kick out of his job.

He looked calm. He joked. The Cleveland Indians, close to first place, talked about the war—the European one, not the battle they started when half of them painted their manager as the jittery, terrible tongued Mr. Vitt and demanded that he be fired.

"Well, I see we've chased the war off page one," Vitt remarked to the players at the usual clubhouse strategy session before today's 8 to 0 victory over Philadelphia.

"I'm sorry about the unfortunate thing that has happened, but I've talked the situation over with the big boss and he told me I'm remaining in charge and he's investigating the complaint some of you made.

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

The big boss is Alva Bradley, Indians' president. Bradley, smiling too, conferred about an hour with Vitt to start an inquiry into charges of 12 players that Vitt ridiculed them and ruined their morale.

Vitt agreed remarking to Pitcher Mel Harder after Harder was knocked from the mound in Boston recently: "It's about time you won one, the money you're getting," but said he "regretted it later."

Another complaint was that Vitt stormed around the dugout and hammered the bat rack as the Red Sox were clubbing Pitcher Bob Feller and said in Feller's hearing: "Look at him. He's supposed to be my ace. I'm supposed to win a pennant with that kind of pitching."

Since the dozen complainants included such key men as Pitchers Feller, Harder, and Al Milnar it was obvious that Bradley would have to find a big peace pipe if he didn't discharge the 50 year old pilot.

AMERICAN STOCK OF RUBBER LIGHT, SENATOR WARNS

Views on Manufacturing Substitutes Gloomy.

Washington, D. C., June 14 (AP).—Senator Downey [D., Cal.] reported after a secret military committee hearing today that the United States had enough rubber on hand to last only 10 months under stringent wartime rationing, if supplies of the crude product were cut off.

Downey said that W. S. Farish, president of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, John Collyer, president of the B. F. Goodrich Rubber company, Akron, O., and E. R. Bridgwater of the du Pont company, Wilmington, Del., gave a none too optimistic report to the senate group on the progress of experiments with rubber substitutes. The Californian is author of a bill to authorize a 1 billion 500 million dollar appropriation for strategic war materials.

Seek Emergency Supply.

Talking with reporters, Downey said he understood that Edward R. Stettinius Jr., in charge of defense procurement, and Jesse Jones, federal loan administrator, were seeking to work out means for the purchase of 120,000 tons of rubber to be stored for possible war emergencies. He put normal consumption at about 50,000 tons a month.

Collyer was reported to have told the committee that his company hoped to have in operation within a year a commercial plant which would produce 36,000 tons a year of a rubber substitute made from a petroleum base. His company, he said, could triple this production by emergency construction of more plants.

Plans Louisiana Plant.

Farish was reported by Downey to have told the committee that his company projected a plant in Louisiana which would produce 5,000 tons of rubber substitute a year.

Bridgwater, according to Downey, told the committee that it might be two or three years before large-scale commercial production of rubber substitutes would become possible.

Indianapolis Will Ask Rehearing of Gas Case

Indianapolis, Ind., June 14 [Special].—The city decided tonight to petition the United States circuit court of appeals at Chicago for a rehearing of its case against the Indianapolis Gas company. The court a few days ago reversed findings of the United States district court here which held the lease of Indianapolis Gas company property to the Citizens Gas company did not bind the Indianapolis municipal utilities district when it acquired the Citizens company property.

Japanese Prepare to Develop Trade Thruout All Americas

Kensuke Horinouchi will preside at parley.

Washington, D. C., June 14 (AP).—Japanese diplomats today drafted a comprehensive program for possible development of trade with North, South, and Central American countries for consideration at a conference of envoys here next week.

Facing increasing trade difficulties as a result of both the wars in China and Europe, Japan was said to be seeking to spread its trade to a greater extent among other countries to reduce its reliance upon this country. But the subject of existing and prospective barriers to trade with the United States was high also on the agenda for the five day conference opening at the Japanese embassy here next Tuesday.

One important factor causing concern in Japan was the possibility of a United States embargo against the export of supplies such as scrap iron, oil, and other materials vital to Japan's war machine, but related also to the national defense plan here.

Only today Ambassador Grew in Tokio lodged a protest with the Japanese government in connection with damage to American property in recent air raids on Chungking and at the same time transmitted Secretary Hull's general condemnation yesterday of civilian bombings.

Ambassador Kensuke Horinouchi of Washington will preside with the Tokio foreign office represented by Sotomatsu Kato, who directed the Rio de Janeiro meeting. The ambassador to Brazil will represent all the South American countries. Others attending include the Japanese diplomatic representatives to Canada, Mexico, Panama, Cuba, Colombia, and Venezuela.

Japanese circles here said Japan still was anxious to enter a new trade treaty with the United States to replace the one abrogated by this country early this year.

CANADA TO CALL BRITISH OWNED ISSUE OF BONDS

Designed to Furnish Dollar Exchange.

OTTAWA, Ont., June 14 (AP).—Finance Minister J. L. Ralston today announced that $74,900,000 in Dominion of Canada 1940-'60 registered stock would be redeemed next Oct. 1. The redemption involves a repatriation of this Canadian security held by British investors.

This is the second repatriation operation to be carried out by the dominion since the outbreak of war. The ultimate effect will be that Canadian dollars will be made available to the United Kingdom for purchase of Canadian commodities and manufactured products.

Britain Orders Surrender.

LONDON, June 14 (AP).—The treasury announced today it was acquiring holdings of Dominion of Canada 4 per cent bonds of 1940-1950 owned by United Kingdom residents.

Under subdefense [finance] regulations the treasury issued two orders:

The first required United Kingdom residents to make returns of holdings of this loan to the Bank of England not later than June 29. Dealings were restricted in such holdings.

Pays Premium of 12 and 6.

Second, such holdings will be vested in the treasury at a price of £100 12 shillings 6 pence per £100 of delivered bonds.

Payment will be made July 1 to the agency thru which securities are delivered, provided delivery is completed by June 21.

NEW TANK TRAP BORER IS BUILT BY HARVEY FIRM

Delivers First Units to U. S. Army.

BY LELAND FORRESTER.

A new "lightning" earth boring machine, designed for offensive and defensive use in war, has been developed for the United States army by a Chicago engine manufacturer and delivery has begun, the manufacturer disclosed yesterday.

It is designed for use in quick building of tank traps, laying of land mines, and many forms of drilling for destructive or constructive work for a fast moving army. The machine operates from a platform on a heavy truck.

Three Units Delivered.

The Buda company of suburban Harvey is the builder. The first three units of an order were delivered to the army yesterday. Company officials were not permitted to disclose how many of the machines are on order. From other sources, however, it was learned that Buda, which also is developing a Diesel aircraft motor in which the government is interested, has been increasing its working force.

Purchasing agents for the British and French governments are making inquiries about the drilling machine, it was understood, altho company officials would not confirm the report.

The value of such machines in a situation such as is now faced by France was mentioned, however, by R. J. Mangan, vice president of Buda, in his announcement of the delivery of the first units to the army.

Speeds Placing of Land Mines.

"These machines might have enabled the French to stop German tank waves," Mangan said. "The drills can be used for drilling holes underneath roads, bridge foundations, railroads, and other strategic structures preparatory to the placing of explosives in defensive warfare.

"An army on the offensive can use the drills to speed up construction of temporary bridges and roads, and foundations for artillery emplacements."

The machines, known as Buda-Hubron earth drills, can dig holes 50 feet deep and as much as 42 inches in diameter. In ordinary soil and soft rock a hole 20 inches in diameter and six feet deep can be dug in three minutes. The drills work at any angle up to 45 degrees. Each unit is powered by a 40 horse power, four cylinder, water cooled engine built by Buda.

Variant of Post Hole Drill.

Buda officials said the military machine is a development from a smaller type of drill used by industry for such work as digging holes for telephone poles.

Mangan said Buda is proceeding with development of Diesel motors for army aircraft and tanks. Several such motors for the army are in production at the new $300,000 air conditioned addition to the Buda plant. Navy officials as well as army representatives have been testing the motor since the army order was placed.

BIG UTILITY BOND ISSUE MAY TEST MARKET SHORTLY

New York, June 14 [Special].—The first definite test of the new investment issue market since the German invasion of the Low Countries and France began was in prospect today as the underwriting group which will handle the marketing of the 38 million dollar issue of Jersey Central Power and Light company first mortgage 25 year 3¼ per cent bonds made plans for public offering of the issue next week.

The group, headed by the First Boston corporation, E. H. Rollins & Sons, Inc., and Halsey, Stuart & Co., Inc., has notified dealers of the proposal to go ahead with the offering and requested them to be in New York on Monday to sign the necessary agreements.

The offering will be watched with unusual interest in investment banking circles, since it is regarded as the first real effort to feel out the temper of the market.

HOLDING CONCERN WILL DISTRIBUTE BANK STOCK; QUIT

The American Holding corporation will be voluntarily dissolved and its assets distributed June 24, it was announced yesterday. The corporation controls the common stock of the American National Bank and Trust company of Chicago. Sufficient shareholders have indicated approval to assure liquidation, it was said.

Plans call for the distribution of one share of the common bank stock for each eight shares of the holding corporation stock. A small cash distribution is contemplated also. In the over the counter market, the holding company stock was quoted yesterday at 23½ bid and 25 asked and the bank stock at 185 bid, 195 asked.

Stewart-Warner to Offer F.-M. Receivers This Year

James S. Knowlson, board chairman and president of Stewart-Warner corporation, told 400 dealers and distributors yesterday that the company will enter the new season with frequency modulation receivers, home recording units, and television receivers in addition to a varied line of standard radios and phonograph combinations.

Army Gets New "Lightning War" Defense Aid

This is the new Buda-Hubron earth drill, some of which have just been delivered to the American army. The machine is designed for fast drilling of holes for placement of explosives in building tank traps, destroying roads and performing other work essential in war.

Stock Market Rises Despite Events Abroad

New York, June 14 (AP).—Stock market leaders today rebounded 1 to 5 points in the face of the gloomiest European news since the start of the war. Brokers were surprised at the way speculative forces shook off depressing bulletins having to do with the fall of Paris, the further retreat of the French government to Bordeaux, and claims of numerous allied ship sinkings by the Germans.

Principal explanation given in boardrooms was that rapidly brightening prospects of industry due to proposed heavy rearmament spending combined with broadening of purchases from abroad, was more than enough to counteract unsettling happenings elsewhere.

Ticker Behind Market Once.

The ticker was behind the market for a brief interval in the forenoon. Thereafter, dealings were quiet. Profit taking crept in now and then and closing quotations were under the tops in most instances. Transfers amounted to 948,310 shares, compared with 877,080 yesterday.

Reports of booming steel operations in all districts served to spur stocks in this group. Helpful was a pickup in retail store sales this week. In addition, stimulant was found in word from London the British, in view of the plight of the French, would immediately release large funds held for later years to buy all sorts of war materials in the United States.

Some of Leaders.

Prominent stocks on the forward swing included United States Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet, General Motors, Chrysler, Douglas Aircraft, Montgomery Ward, Anaconda, Kennecott, Westinghouse, General Electric, du Pont, Allied Chemical, Loft, Texas corporation, International Paper and Power, Great Northern, and Pennsylvania.

On the curb, Heyden Chemical was up 6 and Aluminum of America 5½. Lesser improvement was posted for American Gas, Jones & Laughlin, E. W. Bliss, and Bell Aircraft. Volume in this market was around 125,000 shares against 118,000 the day before.

CHICAGO SHARES RISE.

Gains far outnumbered declines on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday, as 24,000 shares were traded. All the volume leaders except Associates Investments moved up or were unchanged.

United States Steel led the favorites with a gain of 3⅛ points, closing at 53. Others were General Motors, up 1⅝, and Sundstrand Machine Tool, up 1⅛.

Of the 91 active issues, 53 advanced, 18 declined, and 20 were unchanged.

BRITISH CONCERN DENIES PLAN TO END OIL DISPUTE

MEXICO, June 14 (AP).—The British owned Mexican Eagle Oil company [El Aguila] today denied negotiations were under way to settle its expropriations dispute with the Mexican government. Before expropriation in 1938 Aguila was the largest foreign owned oil concern in Mexico.

Reports had been current in Mexican financial circles that a settlement, involving resumption of diplomatic relations between Mexico and Great Britain and payment for the properties, was being secretly negotiated.

Rumors of this settlement had been credited with causing a big rise of the Mexican peso in relation to the United States dollar, altho many bankers believed the move in the peso was a result of nervousness that the United States might become involved in the European war.

Automobile Assemblies Put at 93,635 for Week

Automobile production this week held almost steady to 93,635 units Ward's Automotive Reports, Inc., estimated yesterday. In the preceding week the total was 95,560 and a year ago it was 78,305. Production has been continuing at levels fairly close to the 100,000 mark which has prevailed during a considerable part of this year.

Wheat, Corn Rise as Floor Is Withdrawn

CHICAGO GRAIN PRICES

| | Yesterday. | Thurs. | Yr. ago. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Wheat | $0.79½ | *$0.78½ | $0.72⅝ |
| Corn | .61¾ | .59⅝ | .49¾ |
| Oats | .32¼ | *.33¼ | .33⅛ |
| Rye | .43¼ | *.44½ | .50⅝ |
| Soy beans | .81½ | *.80¼ | .92 |

*Asked; established minimum [removed yesterday].

Wheat prices swung upward and closed with gains of 1 to 1⅝ cents yesterday—the first day in almost four weeks that trading was done on the Chicago Board of Trade without a price "floor" under futures.

Corn, moving parallel with wheat, climbed more than 2 cents on the July and September deliveries.

Trading Interest Broader.

Trading was fairly heavy as interest broadened with the removal of the minimums and operations moved back into more normal channels. Gains in wheat and corn were general on all domestic exchanges.

As expected, soy beans showed the greatest reaction to the resumption of normal trading. The cash prices had been from 8½ to 10 cents below the minimum futures prices and yesterday the beans dropped from 5 to 8 cents—the permissible limit—to establish new lows for the season.

Rye prices were down from ¾ to 1⅛ cents, the December delivery to a new low, and September and December oats reached the lowest prices of the season.

Climbs After Weak Opening.

Traders, who had said the minimums acted as a "ceiling" rather than a "floor" since they lessened outside interest, said the removal was undoubtedly responsible for the increased trade in wheat and corn.

The wheat market opened below Thursday's close but quickly rallied as traders found that many selling orders on file overnight had been withdrawn.

Sold Out in 1929 Crash; Wins $17,497 as Damages

An echo of the 1929 stock market crash was heard yesterday when Joseph F. Dixon, security dealer at 105 South La Salle street, was awarded $17,497 damages from Hallgarten & Co. by Judge Elmer J. Medlin of Carbondale, sitting without a jury in the Circuit court. Dixon was upheld in his contention that the Hallgarten company had sold out his account without giving him sufficient time to post additional collateral.

Twin Coach Company Gets Million Dollar Contract

Kent, O., June 14 (AP).—Twin Coach company, manufacturer of motor buses, has received a million dollar order from the Third Avenue railway of New York City.

TRIBUNE INVESTORS' GUIDE ENDS ITS 26TH YEAR OF AID TO PUBLIC

The Tribune Investors' Guide, a world war baby, was 26 years old yesterday, and once again is concerned with the investment problems raised by war. Since June 14, 1914, when the free advisory service to readers was instituted, the department has answered 451,000 inquiries about securities and insurance.

Letters from perplexed investors seeking information about a wide range of subjects have come not only from the Chicago area but from surrounding states and from large and small towns in other parts of this country and Canada.

Investors' Guide is the oldest investment service in the United States offered by a daily newspaper of general public circulation. Its primary function is to furnish facts about securities obtained from reliable sources to assist the public in guarding against unwise investments, fraud, and unscrupulous tipsters.

BONDS EXTEND RISE, AIDED BY ACTIVE BUYING

New York, June 14 (AP).—Showing further indications of escape from war influence, the bond market today continued the week's rally at an accelerated pace. Buyers apparently reasoned that months of wasting of prices had discounted a great deal of "bad news," so that even the fall of Paris failed to check the buying movement which got under way last Tuesday.

Again at the forefront of the rise were United States government issues. Several treasuries pushed ahead 1 to 1⅝ points and the average improvement was more than half a point. Dealers heard that more active buying of federals was partly based on the idea that future treasury issues may not carry the tax exempt feature.

Bonds of speculative rating were helped by the stock market upturn and analysts' estimates of rising industrial returns under the defense program. Foreign loans also gained widely.

French Government Gets 25 Billion Francs from Bank

TOURS, June 14.—Advance of 25 billion francs [the franc was quoted nominally at 2.18 cents at New York] by the Bank of France to the government was announced in today's Journal Officiel in line with conventions agreed upon between the minister of finance and the governor of the bank. The journal also revealed that the offices of the Bank of France have been temporarily transferred to Saumur. Bank services in Paris will be administered by a controler as if the Paris bank were a provincial branch, it was said.

C. & E. I. Reports Larger Net Loss During April

The Chicago and Eastern Illinois railway yesterday reported April net loss of $258,381, compared with $202,127 in the same month last year. Net loss for the four months ended April 30 was $608,817, against $601,080 in the same 1939 period.

STANDARD GAS READY TO START ON INTEGRATION

First Step of Kind by Big Systems.

Washington, D. C., June 14 (AP).—Standard Gas and Electric company told the securities commission today that it was prepared to combine compliance with the "death sentence" clause of the holding company act with a program for reduction of its funded debt, and asked permission to go ahead immediately.

It was the first step of its kind taken by any of the nine big holding company systems against which orders concerning geographical integration of utility assets have been issued.

Standard Gas, controling around a billion dollars in such assets, said that its program would:

1. Eliminate six utility companies operating in six separate areas.

2. Cut in half the number of states in which its subsidiaries operate.

Reduces Funded Debt.

3. Reduce the funded debt and make easier a readjustment of the Standard Gas capital structure.

4. Eliminate unnecessary nonutility companies.

The major companies in which Standard Gas would divest control are: San Diego Consolidated Gas and Electric company, California-Oregon Power company, Mountain States Power company, and Southern Colorado Power company.

Standard Gas, San Diego Consolidated, and California-Oregon Power sought permission to reclassify the common stock of the latter two companies in preparation for offering it on an exchange basis to holders of Standard Gas notes and debentures.

Standard Gas holds 60.88 per cent of the voting stock in San Diego and 56.20 per cent in the California-Oregon. Upon confirmation of the exchange, however, the two operating companies would no longer be subsidiaries of Standard Gas.

Would Remain in Two Areas.

This company would control utilities in two major areas built around three companies upon final completion of the integration program. These would be Philadelphia company, which controls utilities in the Pittsburgh area, and Northern States Power company and Wisconsin Public Service corporation, which control utilities in the Minnesota-Wisconsin area.

All of these assets, the company said, are physically interconnected or capable of interconnection.

The utility assets to be retained in the Pittsburgh area, it explained, would consist of electric generating plants, transmission lines, and distribution facilities in and around Pittsburgh, and the system of coördinated gas utility companies operating in the same territory and extending into West Virginia and Kentucky.

Retains Other Units.

In addition the company proposed to retain such nonutility subsidiaries of Philadelphia company as were reasonably incidental or economically necessary or appropriate to the utility operations in the Pittsburgh area. This would include coal, steam heating, oil, transportation, service, and other companies.

In the Minnesota-Wisconsin area the company proposed to retain these nonutility businesses:

Mississippi and Rum River Boom company, Chippewa and Flambeau Improvement company, Eau Claire Dells Improvement company, Chippewa River Power and Fibre company, Chippewa Valley Construction company, United Power and Land company, and Wisconsin Valley Improvement company.

Will Sell Pacific Gas Stock.

Standard Gas said that it owned 200,420 shares of $25 par value common stock of Pacific Gas and Electric company, a California corporation, and that it proposes to sell them in the open market from time to time and use the proceeds to purchase outstanding notes and debentures of Standard.

Standard Gas said that it contemplated possible divestment of its securities in Oklahoma Gas and Electric company, which operates in Oklahoma and Arkansas, and Louisville Gas and Electric company, which operates in Kentucky and Indiana. Standard explained that it contemplates disposing of these securities at such time as might be advantageous to it, but that such disposal would depend entirely upon conditions, and that one or both companies might be retained in the system.

25 RESTAURANTS BUY AIR CONTROL SYSTEMS IN MAY

Restaurants led all types of business last month in the awarding of contracts for air conditioning systems. Twenty-five ordered new systems, according to the Commonwealth Edison company in its monthly survey of air conditioning in Chicago.

The total number of central plant systems sold in May was less than in the same month a year ago, and with less horsepower. Last month there were 63 systems, with a combined capacity of 677 horsepower. In May, 1939, there were 77 installations sold with an aggregate 829 horsepower.

Following restaurants, drug stores were the most active in buying air conditioning systems last month, with 11 contracts. General offices were third, with six installations ordered. Sales of electric room roolers in May totaled 139 as compared with 111 in May, 1939.

Drop Hysteria, Build Defense, Wood Advises

War hysteria in America must be eliminated and the nation must get down to the business of building an adequate defense if it is to be secure, Gen. Robert E. Wood, chairman of Sears, Roebuck & Co., declared yesterday.

Gen. Wood is chairman of the newly created committee thru which the Chicago Association of Commerce is coöperating in the national defense program. He addressed the association's board of directors at the Hotel La Salle.

"America has been guilty of too much hysteria," Gen. Wood said. "We must stop wishing and face grim facts.

View on Present Situation.

"It is a question whether we can give any actual help to the allies that will have any effect on present hostilities. It will do no good to make a declaration of war. Whatever we send over to France might be delivered to Germany within a month.

"What we must do is get down to business and build an adequate defense as soon as possible. We cannot go on making threats and hurling defiance while we are still armed only with a popgun.

"Military actualities prove that to train, equip, and send even 50,000 men abroad at our present rate of progress might require at least a year.

National Teamwork Needed.

"America's security depends on calm thinking and national teamwork, in which business men will set an example to labor in personal sacrifice for the country's defense."

Chicago business must stand ready to fit its resources into an effective agency for production of needed means of defense, Gen. Wood said.

"Business men cannot ask labor to work longer hours at moderate wages unless business men, too, are willing to forget any expectancy of war profits and play the game as American institutions should," he said. "We must have a country united for defense.

ALLIES REPORT PLACING LARGE NEW CONTRACTS

New York, June 14 (AP).—The Anglo-French purchasing board said today that contracts amounting to "many millions of dollars" had been placed during the day, in a denial of rumors that French purchases of war materials had been halted by the fall of Paris.

A spokesman said that of contracts totaling $1,600,000,000 to date, approximately $600,000,000 had been placed in the last four weeks.

[A special dispatch said the French signed a contract at 7 p. m. for 120 "flying fortresses" to be delivered in the second and third quarters of 1941. The planes are to be built by the Consolidated Aircraft corporation.]

"More purchasing agents are being sent from France to this country right now," he added, ". . . we are forging ahead in our purchases here. There is no immediate end of our resources in sight."

It was disclosed that of 8,000 planes on order by the British and French from American manufacturers "slightly in excess of 2,000" have already been delivered and that other deliveries are proceeding rapidly.

CHICAGO SALES OF DEPARTMENT STORES CLIMB

Ideal shopping weather and special sales last week boosted department store sales volume 16.3 per cent over a year ago in the 7th [Chicago] federal reserve district, the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago reported yesterday.

Chicago stores reported a 12.9 per cent gain, trailing other principal cities in the district. Indianapolis led with a 24.8 per cent increase and was followed by Detroit with sales up 19.7. Milwaukee had a 16.4 per cent gain. Other cities in the 7th district reported sales increased 28.5 per cent.

Chicago stores made a 3.1 per cent gain during the four weeks ending June 8 over the same period in 1939. The district as a whole had a net gain of 5.7 per cent.

Department store sales thruout the United States increased 14 per cent last week over the 1939 period, the federal reserve board estimated.

W. H. GUILD, ONE TIME OFFICE BOY, GETS U. P. EXECUTIVE POSITION

W. H. Guild yesterday was named vice president in charge of operations of the Union Pacific railroad, one of the key positions, by W. M. Jeffers, president of the road. He succeeds N. A. Williams, who is retiring after a long illness. His headquarters will be in Omaha.

W. H. Guild.

Guild for the last two years has been the general manager of the Union Pacific's south central district, with headquarters at Salt Lake City. He will be succeeded at Salt Lake City by F. H. Knickerbocker, now acting manager at Portland.

Guild, who was born in Omaha Oct. 25, 1883, began his career with the Union Pacific in his home city as an office boy at the age of 16 after his graduation from high school. He studied stenography at night and later became secretary to the general superintendent, from which post he rose to his present position thru various departments.

FRANC TRADING HALTED AS NAZIS TAKE OVER PARIS

Trading in the French franc halted completely at New York yesterday when German invaders took over Paris. American banks lost contact with French financial institutions and trading was suspended, with the quotation for the franc remaining nominally at 2.18 cents.

The dark outlook for the allies was reflected in a continuation of the downward trend of the British pound sterling, which lost 2 cents. The closing price was $3.70.

Strengthening of the Canadian dollar left that unit ⅛ cent higher in terms of the American dollar at 81 cents. Other currencies showed only minor changes.

LONDON, June 14 (AP).—A tripartite British-French-Netherlands monetary agreement was announced today establishing the Netherlands East Indies guilder at 7.60 guilders to the pound.

New York foreign money dealers said the new rate was approximately the same as that prevailing prior to invasion of Holland by Germany. The change will not affect negotiations under way to liquidate contracts for rubber and tin bought in the far east since the usual method of financing such deals was in the Netherlands guilder, they explained.

WITNESSES URGE REVISION OF U. S. TAX STRUCTURE

Washington, D. C., June 14 (AP).—Two witnesses—Ellsworth C. Alvord of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and M. L. Seidman of the New York Board of Trade—told the senate finance committee today that the entire tax structure should be overhauled.

Alvord, who is chairman of the chamber's federal finance committee, urged that the pending tax bill calling for $1,004,000,000 annually for five years for defense purposes be limited to one year and then supplanted by comprehensive new legislation.

Seidman asserted that the present legislation admittedly was "a temporary stop-gap and a makeshift." He said he questioned the wisdom of delaying thoro going tax revision until next session.

Westinghouse Employes to Get Increased Bonus

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 14 (AP).—June Payments to Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company employés will be increased 15 per cent, to within 1 per cent of the highest bonus ever paid, it was announced today. The May bonus was 14 per cent. The adjustments will follow a plan which considers compensation in relation to average earnings. In May the company earned $1,836,612.

LABOR CLASHES CAUSE CONCERN TO GOVERNMENT

Top Conciliator Sent to Detroit.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Developments yesterday indicated that the national administration is taking a more serious view of events on the industrial labor front.

John R. Steelman.

With the arrival in Detroit of John R. Steelman, top conciliator of the department of labor, the administration redoubled its efforts to avert a threatened shutdown at the plants of the General Motors corporation. Should such a major industrial shutdown materialize at a time when industry is gearing its operations to the demands of the national rearmament program it might prove a serious political liability to the administration, it was admitted.

Deadlocked Over Wages.

The deadlock between General Motors and the United Automobile Workers of America [C. I. O.] centers on the union's demands for a 10 per cent wage increase. The union, which has exclusive bargaining rights for approximately 125,000 workers in 50 plants thruout the country, has rejected as unsatisfactory a 2½ per cent increase offered by the corporation.

Steelman enters the negotiations at a time when the efforts of two other federal conciliators appear to have achieved little progress toward an agreement. Steelman is director of the conciliation service of the department of labor. He has rarely taken a part in the conciliation work outside of Washington. The decision to send him to Detroit was viewed as evidence of the seriousness with which the situation is regarded in Washington.

Causes of Much Concern.

The commission on national defense, to which the President appointed three prominent industrialists, is barely getting into motion as the strike threat looms in a major industry which is expected to play an important rôle in the defense preparations.

Meanwhile, other developments are giving cause for concern to those responsible for speeding up industrial operations. Work stoppages resulting from sitdown and standup strikes lasting a few minutes to more than an hour were reported earlier this week at the tractor works of the International Harvester company at 2600 West 31st street.

The management on Thursday served notice that such slowdowns or work stoppages were cause for dismissal or disciplinary action under the existing contract. Company representatives reported yesterday that there were no overt acts at the plant during the day that warranted the management in taking action.

Closed Shop One Issue.

Company representatives have been negotiating with the Farm Equipment Workers' Organizing committee [C. I. O.] on a new contract. One of the points at issue is the union's demand for a closed shop. Union members will meet tonight at 1110 South Oakley boulevard to discuss the notice served on the workers by the company and action to be taken on it. Union leaders have described the notice as an effort at intimidation.

News of expanding industrial operations were reported yesterday from several quarters. At the same time there were indications that managements are seeking closer coöperation from their workers to prevent delays

LABOR CLASHES CAUSE CONCERN TO GOVERNMENT

Chief Conciliator Is Sent to Detroit.

Edgar M. Queeny, president of the Monsanto Chemical company, in a message to employés in the company's 13 plants, asked coöperation to prevent possible sabotage. He urged workers to be on guard against spies.

"The national defense program," he said, "is getting under way rapidly and certain changes in the policies of both government and industry must inevitably be adopted. If the United States is to produce all that is necessary with the greatest speed, every American must give both loyalty and coöperation. As employés of one of the basic industries, we should be prepared to tighten our belts, accept them, and work hard."

Company Is Important Supplier.

The company is not now handling defense orders, but is an important supplier to industries which soon will be producing defense materials.

Should part of the plant facilities be devoted to government orders, he said, "it will be necessary to guard against espionage and sabotage, enforce strict regulations concerning new employés, and investigate aliens in our organization, as well as establish rigid measures for policing and protecting our plants."

Such a policy of vigilance, he said, would not be used as an excuse for "witch hunting."

Total of 399 Completed During May.

Urbana, Ill., June 14 (AP).—More oil wells were completed during May than in any other month in the Illinois oil boom, now two and a half years old, the state geological survey announced today. Of the month's 399 completions, 342 were producing wells, against the previous record of 386 completions and 311 producers in June, 1939.

The widespread exploration resulted in the discovery of two new pools, reopened a pool that had been abandoned and brought to 6,328 the number of oil and gas wells which have been successfully completed since January, 1937.

Production Is Lower.

Production for the month was estimated at 13,546,000 barrels, slightly lower than the peak of 13,580,000 barrels in March this year. For the first five months of 1940 the production was estimated at 63,266,000 barrels, more than two-thirds of the state's total output during 1939.

The new pools were the West Liberty in south Jasper county opened by the Pure Oil company's No. 1 M. Aldridge well with initial production of 1,422 barrels from the McCloskey lime at 2,790 feet, and the Centerville pool of White county, opened by the Sun Oil company's No. 1 Clarence Brown in Burnt Prairie township with a flow of 631 barrels of oil in 18 hours. The Carter Oil company's No. 1-A James Seaman, which began producing in Cole county two miles south of Mattoon, reopened the Mattoon pool, which had been abandoned.

New Pool Indicated.

Centralia, Ill., June 14 (AP).—The discovery of a third oil pool in Washington county depended today on the successful completion of a wildcat well which flowed oil during a test to determine the productiveness of the Benoist sand formation. The well was the Gulf Refining company's No. 1 Buhl, a mile south of Irvington and 10 miles from other production in Washington county.

An official of the company disclosed the well would be completed in the Benoist formation, but he declined to give the depth of the saturation.

CONSOLIDATED AIRCRAFT.

In looking for a stock with which to speculate on a possible aircraft boom, I selected Consolidated Aircraft on the New York Stock exchange as a possibility. I would like to see its earnings and dividend record.—L. F.

Answer: Consolidated Aircraft corporation is a major manufacturer of military airplanes, especially of patrol flying boats for the navy. Foreign orders, which previously contributed only a small part of the company's sales, now account for more than three-eighths of its business. The United States navy, however, remains the company's best customer.

Only a minor portion of Consolidated's output is sold to commercial air lines and private flyers. The company has specialized on military patrol, attack, pursuit, and training ships.

Consolidated does not manufacture engines, propellers, or instruments but assembles these parts bought from other manufacturers into airplanes of its own design. The company's plant adjoins the municipal airport at San Diego, Cal., where a seaplane base is available.

Capitalization of the company consists of 23,820 shares of $3 noncumulative preferred stock of no par value and 576,160 shares of $1 par common stock.

| | Net income. | Earned per share. | Dividends per share. |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1935 | $ 322,732 | $0.56 | ..... |
| 1936 | 12,411 | 0.29 | ..... |
| 1937 | 462,959 | 0.68 | *0.50 |
| 1938 | 1,535,110 | 2.55 | 1.00 |
| 1939 | 1,104,327 | 1.79 | ..... |

The company has not paid a dividend on the common stock since Dec. 19, 1938. Directors announced recently that no distribution of earnings had been made in 1939 and thus far in 1940 because the company needed funds for its $2,000,000 expansion program. The backlog of unfilled orders at the end of May totaled $70,000,000, or about $15,000,000 more than its total sales in the previous 16 years of operations.

CUMULATIVE VOTING.

What is meant by cumulative voting?—D. M.

Answer: Cumulative voting is a method of distributing stock voting rights to permit minority representation on corporation boards of directors. Under this method, each share is entitled to as many votes as there are directors to be elected. If the minority concentrates its votes on one or several candidates instead of scattering the votes it may be able to elect its representatives.

A CORRECTION.
Recently we advertised a 1939 Dodge and a 1939 Plymouth, which were offered for "unpaid balances."
This was inaccurate, because these were not repossessed cars and, hence, were not being sold for unpaid balances.
